Remembering Ray

Ray Scott didn't invent bass tournaments when he held the first All-American Invitational Bass Tournament on Beaver Lake, Ark., in June 1967. Instead, Scott's mark on the sport came from his creation of the first professional tournament circuit and from the organization of the Bass Anglers Sportsman Society (B.A.S.S.) in 1968. From the creation of that first circuit, bass fishing evolved over the next few decades from a lazy pastime into a multibillion-dollar industry.

B.A.S.S.'s publicity machine made heroes out of emerging bass fishing "professionals," like Bill Dance, Roland Martin, Tom Mann and John Powell. Meanwhile, Bassmaster Magazine taught America's anglers how to catch bass any time of year and introduced readers to the latest in lures, tackle, electronics and bass boats. The black bass became the No. 1 gamefish in America, and its popularity spread internationally.

"Ray's passion and vision for bass fishing birthed our entire industry more than 50 years ago," said Chase Anderson, B.A.S.S. CEO. "Ray's contributions and impact on conservation and his advocacy and passion for anglers and our sport set the standard for tournament fishing and are something we will always strive to uphold."

Scott passed away on May 8, 2022, at the age of 88, leaving a legacy that continues to influence B.A.S.S., now the world's largest fishing membership organization.

Scott's brainchild, the Bassmaster Classic, grew from just two dozen competitors and a smattering of spectators at Lake Mead, Nev., in 1971, to become the biggest event in sportfishing. Today, the Classic and related events, such as the Bassmaster Classic Outdoors Expo presented by GSM Outdoors, record more than 150,000 fishing fans each year and boast an economic impact of over $35 million for host communities.

"We could think of no better way to celebrate Ray Scott's lasting legacy than by officially naming the most iconic trophy in sportfishing — the Bassmaster Classic trophy — in his honor," said Anderson. "It is often said that winning the Classic etches an angler's name on the pages of bass fishing history, but it is a book that would never have been written without Ray."

When a world champion is crowned at the 2025 Bass Pro Shops Bassmaster Classic presented by Under Armour in Fort Worth, Texas, to be held March 21-23 on Lake Ray Roberts, they will hoist the Ray Scott Bassmaster Classic Trophy — a familiar trophy emblazoned with a legendary name.

B.A.S.S. Through The Decades

In the beginning, there was the idea: Bass fishermen would compete in a legitimate, tournament-style format and the sport would be televised, joining the ranks of golf, bowling and the major stick-and-ball sports.

That was the dream of an Alabama insurance salesman named Ray Scott. In June 1967, he would take a major step to make that dream a reality by holding the first modern bass tournament on Beaver Lake in Arkansas.

Called the “All-American,” that competition changed the sport of bass fishing forever. In late 1967, he formalized the structure of the organization that would spearhead the bass fishing revolution.

1968 — Scott wants his organization to go by the acronym B.A.S.S., and he gets the name Bass Anglers Sportsman Society from Bob Steeber of the Nashville Tennessean. The first member — and first Life Member — is Oklahoma’s Don Butler, who pays Scott $100. Annual dues are $10.

— Scott launches Bassmaster Magazine in the spring and serves as the editor for almost two years. He solicits contributions from the best anglers — rather than the best writers — he can find. Bob Cobb becomes editor of Bassmaster Magazine in 1969 and soon plays a key role in the success of B.A.S.S.

1970 — Roland Martin fishes his first B.A.S.S. event in January, the Toledo Bend Invitational. He finishes second, beginning one of the most impressive careers in professional fishing history.

1971 — Twenty-four professional anglers and an equal number of media board a flight for an unknown destination to compete in the first Bassmaster Classic. Once airborne, they are told they will compete on Lake Mead, Nev., a fishery none had ever seen.

1972 — Scott introduces the “Don’t Kill Your Catch” program whereby: “Tournament bass will be promptly weighed in and immediately placed in a large, aerated live-tank. After the weigh-in is completed, the bass will be released to be caught again.”

— In October, after lobbying and support by Scott and B.A.S.S., Congress passes the Clean Water Act with the goal of ensuring that waters meet standards necessary for water sports and recreation by 1983.

1975 — At the Arkansas Invitational on Bull Shoals Lake, California’s Dee Thomas dominates the field with a technique he calls “flippin’.” The rest of the world is introduced to it through the pages of Bassmaster.

1980s

1983 — Alfred Williams becomes the first African-American to qualify for the Bassmaster Classic. He finishes 10th.

1984 — Rick Clunn wins the Bassmaster Classic on the Arkansas River, recording the heaviest catch of each competition day and leading his closest challenger by more than 25 pounds. He is joined onstage for the final weigh-in by Vice President George H.W. Bush and Arkansas Gov. Bill Clinton.

— B.A.S.S. lobbies successfully for the Wallop-Breaux amendments to the Sport Fish Restoration Act, legislation that has generated hundreds of millions of dollars to states for sportfishing projects.

1986 — In July, investors, led by longtime employee Helen Sevier, purchase B.A.S.S. from founder Ray Scott.

1988 — George H.W. Bush is elected president of the United States, and the New York Times reports his favorite periodical is Bassmaster Magazine.

1989 — B.A.S.S. Times — the newsletter for B.A.S.S. club members — is transformed into a tabloid to provide more tournament and B.A.S.S. Nation news, conservation information and in-depth fishing tips.

1990s

1991 — Vojai Reed becomes the first female angler to fish the B.A.S.S. Tournament Trail, debuting at the Missouri Invitational on Truman Lake.

1993 — Japan’s Norio Tanabe wins the Kentucky Invitational on Kentucky Lake, becoming the first international angler to win a B.A.S.S. event.

1994 — In July, Bryan Kerchal wins the Bassmaster Classic on North Carolina’s High Rock Lake. He is the only B.A.S.S. Nation qualifier to ever win the Classic. Less than five months later, he dies in a commuter plane crash near Raleigh, N.C., at the age of 23.

