For your undiscovered flavor adventures!

The deeper you go into the jungle, the louder the sounds of the wild nature become – the company of mystical birds of unseen colors and the strangest animals enchants and entices, but at the same time scares. There is no way back, swollen plants and dark clouds cover you. You can no longer move. You are stuck between soft and slippery surfaces. Clumsy creatures push you further into the unknown. You feel warm breath directly in your ear. Through the unbearable smell of the cold sweat of fear, you smell the faint, indescribable aroma of flowers. The feet slowly sink into the sticky ground. Even the raindrops here have such a strange unpredictable taste – you are drowning in bliss...
