Centers Logisticos

With all the shipping lines and airline services available, the Dominican Republic is very attractive as a local distribution center as well as for the entire Caribbean basin and the Americas due to its geographical location, structure and the products that can remain up to one year in the logistics centers, without paying tariffs, taxes or fees.

Depending on the destination, weekly sailings are available with transit times to anywhere in the Caribbean from 2 to 8 days. This can reduce overall transit time from the Far East or Europe to Caribbean destinations by up to 10 days (or more).