1999 — In April, Mark Tyler catches a 14-pound, 9-ounce largemouth at the California Western Invitational on the California Delta near Stockton, Calif. It is the largest bass ever caught in B.A.S.S. competition.

2000s

2001 — On Day 1 of the Florida Bassmaster Top 150 on Lake Toho, Dean Rojas brings in a 45-2 bag, the heaviest five-bass limit in B.A.S.S. history. He wins the event with a four-day total of 108-12.

— In April, ESPN purchases B.A.S.S.

2002 — In July, Kevin VanDam becomes the first angler to win the ESPY as Best Outdoor Sports Athlete.

2004 — In August, Japan’s Takahiro Omori becomes the first citizen of a foreign country to win the Classic.

2006 — In March, B.A.S.S. debuts the Bassmaster Elite Series on Lake Amistad in Texas. Ish Monroe wins the inaugural event.

— Preston Clark wins the Elite Series Santee Cooper Showdown with a four-day record catch of 115-15.

2008 — B.A.S.S. introduces the Bassmaster Elite Series Marshal program. The program is rebranded to the AmbASSador program in late 2024.

2010s

2010 — On Nov. 1, Jim Copeland, Don Logan and Jerry McKinnis purchase B.A.S.S. from ESPN.

2011 — In July, Andrew Upshaw of Stephen F. Austin State University in Texas becomes the first angler to qualify for the Bassmaster Classic through the College B.A.S.S. National Championship program.

— B.A.S.S. relocates to Birmingham, Ala.

2012 — B.A.S.S. bans multiple-lure rigs from the Bassmaster Classic and Elite Series competition.

— The name of the B.A.S.S. Federation Nation is changed to B.A.S.S. Nation.

2014 — Paul Mueller weighs in a 32-3 limit on Day 2 of the Bassmaster Classic on Lake Gunter’sville, the heaviest daily catch in Bassmaster Classic history.

2016 — Rick Clunn wins the Bassmaster Elite at the St. Johns River, becoming the oldest Elite Series winner at 69 years, 3 months and 30 days old. He would cement this record by winning at the St. Johns again in 2019.

— The first Noreen Clough Memorial Scholarship for Females in Fisheries is awarded to honor the former B.A.S.S. Conservation Director.

2017 — Jordan Lee makes the biggest come-from-behind leap in Bassmaster Classic history to win the 2017 Classic.

— Anderson Media Corp., a 100-year-old family business founded in Alabama, acquires a majority interest in B.A.S.S.

2018 — B.A.S.S. celebrates its 50th anniversary.

2020 — B.A.S.S. launches the Bassmaster B.A.S.S. Nation Kayak Series, debuting its inaugural tournament on Alabama's Logan Martin Lake.

2021 — For the first time, all nine Bassmaster Elite events, as well as the Bassmaster Classic, College Classic Bracket and select Bassmaster Opens feature live television coverage on FOX Sports platforms.

— The inaugural Bassmaster High School Combine offers high school anglers an opportunity to showcase their talents for colleges and generates more than $2.1 million in college scholarships.

— After a 12-year hiatus, the Bassmaster Redfish Cup Championship returns.

2022 — In May, B.A.S.S. founder Ray Scott passes away at 88. It is announced that the Classic trophy will be named in his honor.

— The first Helen Sevier Memorial Scholarships are awarded to women aspiring to fish at the collegiate level.

— In July, Cory Johnston and Jay Przekurat become the first two anglers to earn century belts with all small-mouth during an Elite on the St. Lawrence River.

2024 — In September, B.A.S.S. announces the creation of equipment standards related to new technologies.

— In October, B.A.S.S. restructures the Bassmaster Opens to consist of eight events across two divisions, with top-ranking anglers qualifying for the fall-season three-event Elite Qualifiers Series.

“There is no better way to celebrate 20 years of Elite competition than to roll out a schedule that includes some of the best bass fisheries on the planet. Progressive Insurance Bassmaster Angler Of The Year

The Progressive Insurance Bassmaster Angler of the Year race is a marathon that requires mental toughness, maximum endurance and a little luck.

To win the AOY title, and its $100,000 payout, a pro must consistently out-fish the Elite Series field over the course of the nine-tournament schedule. Along the way, anglers accumulate points based on their finish in each event. The winner gets 104 points, the runner-up earns 103 points and so on.

With events at all types of fisheries spanning seven states, the Angler of the Year title is a testament to versatility.

Meet The Elites

The 2024 Bassmaster Elite Series season saw an incredible surge in both attendance and fan engagement and is stacked with the potential to take its popularity to new heights. All 104 anglers invited to join the 2025 Elite class accepted the challenge, including seven former Bassmaster Classic champions and eight former Angler of the Year champions.

The Elite Qualifiers division of the St. Croix Bassmaster Opens presented by SEVIIN, which required anglers to fish all nine Opens events to qualify for one of nine spots on the Elite Series, culminated in a stacked rookie class of new Elites. Highlighting the rookies is Opens EQ Angler of the Year Easton Fothergill. Alongside Fothergill, who won two Bassmaster Opens in 2024 en route to capturing the EQ AOY title and punching his ticket to the big show, Cody Meyer finished second in the overall EQ standings, followed by Tucker Smith in third. Paul Marks, Emil Wagner, Andrew Loberg, Dakota Ebare, Beau Browning and Evan Kung all earned Elite Series berths as well.

Also joining the Elite ranks is Blake Capps, who won the 2024 Mercury B.A.S.S. Nation Championship presented by Lowrance on Grand Lake O' the Cherokees with a three-day total of 42 pounds, 14 ounces.

The two anglers claiming Legends spots in 2025 have both already had historic B.A.S.S. careers. 2014 Bassmaster Classic champion Randy Howell, who has almost $2 million in B.A.S.S. winnings, is looking to add to his 16 Classic appearances, while 2013 Bassmaster Classic champion Cliff Pace, who has almost $1.7 million in career earnings, is looking to make a splash in his return to the Elite field.

