MUSEUMS

Museu Nacional d'Art de Catalunya

The MNAC embraces all the arts and has the task of explaining the general history of Catalan art from the Romanesque period to the mid-twentieth century. In the case of the Romanesque and Gothic collections, this discourse is characterized by the Catalan provenance of most of the pieces. With regard to the Renaissance and Baroque collections, the works included lead to a more international discourse, with the work of great painters, such as El Greco, Zurbarán, Velázquez, Cranach, Rubens... The MNAC art collections from the end of the nineteenth century and the early decades of the twentieth century are once again mostly made up of the work of Catalan artists, forming a discourse which explains Modernisme, Noucentisme and the Avant-garde.

Museu Picasso

The Picasso Museum is the reference museum for understanding the formative years of Pablo Picasso. The genius of the young artist is revealed through 4251 paintings of the permanent collection. The Picasso Museum, opened in 1963, also reveals his relationship with Barcelona: an intimate link forged in his adolescence and youth, which lasted until his death.

Fundació Joan Miró

The Fundació Joan Miró was created by the artist with initial fund constituted mainly by the private collection with the aim of establishing an international reference space for Miró in Barcelona, promote research and studies from Miró and contemporary art. The Foundation opened on 10th June of 1975 and, since then, has become a dynamic space where the art of Joan Miro lives with the contemporary artistic creation.
