Presentation text:

There is a week in Milan when anything can happen. It is Fashion Week, seven days of pure frenzy in which a wrong outfit can ruin a career.

Olympia still doesn't know it — she has just arrived in the city, fresh from graduating in philosophy; nor does Sveva, an aspiring journalist who dreams of breaking scoops but finds herself stuck as an intern at a fashion agency. The fashion world is only waiting to trample on their dreams full of hope.

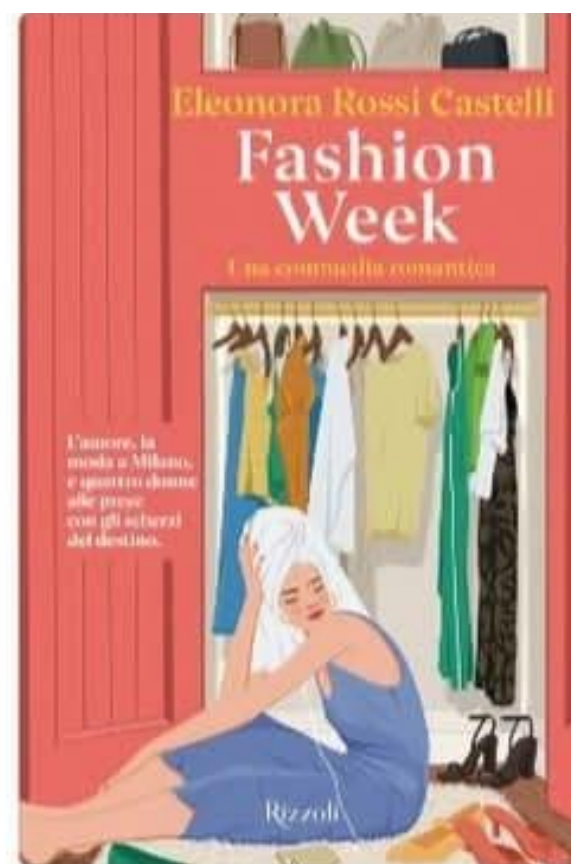

For Aurora and Cecilia, who have just crossed the fateful threshold of thirty, it is different: the first is a new mother and a PR for a fashion brand, while the second cannot shake off the role of eternal fiancée to a workaholic.

They are at a standstill, teetering on the edge of the precipice.

But it is a seemingly insignificant event — a heavy, very old alarm clock that falls from Olympia's bedside table in the middle of the night — that sets in motion a chain of unexpected and exhilarating events...

Among former top models, chiromancers, and clochards with mysterious wisdom, the four irresistible protagonists will learn that when fortune and the heart turn upside down, there is no point in resisting. One must simply go with the flow.

Because there is always the risk of coming face to face with true love.
