Research support asset

Dedicated departments:

- Research and Innovation Department
- Clinical Trials Support Center
- Strategic Oncology Department
- Regional Center for Digital Medicine

Staff: clinical and research managers, project specialists, and data managers

Within the LSOPHC structure, two university-affiliated clinical units linked to Wrocław Medical University and Wrocław University of Science and Technology function as key elements of medical education, scientific research, and translational innovation.

These clinics contribute to the transfer of research findings into clinical practice, foster interdisciplinary collaboration, and support capacity building.
