

Social economy + territorial implementation + circular and just transition

WHO WE ARE

ASATA is a regional social economy organisation based in Asturias, Spain. We work with social economy enterprises, SMEs, public authorities, civil society and local communities to turn innovative solutions into practical territorial action.

Our work combines social economy, circular economy, just transition, territorial innovation, inclusive employment, energy transition, blue economy and Living Lab methodologies.

WHAT WE OFFER TO CONSORTIA

- Territorial implementation and pilot activities
- Access to social economy enterprises, SMEs and local stakeholders
- Stakeholder mobilisation, co-creation and participatory processes
- Social economy and inclusive business models
- Capacity building, training and employment pathways
- Social and territorial impact, transfer and replication

CURRENT LINES WE CAN BUILD ON

Lláscares - Social & Circular Economy Hub	Circular construction, construction and demolition waste, reuse of industrial spaces, skills, inclusive employment and territorial regeneration in a former industrial/mining area.
Living Lab & co-creation	Territorial experimentation, stakeholder engagement, participatory governance, testing, validation, transfer and replication.
Just transition & inclusive employment	Connecting green transition with social economy, new skills, entrepreneurship, employment and local development.
Blue economy	Experience in European cooperation related to marine and port innovation, business engagement and territorial uptake.
Energy & territorial transition	Community-based approaches, SMEs, decarbonisation and local stakeholder mobilisation.

OUR ADDED VALUE

ASATA connects environmental and technological innovation with social economy enterprises, inclusive business models, employment creation and territorial development. We are especially useful where projects need real territories, companies, end users and public actors to test, adopt and scale solutions.

WE ARE LOOKING FOR

Multidisciplinary Horizon Europe consortia seeking a territorial implementation and social innovation partner for circular, just and nature-positive transition projects.
