Why exfitender?

exfitender was developed based on insights from more than 600 e-procurement projects across nearly 100 countries worldwide. Our enhanced platform, introduced in May 2024, is uniquely designed to flexibly support any procurement methodology.

- Role-based access control system: User rights are assigned to specific roles at designated times, ensuring precise file access and minimizing the risk of human error.
- Fully automated reporting and logging functions: These features guarantee transparency throughout the entire process and facilitate process documentation in compliance with procurement laws and guidelines.
- Our servers are located in Germany and fully comply with German data protection laws, among the most stringent globally.
- All files are scanned for viruses and malware by our technology partner, G DATA, the leading market provider in Germany.
- exfitender is fully operational in four languages: German, English, French, and Spanish. The integrated Help & Support Center provides a comprehensive range of video tutorials and user guides in all four languages.

"exfitender helps me to efficiently conduct my tender processes and to focus on my actual tasks, not on the administrative aspects."

Your Benefits

Our clients benefit from a streamlined and efficient procurement experience. Implementing exfitender offers immediate administrative relief, saving several workdays per tender by automating nearly all administrative tasks in the tender process.

- Our commitment: exfitender will always be state-of-the-art. We provide all technical updates at no extra cost.
- Our service: Technical Support and Assistance is available through our dedicated team by phone, email, and video conference, Monday to Friday, 9 a.m. to 5 p.m. (CET).
- And lastly, exfitender operates on a flexible "pay-as-you-go" basis - no annual license fees, no subscription, and no contractual obligation. Our clients decide when to use exfitender, paying a flat fee per tender regardless of the number of users, storage volume, or tender duration. You maintain full cost control over each tender, while exfitender handles the rest, allowing you to focus on what matters most.

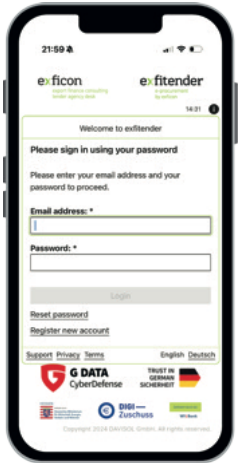

We're here to set the standard for excellence in procurement - let us prove it to you!
