

CÔTÈ OCEAN

IGP ATLANTIQUE

Grape varieties : Merlot

Soil : from sandy gravel to clay limestone.

Tasting notes : the robe is pink and bright. The nose, intense and expressive delivers notes of blackcurrant, strawberry and citrus. On the palate, the wine is well-balanced, the attack is fresh with a nice sweetness.

Ready to be enjoyed.

Wine and food pairing : Ideal for an aperitif, with tapas, salads and fruit dessert.

IGP ATLANTIQUE

Atlantique is the IGP title covering red, white and rosé wines made in a large area on the west coast of France. The climate is definitively maritime, with the Atlantic Ocean providing both warmth in winter and cooling influences in summer. Long, sunny summers make for good ripening conditions and gentle sea breezes bring movement and freshness to the vineyards, particularly in the westernmost parts of the Atlantique region.

NI L'ABUS D'ALCOOL EST DANGEREUX POUR LA SANTÉ, À CONSOMMER AVEC MODÉRATION NI PHOTOS NON CONTRACTUELLES