Wild Blueberries from our Cimone Mount

The wild blueberries from our Cimone Mount (Vaccinium myrtillus) grows naturally in the forests and clearings of the Modenese Apennines, at an altitude between 1,000 and 1,800 meters.

It is a prized fruit, with an intense and slightly tart flavor, rich in antioxidants, vitamins, and anthocyanins.

Carefully hand-picked during the peak of the summer season, it represents a true local excellence, ideal for making jams, juices, nectars, and artisanal liqueurs.

Its unique quality is linked to the purity of the mountain environment and the local tradition of harvesting and processing.