Elite anglers will compete in nine events across seven states as they seek cash and prizes and attempt to qualify for the 2026 Bass Pro Shops Bassmaster Classic presented by Under Armour.

Each tournament will begin with the full field of 104 anglers on Days 1 and 2 before the field is cut to 50 for the semifinal round on Day 3. Only the Top 10 remaining anglers will fish the final day of each event for a $100,000 first-place prize.

The Bassmaster Elite Series Marshal program, which began in 2008, has been rebranded for 2025 to more accurately reflect what the program embodies. Similar to the popular “Day On The Lake” feature in Bassmaster Magazine, Bassmaster AmBASSadors witness firsthand at least two full days of tournament fishing from the best seat in the house.

“Any B.A.S.S. member can be an AmBASSador,” said Elite Series Tournament Director Lisa Talmadge. “There’s no special training or knowledge of rules needed. Being an AmBASSador is a fun way for fishing fans to get an on-the-water experience with an Elite angler and an opportunity to learn new techniques.”

AmBASSadors also help B.A.S.S. enhance the sport by operating BassTrakk, a digital scoring technology, by logging the anglers’ catches and sending reports throughout the day. AmBASSadors also take pictures of any catches or on-the-water action, with a chance for their photos to be featured on Bassmaster.com. AmBASSadors enable fans to follow the action in real time on Bassmaster.com.

AmBASSadors can sign up for one Elite event or multiple events over the course of a season. AmBASSadors will receive an AFTCO merchandise swag bag, and those who compete in three or more events will receive a $100 AFTCO gift card. Visit Bassmaster.com to sign up to be an AmBASSador.

Bassmaster Opens

The St. Croix Bassmaster Opens presented by SEVIIN are often referred to as the feeder league of B.A.S.S.'s tournament trails because they give up-and-coming anglers the opportunity to win cash as well as a chance to join Elite Series pros on the biggest stage in bass fishing: the Bass Pro Shops Bassmaster Classic presented by Under Armour.

The 2023 season saw the beginning of the Tackle Warehouse Bassmaster Elite Qualifiers division, where anglers hoping to earn a coveted invitation to join the Bassmaster Elite Series could only qualify by competing in all nine Opens. Although this new division restricted Elite qualification to only those fishing all Opens events, Opens winners still earned a berth into the Bassmaster Classic as long as they competed in all three Opens within their regional division.

The top nine anglers in the Bassmaster Opens EQ standings earned an invitation to join the prestigious Bassmaster Elite Series. With the exception of a berth going to the Mercury B.A.S.S. Nation presented by Lowrance champion, fishing all nine events and participating in the Opens EQs was the exclusive route for earning entry into the Elite Series.

Beginning with the 2025 season, the Opens evolved into an eight-event season comprised of two divisions, each featuring four tournaments, with anglers who place in the Top 50 in each division's Angler of the Year race advancing to the newly installed Bassmaster Elite Qualifiers Series. This stand-alone series will feature three events, spanning from September through November, to qualify anglers for the Bassmaster Elite Series.

"This is a great step for the Opens and a giant leap for the EQs," said Executive Director of Tournaments Hank Weldon. "While the existing format fielded well-rounded anglers who were prepared to fish against the best in the world, it also left competitors who found themselves out of the running for Elite Series qualification locked into the remainder of the nine-event season. This modification will allow an angler to commit to just four Opens (or all eight if they want additional opportunities) and then decide to move on to the all-new and separate EQ Series if they qualify."

At each regular-season event, a total of $339,940 in cash, based on a 230 pro field will be awarded to the pros finishing in the Top 45, giving the eight-event circuit a total payout of more than $2.71 million. For more information, visit Bassmaster.com/opens.

Easton Fothergill claimed the 2024 Bassmaster Elite Qualifiers Angler of the Year title with a total of 1,606 points, earning himself an invitation to the 2025 Elite Series and a $45,000 check.

Starting in 2025, the St. Croix Bassmaster Opens Series presented by SEVIN transformed into an eight-event season comprised of two divisions, with each division featuring four tournaments. Anglers placing in the Top 50 in each Opens division's Angler of the Year race will now advance to the Bassmaster Elite Qualifiers Series. This stand-alone series will feature three fall events that will allow qualifying anglers to compete for a spot on the Bassmaster Elite Series.

"This schedule is strong and will be a challenge for the group moving from the Opens to the EQs," said Executive Director of Tournaments Hank Weldon. "It's a diverse schedule, and I think we're catching each of those fisheries at a really good time for anglers and fans alike. I'm looking forward to seeing how the new EQs shake out this year."

The first EQ event is scheduled for Sept. 18-20 at Lake Champlain in Plattsburgh, N.Y. Champlain placed sixth in the Northeastern Division of Bassmaster Magazine's 2024 100 Best Bass Lakes list. Both largemouth and smallmouth bass are abundant in this lake that features everything from shallow grass to deep, rocky structure.

The EQs will next visit Pickwick Lake in Counce, Tenn., Oct. 2-4. Giant largemouth, smallmouth and spots can fill a bag on this body of water that ranked ninth for the Southeastern Division of Bassmaster Magazine's 2024 100 Best Bass Lakes list, and bags of more than 25 pounds are the norm.

The final EQ stop will be Nov. 13-15 at Lake Okeechobee in Clewiston, Fla. Okeechobee is known for giant largemouth — in the 2024 Opens event at Lake Okeechobee Elite Series pro Scott Martin set an Opens record for heaviest one-day bag with the 33-pound, 2-ounce limit he weighed in on Day 1 of the tournament. Martin set another Opens' record at the same event for heaviest winning catch with a three-day total of 90-6.

In addition to the 100 anglers qualifying from both divisions of the Opens, all current Bassmaster Elite Series anglers will be eligible to compete in the EQs, as well as the second- and third-place finishers from the 2024 Mercury B.A.S.S. Nation Championship presented by Lowrance.

