

WHY DECIDE TO COME AND MEET US AMONG THE MANY PIEDMONT PRODUCERS?

- Diego Morra has a young, forward-thinking approach to winemaking, while maintaining a long-standing heritage passed down through generations of his family of winegrowers
- Our winery embraces a small-scale, artisanal production, ensuring meticulous care and attention at every stage of the winemaking process with a focus on delivering wines with a young, contemporary taste that appeal to modern palates.
- The hands-on approach in the vineyard and winery allows Diego Morra to adapt to each vintage and climate, ensuring that every bottle reflects the uniqueness of the year.
- The winery's commitment to direct cultivation of its grapes enables it to better showcase the fruit of each specific harvest, all while staying deeply connected to local traditions and fostering a strong, dedicated team. This personal engagement enhances the wines' quality and gives them a distinctive, authentic character.
- At the core of Diego Morra's philosophy is its careful attention to the vineyard, grapes, soil, and landscape—producing wines that tell a compelling story of people, territory, and innovation.
- In addition to its craftsmanship, the company's management remains agile and responsive, offering flexibility and availability to meet the needs of buyers.
- Notable crus - such as Monvigliero, which in the last 20 years has stood out for being an elegant, powerful, intense and at the same time fresh and fragrant Barolo, with a very modern approach - and a unique focus on the Pelaverga from Verduno, the winery offers wines that represent the true identity of the region. Verduno Pelaverga DOC is a fresh, versatile wine, easy to pair, very contemporary, slightly tannic, spicy and much appreciated by customers.
- Craftsmanship, sustainability, and commitment to innovation for wines of very high quality.
- Growing production that allows the winery to meet the demands of both new and mature markets.
- Commitment to market diversification, ensuring stability in assignments across all regions.
- Building long-term partnerships, with a focus on cooperation and open dialogue.
- A stable, reliable presence in the industry, ensuring continuity for both partners and customers.
