

Construction of a new residential complex on St. Gastello in Korosten city

The goal is to build 28 four-story buildings for 3,472 people on the street Gastello in the Korosten city.

It is planned to create a new residential complex with children's and sports grounds, parking spaces and a sorting area for the collection of solid household waste.

What does the community need?

- search for a construction company
- attracting financing for the construction of a residential complex

What does the community already have?

- allocated land for the construction of a residential complex