B.A.S.S. remains committed to the "win and you're in" concept for the 2026 Bass Pro Shops Bassmaster Classic presented by Under Armour. Anglers who fish every event in a division of the Opens will receive a berth to the Classic if they win an event. The same applies to the three-event EQ Series, taking the total to 11 berths to the Classic, which is an increase of two berths from years past.

Also new for 2025, the number of anglers who will qualify for the Elite Series has been increased to 10. Additionally, the EQ Series rules will mirror those of the Elite Series, meaning the "no-info rule" is currently in effect and soliciting information for these bodies of waters is now prohibited.

EQ entry fees will be $3,500 per event. For full details please visit Bassmaster.com.

B.A.S.S. Nation

The B.A.S.S. Nation is a global network of locally organized clubs whose members participate in and support a range of activities, including tournaments, conservation initiatives and youth programs. The B.A.S.S. Nation has played a major role in B.A.S.S. history since the inception of B.A.S.S. chapters in 1968 to combat water pollution at the local level. In 1972, these individual chapters were organized into state federations, now known as Nations. Each Nation has a group of officers, including a president, conservation director and youth director, who work closely with B.A.S.S. Nation staff to promote B.A.S.S. initiatives at the local, state and division levels.

Beginning in the 2024 season, B.A.S.S. implemented a new format for the Mercury B.A.S.S. Nation Qualifier Series presented by Lowrance that allowed individual B.A.S.S. Nation anglers and club members from each state to enter national qualifier events, with the Top 20 finishers advancing to the B.A.S.S. Nation Championship. Additionally, club anglers were able to qualify directly from their state tournaments to the championship. The Top 3 finishers at the championship all earn a berth into the Bass Pro Shops Bassmaster Classic presented by Under Armour.

In the past to qualify for the Nation Championship an angler was required to first qualify for a 20-member state team via state-level tournaments before competing in a B.A.S.S. Nation regional championship, where only the top boater and nonboater from each state moved on to the championship.

The B.A.S.S. Nation Championship tournament now features qualifiers from the states and the four national qualifier tournaments, as well as international anglers. Not only will the Top 3 anglers from the championship realize a dream of competing in the Bassmaster Classic, but the Nation champion will earn the title of “Nation’s Best,” which includes the use of a fully-rigged tournament boat for a year, an invitation to the Bassmaster Elite Series and a cash prize. The second- and third-place finishers and nonboater champion will each earn paid entry fees for all divisions of the St. Croix Bassmaster Opens presented by SEVIN.

Underneath the B.A.S.S. Nation umbrella is the Bassmaster Team Championship, Newport Kayak Series presented by Native Watercraft and the Bassmaster College Kayak Series along with the Strike King Bassmaster College Series presented by Bass Pro Shops, the Strike King Bassmaster High School Series and the Bassmaster Junior Series.

Blake Capps from Muskogee, Okla., won the 2024 Mercury B.A.S.S. Nation Championship presented by Lowrance on Grand Lake O’ the Cherokees with a three-day total of 42 pounds, 14 ounces.

Few anglers started their tournament fishing careers all alone. They began by teaming with friends and relatives in small but super-competitive events near their homes.

It's such a fun and popular pastime that ramps at lakes around the country are filled with trucks and trailers throughout the week as they play host to one team event after another. But it's been only in the past decade that team events offered a path to the Bass Pro Shops Bassmaster Classic presented by Under Armour.

The final spot in the 2026 Bassmaster Classic will be filled this year at the Bassmaster Team Championship and Classic Fish-Off, which will take place on Lake Hartwell in Anderson, S.C., Dec. 3-6.

Founded in 2014, the Team Championship starts with the same simple concept as most team events around the country. Two friends fish for two days out of the same boat for bass that will go in the same livewell. The team with the heaviest total weight wins the national team championship.

Then, the six anglers from the Top 3 teams are sent back onto the lake for a two-day solo competition that pits partners against partners as well as anglers from the other teams. The winning individual earns a berth in the Classic.

The Bassmaster Team Championship comprises the top teams from organized tournament trails across the United States. The trails must register with B.A.S.S. before the season.

The program has grown each year since its inception. In 2014, 38 trails signed up. That number grew to 62 trails (with more than 11,500 members) in 2021. The 2024 Team Championship event on Tennessee's Kentucky Lake featured a field of nearly 450 of the best B.A.S.S. Nation anglers from all corners of the globe.

The team of Noah Morgan and Clint Knight, representing the National Team Bass Association, won the 2024 Bassmaster Team Championship on Kentucky Lake with a two-day total of 47 pounds, 5 ounces.

With the second day of the Team Championship portion of the event postponed due to weather, the 2024 Bassmaster Team Championship Classic Fish-Off was shortened to just one day. Tyler Campbell from the Lake Hartwell 5 Alive Sunday Series won the Classic Fish-Off with a one-day total of 22-5, earning him a spot in the 2025 Bassmaster Classic.

B.A.S.S. officials expect interest to continue growing for the Team Championship, as the event gives grass-roots anglers a chance to chase their dreams.

Noah Morgan and Clint Knight, representing the National Team Bass Association, used some home-water knowledge to earn a come-from-behind victory in the Bassmaster Team Championship on Kentucky Lake with a two-day total of 47 pounds, 5 ounces.

Tyler Campbell from the Lake Hartwell 5 Alive Sunday Series won the Bassmaster Team Championship Classic Fish-Off with a one-day total of 22 pounds, 5 ounces. The win earned him a berth in the 2025 Bassmaster Classic.

Kayak Series

In 2020, B.A.S.S. launched a tournament trail aimed at kayak enthusiasts set on some of the country's most notable fisheries. Heading into its sixth season, the 2025 Newport Bassmaster Kayak Series presented by Native Watercraft will showcase six regular-season events with two days of competition.

