

Styrian pumpkin seed

Local superfood

source of fibre

source of protein contains

- zinc
- phosphor
- magnesium
- iron
- vitamin E

contains unsaturated fatty acids

nut substitute for nut allergy sufferers*

*excluding chocolate-coated pumpkin seeds

Styrian pumpkin seeds natural, chopped and grated

Perfect for cooking and baking
- among other things as a regional nut substitute. Whole also ideal for snacking and available as your own baked goods.

Styrian pumpkin seeds roasted and salted

Crunchy pumpkin seeds with a pleasant roasted note and refined with a little salt. A delicious, regional snack and 100% nature.

So small and already a superfood

Our delicious Styrian pumpkin seeds are a true all-rounder with a wide range of applications. Natural, grated or chopped, they should not be missing in any kitchen. Roasted and salted, in spicy flavours or coated in the finest chocolate, they invite you to snack. Regionally grown in the traditional Styrian oil pumpkin growing region (Styria, Burgenland, Lower Austria) and processed in the usual Steirerkraft premium quality, they are a true local superfood thanks to valuable ingredients.

Styrian pumpkin seeds chocolate-coated and refined

Ideal for snacking, but also for baking, decorating or as a topping for yoghurt, muesli, cakes and much more. Available with milk, dark and raspberry chocolate as standard.

Small seed – big taste

Packaging

- Flat pouch
- Stand-up pouch
- Doypack

All packaging is available in a wide variety of sizes.

Versatile uses

- for cooking and baking
- as a savoury or sweet snack
- as topping for
 - cakes
 - yoghurt
 - cereals
 - and many more

Steirerkraft stands for high-quality, natural food from Styria, especially Styrian specialties such as pumpkin seed oil, pumpkin seeds and runner beans. Together with our more than 1000 contract farmers, we are the only manufacturer to offer the entire manufacturing process from a single source. From the field to the finished product. This guarantees the best quality that you can taste.

All information about Steirerkraft can be found on www.steirerkraft.com

Sales

Tel. +43 3178 2525-810
sales@estyria.com

The quick way to find all contact details.

Information about our products can be found at www.estyria.com