Muckross National Park

OUR STORY

Surrounded by softly rolling peaks that sweep gently through lush woodland to the shores of its world famous lakes, Muckross sits nestled in the natural majesty of Killarney.

This mythical part of Ireland remains untouched and unspoiled by time, inviting you to explore a natural garden of delicate flora, rugged waterfalls and rich meadows that embody our wild and unhurried gin.

"What makes Muckross Wild Irish Gin unique is how we embrace our ancient landscape in a contemporary way. Our blend of botanicals is inspired by the native flora of Killarney's world famous National Park, & we use modern distillation techniques to create a sophisticated & elegant London dry gin"

OUR PROCESS

Muckross Wild Irish Gin is a new spirit from our ancient Kingdom, an abundant melody of nature's finest botanicals - from rosehip to hawthorn and bitter orange to heather - all encapsulated in our mellow gin with a wild spirit.

TASTING NOTES

Muckross Wild Irish Gin is refreshingly rounded with notes of grapefruit adding a delicious citrus backnote to the bitter orange.

Our botanicals blend effortlessly together to give it a unique taste profile - the addition of rosehip and hawthorn specifically offer a new drinking experience.

OUR BOTANICALS

JUNIPER

The dominant & distinctive botanical in all gin styles.

ANGELICA

This root flower has a slightly herbal profile with a bitter afternote.

CORIANDER

The seeds of the coriander plant offer up a subtle spice & lemon zest flavour to our gin.

ROSEMARY

Adding a subtle smoothness & mouth feel, this fragrant botanical brings an extra depth to our handcrafted spirit.

BITTER ORANGE

This introduces a dry citrus flavour that marries well with our sweeter ingredients.

GRAPEFRUIT

Sweet but bitter, this delicious citrus addition has a tingling, refreshing signature.

ROSEHIP

These ruby red berries bring a tart & floral freshness to our London dry gin.

BLACKTHORN

The plant from which sloe berries derive, it gives the gin a woody & herbaceous taste.

HAWTHORN

This wild botanical has a natural balance of tart & tangy with mild sweetness.

HEATHER

A refreshingly unique ingredient that adds a light floral note throughout our spirit.