"This trail is unlike any other we have," said B.A.S.S. Vice President of Tournaments Chris Bowes. "Kayak anglers sometimes fish hard-to-reach places that other anglers can't access, and then sometimes they're right out in the middle of the fishery targeting offshore fish. It's just a fun way of fishing — and one that seems to get more popular every year."

Each tournament of the 2025 season will allow anglers to compete for points toward the Dakota Lithium Bassmaster Kayak Series Angler of the Year award. The recipient of the award will earn a $5,000 first-place prize. Tennessee angler Rus Snyders repeated as Angler of the Year in 2024 when he won the award with 730 points after winning the 2023 AOY award with 746 total points.

When an angler catches a bass, he or she photographs it lying on a standard-issue measuring board and submits the photo through a special mobile app provided by TourneyX. The boards measure each fish in inches down to 1/4 inch, and the angler with the longest five-bass limit wins. Once each photograph is submitted, a tournament director and judges deem the catch legal or not and enter an official length.

A real-time leaderboard will be available online during each tournament until an hour before weigh-in.

The 2025 Yamaha Rightwaters Bassmaster Kayak Series Championship scored by TourneyX will be held in conjunction with the 2025 Bass Pro Shops Bassmaster Classic presented by Under Armour, with the Top 50 anglers from the 2024 Bassmaster Kayak Series AOY points race, along with the Top 5 anglers from each 2024 event, competing on Lake Fork in Yantis, Texas, March 19-20. The champion will be crowned March 21 on the Classic stage in Fort Worth, Texas.

College Kayak

New for 2025, B.A.S.S. announced a companion circuit to the Newport Bassmaster Kayak Series presented by Native Watercraft. The Bassmaster College Kayak Series will offer college anglers the opportunity to punch their ticket to the Kayak Series Championship over the course of three tournaments to be held concurrently with Kayak Series events.

The College Kayak events will be held Feb. 1-2 at Kissimmee Chain of Lakes in Kissimmee, Fla., April 26-27 at Dale Hollow Reservoir in Byrdstown, Tenn., and Sept. 27-28 at Toledo Bend Reservoir in Hemphill, Texas.

The Dakota Lithium Bassmaster Kayak Series Angler of the Year award will once again feature a top prize of $5,000.

In order to accommodate its ever-growing popularity, the Strike King Bassmaster College Series presented by Bass Pro Shops expanded the series format in the leadup to the 2024 season, adjusting from a singular, four-event schedule to a two-division series, with each division offering three tournaments. The new divisions, Legends and Lunkers, would open the door to allow more teams to compete and qualify for the National Championship and College Classic Bracket presented by Lew's.

“Over the past few years, college fishing has surged in popularity, and we have had a large waiting list of teams that wanted to compete,” said Glenn Cale, tournament manager for the College, High School and Junior Series. “The new format that was unveiled last year opens avenues for more teams to compete while also prioritizing a team’s overall body of work throughout the season.”

Teams may only register for one division and will be competing against other teams in their division for valuable Team of the Year points. Each tournament is capped at 250 teams, with the top 10% of teams from each event qualifying for the National Championship. The Top 20 from each division’s TOY standings will also qualify for the National Championship. Alongside the Top 20 anglers in each division and tournament qualifiers, the National Championship will include two qualifiers from each state’s B.A.S.S. Nation College circuit. National Championship results factor into crowning a Bassmaster College Team of the Year.

The Top 3 teams in the overall Bassmaster College Team of the Year standings and the national champions will advance to the College Classic Bracket to compete head-to-head in bracket-style competition for a berth in the Bass Pro Shops Bassmaster Classic presented by Under Armour. The 2024 College Classic Bracket champion was Dylan Akins of Emmanuel University.

College All-American

For 2025, B.A.S.S. announced the Bassmaster College Series All-American Program presented by Huk. The program will name eight College All-Americans to its 2026 class, with finalists being determined based on their performance in the 2025 Strike King Bassmaster College Series presented by Bass Pro Shops. The top two highest-finishing teams in the Strike King Bassmaster College Series Bass Pro Shops Team of the Year race as well as each team that stands atop the rankings in the Legends and Lunkers divisions of the College Series will receive the exclusive honor of being named a Bassmaster College All-American. The All-Americans will be honored on the biggest stage in bass fishing at the 2026 Bass Pro Shops Bassmaster Classic presented by Under Armour.

High School Series

The Strike King Bassmaster High School Series has seen interest skyrocket in recent years and has become a true proving ground for future pro anglers across the country.

The High School Series embraces and promotes the importance of education and conservation and gives high school students the opportunity to compete in the extremely popular Bassmaster High School Opens.

The High School Series, which debuted in 2013, now involves more than 11,000 student athletes representing more than 900 clubs in 45 states, which is an astounding increase in the number of clubs and schools competing since the Series' inception.

Each two-person team is accompanied by an adult "boat captain" who drives and operates the boat. The field size has been capped at 250 boats due to the soaring popularity of the series.

In 2018, the High School Series expanded to four Opens in which high school teams competed for berths in the Strike King Bassmaster High School Championship.

The Bassmaster Junior Series was also added to the annual slate of events in the Bassmaster High School Series. Each high school event includes a field of up to 50 boats for competitors ranging from second to eighth grade, with accompanying coaches or team captains.

The Bassmaster Elite Series field is littered with anglers who have competed in B.A.S.S. youth programs, such as Cooper Gallant, who was part of the first Canadian team to qualify for the Bassmaster High School National Championship, and Alex Wetherell, a 2010 Bassmaster Junior World Champion.

An exhibition tournament is also held each year in conjunction with the Bass Pro Shops Bassmaster Classic presented by Under Armour.

For the 11th consecutive year, judges will select Bassmaster All-State anglers and the Bassmaster High School All-American Fishing Team, which will be announced later this year.

Students can be nominated by parents, coaches or school officials. Two students from each state are named to their respective All-State teams, and the 12 All-Americans are then selected from that list. Students are judged based on their success in high school fishing competitions, academic achievements, leadership skills and community involvement.

