

Pillar 3

Session 3.5 International cooperation

Toshiki Nagano

Fellow/Director - Center for Research and Development Strategy Japan Science and Technology Agency (JST)

Affiliation: (1) Fellow/Director of Center for Research and Development Strategy (CRDS), Japan Science and Technology Agency (JST), (2) Program Officer of Nanotechnology Platform Japan, Ministry of Education, Culture, Sports, Science and Technology (MEXT). Education: B.A. in Physical Chemistry, Gakushuin University (2003, JAPAN). MBA. Graduate School of Management, GLOBIS University (2013, JAPAN). Professional Experience: R&D Strategist of Nanotechnology/Materials fields in Japan, from 2006. Making strategies not only of important R&D programs but also effective funding system and management by which inter-disciplinary collaboration is promoted among government, academia and industry sectors. Majors are Physical Chemistry and Business Management. The other, Program Officer of the "Nanotechnology Platform Japan (NPF)" from 2012, NPF is the program by MEXT. Established a reliable research infrastructure platform and network for innovation by the alliance of the institutes which have cutting edge equipment and research know-how. It is promoted for any of researchers from young to industrial one to do the share-use of the equipment, and to provide the shortest way to solve the urgent problems in science and technology. 25 national institutes and universities are joined and establish one single structure for "Cutting-Edge Common users Facility for Nanotechnology".

