Project idea

Create a sustainable value chain for RUSF and RUTF production in Angola

- Carry out a pilot demonstrator to test and validate locally available sources of protein, micronutrients and fatty acids for RUSF/RUTF production;
- Development of new RUSF/RUTF formulations adapted to local context, considering local resources available, specific nutritional needs and local culture;
- Scale up the local production of promising raw material sources;
- Mentoring and acceleration of innovative business concepts, aiming to create a robust local production value chain;
- Found research and innovation collaborations between Europe and Angola;
- Create the needed infrastructures locally through equipment acquisition and knowledge exchange between European and African R&D organisations and governmental organisations/authorities.