High School Combine

In 2021, B.A.S.S. launched the first Skeeter Bassmaster High School Combine on Wheeler Lake in Decatur, Ala. The High School Combine was designed to be a three-day event where young anglers were given the opportunity to perform multiple tasks to show their skill set not only on the water, but also display their knowledge of the sport as a whole. After the first day, colleges had the opportunity to select anglers for a “second look” where they were able to further explore everything the angler had to offer.

The inaugural High School Combine generated more than $2.6 million in scholarship offers, and participation in the event has only continued to grow since then. The spotlight on Combine anglers has continued to expand, with students signing scholarship offers on-site as well as at Bassmaster High School Series events.

The 2025 High School Combine will be held on Wheeler Lake Sept. 5-7. Registration is capped at 100 students. To learn more, contact Glenn Cale at gcale@bassmaster.com.

High School All-American

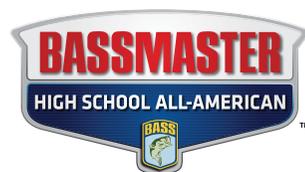

2024 once again saw massive participation in the Bassmaster High School All-American Program as the top young anglers from across the country aimed for one of the most prestigious honors in youth fishing. Over 300 applications nominating students in grades 10-12 were submitted from 35 states. Of those, 45 students were selected as Bassmaster All-State anglers. After a second group of judges took an extensive look at tournament history, conservation efforts, community service activities and recommendations from school officials and coaches, the Top 12 anglers in the country were selected. The 2024 Bassmaster High School All-American class will be honored onstage at the 2025 Bass Pro Shops Bassmaster Classic presented by Under Armour.

B.A.S.S. opened up the nomination window for the 2025 Bassmaster High School All-American Program on Feb. 3 and will be receiving nominations through June 9.

For more information, contact Mandy Pascal at 205-313-0955 or allamerican@bassmaster.com.

Nearly 100 student anglers and 26 of the top collegiate fishing programs in the country gathered in Decatur, Ala., Sept. 13-15, 2024 for the fourth annual Skeeter Bassmaster High School Combine.

Each year the Bassmaster High School All-American Program names the Top 12 high school anglers in the country. The 2024 Bassmaster High School All-American class beat out a nomination field of 300-plus applicants.

Redfish Cup Championship

Originally launched in 2003 and produced by pioneering outdoor television company JM Associates, 2021 saw the Redfish Cup Championship revived after a 12-year hiatus. With Yamaha and Skeeter partnering with B.A.S.S. to present the Yamaha Bassmaster Redfish Cup Championship presented by Skeeter Boats, the 2024 tournament at Apalachicola Bay in Florida featured 10 teams comprised of both redfish and Bassmaster Elite Series pros.

The 10-team field targeted the powerful predators over the course of the three-day tournament. With only a two-fish limit per day and a slot limit per fish of 18 to 27 inches, the pros were on the hunt for upper-slot fish and the $75,000 first-place prize.

Redfish pros Michael Frenette and Mark Robinson won the 2024 Yamaha Bassmaster Redfish Cup Championship presented by Skeeter Boats with a three-day total of 31 pounds, 15 ounces.

Dates and location of the 2025 Redfish Cup will be announced later this spring, but it is only expected to get bigger and better.

“The return of the Redfish Cup Championship [in 2021] was a big success, and we expect it to grow even more,” said Susan Camp, Division Manager, Marketing, Yamaha U.S. Marine Business Unit. “This tournament is unique because it pairs fresh and saltwater anglers together and, by doing so, expands the reach of the Yamaha and Skeeter brands within competitive fishing.”

Many anglers pursue both bass and redfish, in part due to the fact that the fish behave so similarly. Both bass and redfish are ambush predators known to violently strike out at reaction lures, and both species tend to linger around the same kind of habitat. It’s not uncommon for anglers to catch both species of fish from the same stretch of shoreline.

Redfish can be found in the Gulf of Mexico and along the East Coast from Florida to Massachusetts. Juvenile redfish often dwell in the protected inshore waters of bays and estuaries and head offshore after reaching maturity, where they form schools. A fully mature redfish typically reaches between 28 to 33 inches long, and some have been known to reach weights of over 40 pounds.

The tournament included a 10-boat field with a mix of championship-caliber professional redfish teams along with four all-star teams featuring Bassmaster Elite Series pros paired with redfish pros. Frenette and Robinson figured out the redfish enough to beat their closest competition by 2-11.

Rapala Bassmaster Fantasy Fishing provides a competitive platform for fans to test their knowledge of pro fishing and their prediction skills to win gear, gift cards and more. Participants select a five-angler team for each of the nine Elite Series events and the Bass Pro Shops Bassmaster Classic presented by Under Armour, then compete against other players. Points are awarded based on each angler's final standings at the end of an Elite Series event.

The winner of each individual tournament will receive a prize package worth $4,000 or $4,500 depending on whether or not the winner is a B.A.S.S. Member. In other words, it pays to be a B.A.S.S. Member!

The grand prize winner will take home a $15,000 Bass Pro Shops gift card, $5,000 cash, a Rapala prize package and an expenses-paid trip to the 2026 Bassmaster Classic. If the winner is also a B.A.S.S. member, he or she will earn an additional $500 Bass Pro Shops gift card.

Initially launching during the 2021 Elite Series season, the Falcon Rods Bassmaster Drain the Lake Challenge tested even seasoned Fantasy Fishing players.

Drain the Lake players choose eight Elite anglers per event. Each angler can only be used once throughout the season, meaning players must consider the entire Elite trail, as well as the Classic, as they make their picks. Players who select the winning angler for an event receive bonus points.

For each Bassmaster Elite Series event, individual winners will earn a $250 B.A.S.S.-provided gift card to Bass Pro Shops and a $100 Falcon Rods gift card for a total value of $350. If the winner is also a B.A.S.S. member, they will receive an additional $500 Bass Pro Shops gift card, bringing their total winnings up to $850.

