Outsourcing

We incorporate a business approach to IT service development which enables our clients to achieve efficiencies and maintain flexibility while remaining competitive in their marketplace.

06

techidentity

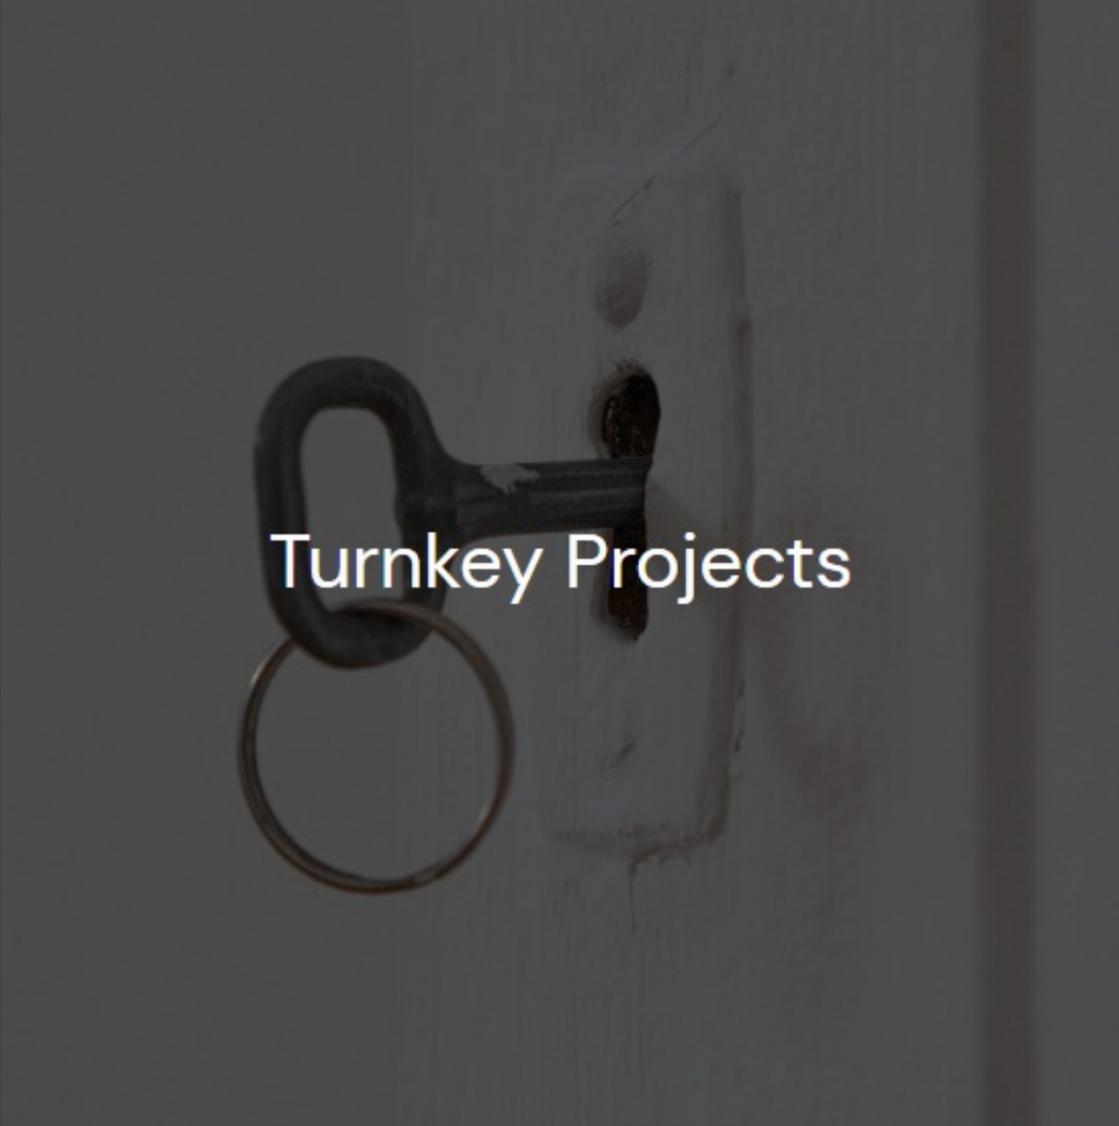

We are an IT services provider that focuses on development of software applications. We employ a group of highly experienced software engineers and management professionals with a wealth of experience in developing applications to solve the unique challenges faced by our clients. We proved ourselves to be a trustworthy IT partner with excellent delivery capabilities and the cultural fit that makes us easily integratable into your existing environment. You can outsource to us nearshore and not offshore.
