

Dear supporter,

Thank you so much for contributing towards our vision of an equitable, inclusive and sustainable India.

Over 2017-18 we ran over a dozen campaigns, many of which resulted in victories. Through our campaigns we saved hundreds of thousands of trees across the country. Some of our biggest victories included - stopping the Bangalore steel flyover and preventing the dilution of the Karnataka Tree Preservation Act. Trees are one of the most important defenses against air pollution.

A complete list of victories can be seen here <https://jhatkaa.org/victories/>

Over 2018-19 we are continuing to ramp up our work to tackle air pollution with a focus on reducing emissions from the transport and industrial sectors. Our long-term vision is to ensure that air quality across India is within WHO standards, and that the health of our citizens are not at risk from bad air.

We have also expanded our campaign focus by starting a new vertical around gender & sexuality. This vertical is focused around equality, inclusion and the ending of discrimination based on gender and / or orientation.

At Jhatkaa.org we believe that when citizens come together we can co-create a better India. As always we will continue to engage proactive and progressive citizens like you to hold the government accountable, thus strengthening our democracy and making it more participative.

Our democracy can be vibrant if we actively participate in it. I look forward to having your active participation in this new year, as we continue to support civil society in India towards a progressive future.

I do hope to have your continued support through this year. If you would like to make a tax-deductible contribution, please email us at donations@jhatkaa.org, or visit <https://jhatkaa.org/donate/>
