What We Do

We create spaces and strategies by combining vision, design, and social impact to rethink cities – and research, participation, and design to rediscover neighborhoods.

How We Work

For the past 20 years, we've been working with a young, creative team through a social enterprise model. We dedicate 80% of our time and 20% of our income to solving public issues.

Our Approach

We recognize the strengths and weaknesses of past, present, and future urban periods. We listen, understand problems deeply, and co-develop solutions.
