

CITRUS

Limoneamaro

Pulp, peel, leaves and very little sugar to make the most of this wonderful fruit that is the Italian lemon.

An exclusive Pack, a uniquely designed bottle that protects the product with its amber colouring, a no-label-look label that enhances the design of the product.

CITRUS is an astonishing liqueur, digestive, with natural aromas and flavours, no flavouring or colouring, with a slight hint of bitterness.

Less sugar, no chemistry, design and passion.

The idea for our products comes from the memory of a time not too long ago, from the flavours and smells that intoxicated the atmosphere of ancient domestic hearths.

So many memories are contained in the recipes: the summer and the warm nights with the full moon, the morning breeze blowing on the bushes releasing the smells of the Mediterranean scrub, the silence broken by the cicadas in the heat of the day, the profile of the boats anchored in front of the cliffs, the silvery glow and the foaming of the waves, but above all the sea with its palette of colours in front of the stone houses that resisted the strong mistral.

In this succession of events, in an ancient southern custom, spices and wild herbs were gathered at the beginning of summer to be dried in the sun to produce nectars and elixirs with unique flavours.

Today we like to share with you the memory of those moments and the suggestion of those moments not entirely lost but protected in our bottles as if they were treasure chests.

Pikrò is the key to rediscovering the harmony of the past through the magic of traditional flavours and fragrances.

PIKRÒ®

elixírio d'erbe
della Magna Grecia

Pikrò is a herbal elixir made from raw materials typical of Magna Graecia. Many of its ingredients are fresh, which means that it can only be processed at certain times of the year, hence its unique and intense aromas. The harvesting of the fresh plants and foliage is one of the most beautiful moments to recount, with the choice, the search and the colours with nature as the backdrop to this wonderful journey of sharing.

PIKRÒ®

L'Amaro
della Magna Grecia

Strong hints of orange, the puzzle of flavours is completed with bitter notes and the kaleidoscope of aromas intoxicates with unexpected nuances. The magical spell of amazement of those trying to recognise the herbs and peels is repeated. A game that will never end, like the light beating on the mirrors, scents and flavours make each taste unique. The passion and quality of the raw materials, here are its secrets.

XA

Made from carefully selected Williams pears, it is a unique and inimitable product, a true Italian excellence that with its unexpected enveloping taste and fresh, lively aroma gives you a feeling of tradition and pleasantness.

Accompanied by fruit, chocolate or cheese, or cold au naturel, or as a sorbet, it will make you fall in love with its unmistakable character.

XA is a dense, full-bodied nectar. To enjoy it at its best, we recommend storing it at low temperatures, taking care to allow the product to dissolve 10 to 15 minutes before serving.
