

White Label POS: Your Brand, Our Technology

POS software market is becoming extremely competitive – it is projected to grow to $74.7 billion by 2032.

Maintaining in-house POS solutions to meet the competition can cost around €500,000 per year.

Why Traditional POS Solutions Are Holding You Back

High costs of developing and maintaining in-house POS solutions

Lack of seamless integration with existing systems (ERP, inventory, payments)

Inflexible and outdated features that lead to poor customer experience

Increasing competition in the retail technology space

Why to choose a white-labeled POS solution?

PayKit entered Lithuania market: ČEKIS case

Challenges:

- Outdated POS software in the market, resulting in poor customer experience and limited growth opportunities for business owners
- High costs, long development timelines and lack of expertise in creating an in-house POS solution

Results:

- 1 000+ installations across Lithuania, driving digital transformation in the retail sector
- Partnerships with Luminor and SwedBank, two of the largest banks in Lithuania

Solution:

- ČEKIS x PayKit Partnership – Delivering a cutting-edge white-labeled POS solution to Lithuanian businesses
- Fully localized system, tailored to meet governmental regulations and compliance requirements
- Fast time-to-market – Deployment in just 6 months

“We chose to partner with PayKit because it offers the perfect balance of competitive pricing and powerful functionality. Our customers love its intuitive interface, sleek design, and seamless onboarding experience – using it feels as effortless as browsing Facebook”
