Project Idea

Title: Enhancing Rural Bioeconomy through Data-Driven Value Chains in Eastern Europe

Background / Concept:

Rural areas across Eastern Europe have significant untapped potential in the bioeconomy sectors, including sustainable agriculture, food production, biomass, and eco-materials. However, weak value chain integration and a lack of data-driven decision-making limit growth opportunities.

Objectives:

- Map bioeconomy assets and opportunities at the local level.
- Develop digital tools for data-driven optimization of rural value chains.
- Foster circular bio-based business models among rural entrepreneurs.
- Support policy recommendations for sustainable bioeconomy development.

Existing (Core) Consortium:

The project will be developed in collaboration with research institutions, rural development agencies, and technology SMEs. Nexus Intellect Research is seeking partners specializing in bioeconomy innovation, digitalization of rural economies, and circular economy solutions.

Main expertise offered / sought

Expertise Offered by Nexus Intellect Research:

- Economic research and modeling of bioeconomy systems.
- Value chain analysis and optimization for rural industries.
- Development of policy recommendations for sustainable rural growth.
- Experience in EU-funded projects on economic resilience, regional development, sustainability.

Expertise Sought:

- Bioeconomy technology providers (circular bio-based solutions).
- Rural development organizations and networks.
- SMEs specializing in digital tools for value chain management.
- Experts in circular economy and sustainable business models.
