

Your Sensitive Cargo is in Capable Hands

Life-Saving Products Demand Expertise

You need a logistics partner you can trust and who will leave nothing to chance when it comes to temperature-sensitive products.

Demand for cold chain logistics is rapidly increasing, yet your sensitive cargo requires a careful, capable partner who will ensure that your pharmaceuticals arrive not only in tact but viable.

Moving and distributing perishable products requires high quality assurance and safety measures, and we maintain these standards so that you can help those who need you most.

When you partner with Vector Global Logistics, you ensure the quality of your products through every stage of handling and delivery.

- GPS and cargo condition tracking available
- 24/7 customer service
- Results-oriented mentality
- Every shipment gives back to those in need.

Quality without compromise:

- FDA compliance – We monitor and comply with FDA standards so you can worry less and focus on what you do best.
- Accurate customs filings – Our brokerage team takes the confusion out of customs clearance.
- Optimization – We look for additional ways to get your products to their destination more quickly, and when possible, with less cost.
- 24/7 availability – You aren't on our schedule, we're on yours. We are available when needed to ensure a safe and informed delivery.

Give us one container and you'll see the Vector difference.
