Get the most out of your produce

UltraVision

External quality detection

Our UltraVision camera system is our most advanced vision solution for round produce, such as apples. It uses hyperspectral imaging and four cameras to create an accurate 3D representation of each apple.

High precision | 3D scanning | Optimize every batch

Inscan Pulse

Internal quality

Aweta's Inscan Pulse internal quality sensor uses spectroscopy to non-destructively assess internal quality, ensuring consistent product quality classification.

Meeting customer demands | Consistent quality | Internal defect identification

FlowMaster

Smart software & integration

Our user-friendly FlowMaster software collects detailed data on your produce, giving you full control, real-time insights, and the ability to optimize your results.

Easy to use | Real-time insights | Tracking & tracing