New for 2025

B.A.S.S. has announced a third fantasy game, the T-H Marine Bassmaster Pick 'Em Challenge. "The pick 'em style of game has become increasingly popular amongst Fantasy sports, so it made perfect sense to add this game to the lineup," said B.A.S.S. Executive Editor, Digital Kyle Jessie. "For each event there will be seven matchups selected based on interesting, and sometimes silly, storylines." All Bassmaster fantasy games are now live and you can play them at Bassmasterfantasy.com.

Best Bass Lakes Of 2024

Since 2012, Bassmaster Magazine has released annual rankings of the country's best bass fisheries, and with the Recreational Boating & Fishing Foundation citing that 2023 saw an uptick in recreational angling, with 57.7 million Americans hitting the water, more and more anglers are on the hunt for the top fishery in their neck of the woods.

"Putting together the 100 Best Bass Lakes rankings is a two-month mission every year to identify the hottest fisheries in the country," said Bassmaster Magazine Editor Bryan Brasher. "And while we do manage to add a few new lakes to the list each year, there are always those old standbys that hold on to a constant spot in the rankings.

"Using a tried-and-true formula of researching results and talking to people with vast bass fishing knowledge, we're confident in the list every year — and if a lake makes the rankings, you can bet it's worth your time."

2024 saw the St. Lawrence River (Thousand Islands) once again rise to the top of the 100 Best Bass Lakes ranks after dropping to second place in 2023, marking the fourth-straight year the stellar fishery has made the overall Top 4. It took 102 pounds of smallmouth to win the 2024 Bassmaster Elite at St. Lawrence River and 105 pounds to take the top spot in the 2023 Elite event held there.

Protecting Fisheries

From the founding of B.A.S.S. in 1968, conservation has been a cornerstone of the organization's mission. Early campaigns against water pollution were credited with helping clean up America's waterways, and the launch of the "Don't Kill Your Catch" program in 1972 led to the widespread adoption of the catch-and-release ethic.

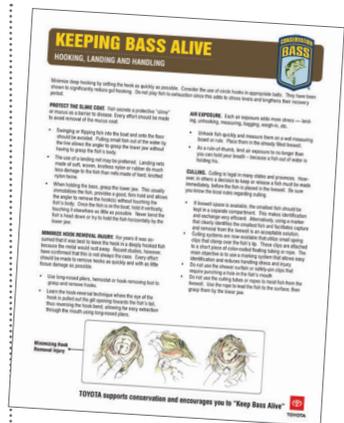

Today, B.A.S.S. Conservation's mission is to preserve and enhance aquatic resources and the sport of bass fishing, advocate at the local, state and national level for sustainable water policy and sound fisheries management, work to preserve and enhance fish habitat, including the responsible management of aquatic vegetation, prevent and control invasive species, ensure fishing access and promote the highest ethics in angling and tournament fish-care practices.

B.A.S.S. National Conservation Director

Gene Gilliland, a highly regarded bass biologist and conservation advocate from Oklahoma, serves as B.A.S.S. National Conservation Director. Gilliland is the former assistant chief of the Fisheries Division of the Oklahoma Department of Wildlife Conservation. In addition to serving on national councils and advisory boards, he represents bass anglers as a respected spokesman and authority on conservation and fisheries management issues.

B.A.S.S. Conservation Highlights

- ❖ B.A.S.S. Conservation is the driving force behind progressive, positive change on issues related to fisheries management, angling and boating access, fish habitat, invasive species and tournament ethics.
- ❖ Conservation directors in each B.A.S.S. Nation chapter work closely with state fisheries agencies to protect aquatic resources and sportfishing.
- ❖ B.A.S.S. partners with sponsors like AFTCO, Yamaha and the Aquatic Plant Management Society to fund conservation initiatives and projects to enhance natural resources and fish habitats. Grant programs funded by these conservation partners help B.A.S.S. Nation clubs and high school fishing teams conduct a variety of projects.

Keeping Bass Alive

Keeping Bass Alive was published by B.A.S.S. with the goal of helping anglers and other tournament organizers achieve maximum survival of fish. Read Keeping Bass Alive at: Bassmaster.com/sites/default/files/keepingbasalalive_guidebook_comp.pdf

Written by Gilliland and Dr. Hal Schramm, the book includes topics such as:

- > the least stressful ways to handle bass
- > livewell management, including state-of-the-art techniques for aeration, temperature control and water quality maintenance
- > weigh-in procedures
- > responsible release strategies

Behind The Scenes At Bassmaster Tournaments: At The Tanks

B.A.S.S.'s tournament fish-care system has an enviable track record. Live release rates are typically over 90%, with many events approaching a 100% live release rate.

A large reason for the fantastic release rates that are the hallmark of B.A.S.S. tournaments is the scientifically tested and proven fish-care system that is employed "backstage" across all B.A.S.S. tournament trails.

At weigh-in, anglers transfer fish from their livewell into solid vinyl, water-filled bags with an inner mesh liner. When the angler gets to the waiting line, they pull the mesh bag out and place it in a series of aerated and temperature-controlled tanks. The mesh bag allows complete water exchange. Tournament staff constantly monitor the water temperature and oxygen levels. New In 2025, PiranhO2 will provide oxygen concentrator systems for all fish holding tanks at every level of competition where bass are weighed onstage and released back into waters unharmed.

The system is designed to speed the fish through the weigh-in process and keep them in water.

Anglers keep their catches in carefully monitored tanks before weigh-ins.

After each angler weighs their fish, their bag is taken to the Yamaha/AFTCO/PiranhO2 B.A.S.S. Live Release boat equipped with a 600-gallon oxygenated tank and powered by a 115-horsepower Yamaha outboard motor. The total weight of bass loaded onto each boat is monitored, and when the capacity is reached, it leaves the dock while a second boat moves into place and starts receiving more bass.

