Olalla Consulting

TRANSLATE STRUCTURE POSITION

From academic research to market-ready ingredients

Olalla Consulting works with academic teams, spin-offs, and early-stage ventures to support the transition of scientific research into clear, credible ingredient concepts aligned with real formulation and market requirements.

We operate at the interface between science, development, formulation, testing, and regulation, ensuring innovations can progress from research into validated, submission-ready ingredients.

IDEAL COLLABORATIONS

- Academic research groups
- University spin-offs
- Incubators, accelerators, and innovation programmes

WHY CHOOSE US

By combining strategic oversight with hands-on technical execution, Olalla Consulting enables academic innovations to evolve into credible, test-backed, and regulation-ready ingredient propositions.

Many academic innovations fail to translate not because of weak science, but because commercial, regulatory, and formulation realities are introduced too late.

Olalla Consulting helps spin-offs:

- reduce development risk,
- accelerate meaningful decision-making,
- present stronger, clearer propositions to industry and investors.
