BIOGRAPHY

RODERRICK (ROD) JACKSON is a seasoned property claims professional and building consultant with more than a decade of experience managing complex residential and commercial property losses. His expertise is centered on large-loss claim investigations, damage assessment, reconstruction estimating, and policy interpretation. Rod has extensive experience evaluating fire, water, storm, and catastrophic loss events, working closely with insurers, contractors, and mitigation teams to determine scope, verify coverage, and facilitate accurate and timely claim resolution. He is highly proficient in industry estimating platforms including Xactimate and SymbilitY. He is known for his detailed documentation, analytical approach, and ability to navigate complex claims.

Throughout his career, Rod has handled large and complex losses for major insurance carriers and adjusting firms. His work involves evaluating commercial properties, homeowners' associations, and high-value residential structures, often coordinating with restoration contractors and stakeholders throughout the reconstruction process. With a background that also includes construction site supervision, he brings practical building knowledge and field experience that strengthens his ability to assess damages, develop accurate repair scopes, and support large-loss consulting engagements. Rod's combination of technical claims expertise, construction insight, and strong client communication skills makes him a valuable resource in complex property loss consulting and large-loss claim management.
