Launch Advice Hotline

For over 30 years, Commercial Space Technologies (CST) has supported its customers through some of the most volatile periods in launch industry history. As the oldest operating launch broker, CST has a unique perspective and depth of understanding on the hurdles that may arise during the launch procurement process. We have packaged this experience, gathered over 20 launch campaigns, to advise those looking to navigate the challenges of modern launch procurement, and mitigate any potential negative effects on their mission. Our advice considers the balance between:

- The proportionality of responsibility and liabilities
- Regulations and licencing, such as frequency filing and coordination, amateur filing IARU, payload/launch permits (international and domestic)
- Launcher characteristics and pricing
- Launcher availability now and in the future
- Launch pricing
- Launch contract negotiation and construction
- Logistics and ancillary services (insurance, deployers, separation systems, transport couriers, etc.)

This service is fully flexible, and can take the form of workshopping, on-call trouble shooting, and/or more formal reporting. It is aimed at those new to launch procurement or in the early phases of defining their mission.

We offer tailored advice that tries to avoid hard boundaries, we instead supply a variety of options with recommendations tailored to your specific needs.

As a broker, we bring impartiality and experience, maintaining an agnostic stance on launch vehicle providers and other supply chain elements. Our aim is to arm you with an informed understanding of the options (the benefits and shortfalls), to de-risk those critical early decisions.