The boats typically travel several miles in different directions to help redistribute the tournament bass away from the weigh-in site.

2024 AFTCO x B.A.S.S. Conservation Grants

Created in 2018 to help provide funds to approved freshwater bass conservation projects proposed by B.A.S.S. Nation clubs, the AFTCO x B.A.S.S. Nation Conservation Grant Program will continue to support conservation initiatives in 2025. To date, AFTCO's total contribution has exceeded $152,000 in grants. This partnership has contributed to the shared goals of AFTCO and B.A.S.S., fostering community and youth-oriented conservation projects that positively impact local fisheries.

The Grant Program provides financial support for stocking bass, habitat enhancements and ensuring that bass are properly cared for and returned to lakes and rivers in the best possible condition for future generations to enjoy. These efforts are coordinated locally with the aid of B.A.S.S. Nation chapters, government fishing agencies, local businesses and the support of volunteers and youth organizations contributing their time and labor to the cause. "These grants are a great example of the efforts our B.A.S.S. Nation clubs are putting forth to enhance the fishing in their local lakes and reservoirs. Our state chapters are blessed to be associated with a company like AFTCO that takes conservation to heart. That continued commitment to the B.A.S.S. Nation and to the fishery resources that our sport depends on is unmatched," said Gene Gilliland, B.A.S.S. conservation director.

You can submit your conservation proposal to aftco.com/pages/bass-conservation-grant through March 31, 2025. Proposals will be judged by a panel that includes representatives from B.A.S.S. and AFTCO.

Bass Fishing Terms

blastoff — the beginning of a fishing tournament at which competitors are permitted to drive away from the starting area in their boats; also called takeoff brushpile — a man-made assembly of brush and wood cover placed in a body of water to attract gamefish community hole — a well-known and frequently fished area culling — the practice of releasing a smaller fish from one's limit and replacing it with a heavier one; often accomplished with the use of a culling beam electronics — the generic term for sonar, or fish-finding, units. These have a screen that shows depth, water temperature, fish and obstructions under the water. These units also have GPS navigation in conjunction with very detailed digital maps that show the underwater contours of fisheries finesse fishing — a technique by which small lures and line are used to generate strikes from wary or lethargic fish; commonly regarded as the opposite of power fishing forward-facing sonar (FFS) — a transducer that shoots a sonar beam in a forward or downward direction in order to create a picture of the structure and fish that are in the direction it is pointed hole jumping — the practice of knowingly fishing a location that was previously discovered to be productive by someone else — usually another competitor in a tournament. It is generally considered to be unethical, although it is not against the rules junk fishing — a style of bass fishing in which no one particular lure or technique is particularly effective and the angler must use a variety of baits and methods to catch fish managing fish — deciding how many bass to remove from a school without hurting one's chances of catching more in the same spot on subsequent tournament days pattern — the exact set of water conditions, such as depth, cover, structure, temperature, clarity, current, etc., that attract fish to a specific location and to other similar locations all over the same body of water; first defined by legendary pro Roland Martin in 1969

postspawn — period immediately after the spawn when female bass frequently are exhausted from laying eggs and protecting their beds; the period leading into the summer season power fishing — a technique by which large and/or fast-moving lures are used to create reaction strikes from bass; commonly regarded as the opposite of finesse fishing

pre-fishing — practicing for a tournament

prespawn — period shortly before spawning begins when bass typically invade shallow water and feed aggressively in preparation for the mating season shallow-water anchor — vertical, battery-operated device on the back of a boat that allows an angler to quickly and easily anchor in relatively shallow water. Power-Pole and Minn Kota Talons are two examples

Although there are nine different species of black bass, only three typically grace the Bassmaster weigh-in stage. Largemouth, smallmouth and spotted bass are the dominant family members of the black bass genus throughout the U.S. Depending on what body of water a competition is held on, one species may be more prevalent in tournament limits.

Largemouth Bass

The largemouth bass, which grows to be the largest and heaviest of the three species, is easily identified by the size of its mouth. When closed, the line of the mouth extends past the eye of the fish.

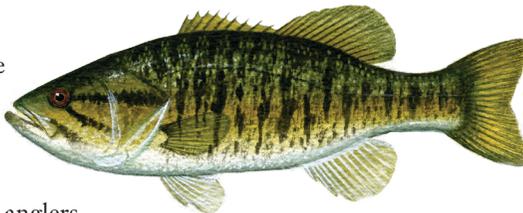

Largemouth are green on top, with silvery green to yellow-green flanks. The fish have a belly that is usually white to yellowish and have a dark, irregular stripe along their sides. The dorsal fin contains spiny and soft portions that are separated by a notch. Largemouth can be found in every state in the U.S., except for Alaska.

Smallmouth Bass

The smallmouth bass is distinguishable from its larger cousin, the largemouth, by the smaller size of its mouth. When its mouth is closed, the mouth line does not extend past the fish's eyes.

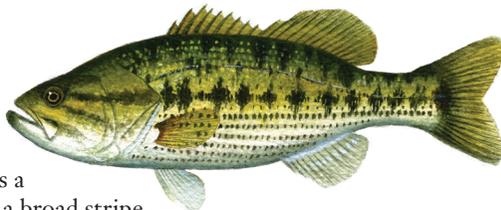

Commonly referred to as “smallies” by anglers, smallmouth bass are known for their strength and fighting ability. Though smallies can be found as far south as Texas and as far west as California, they are very common in fisheries in the Northern states. Smallmouth bass have a golden or brown hue and typically have vertical bars along their sides.

Spotted Bass

Also known as Kentucky bass, spotted bass are commonly found throughout the U.S. Similar in appearance to the largemouth bass but with a smaller mouth, the spotted bass has a green to olive hue, a white, mottled belly and a broad stripe of broken blotches along the midline of the body. The spotted bass' first and second dorsal fins are more noticeably connected, with a shallower notch than the largemouth.

Spotted bass grow more slowly than largemouth bass and are generally smaller.
