AMINA SAOUDI AÏT KHAYI

Born 1955 in Casablanca, Morocco, lives and works in Tunis, Tunisia. Amina is an artist who makes large woven artworks using wool. She was born in Morocco and now lives in Tunisia.

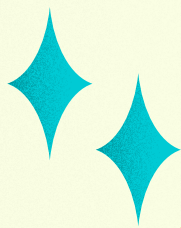

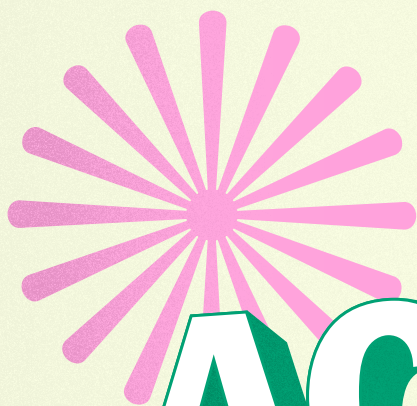

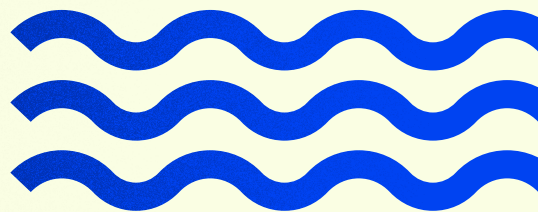

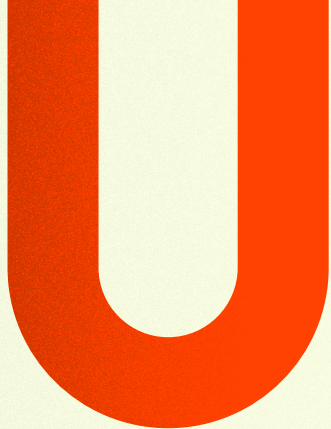

She works on a tall loom, weaving threads by hand to create colorful patterns. Her designs are inspired by Amazigh (Berber) traditions that have been passed down for many generations.

Amina makes her own colors using plants, fruits, and flowers—like turmeric, pomegranate, tea, and beetroot. She lets the colors guide her as she works.

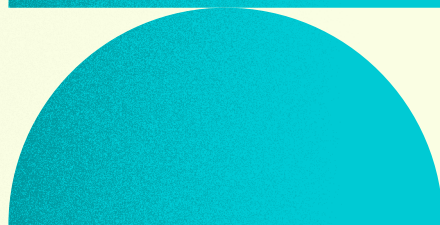

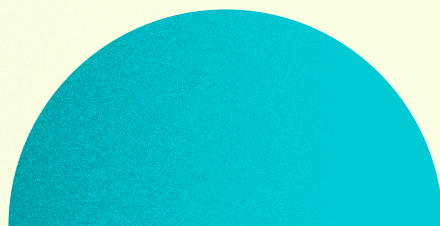

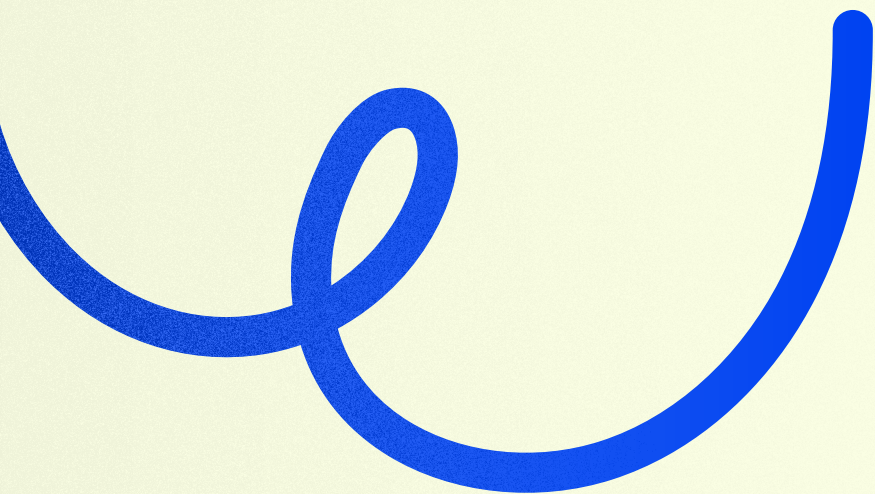

Her woven artworks tell stories about places, memories, and landscapes from North Africa. Through weaving, she connects the past with new ideas and turns thread into storytelling.
