ABDULLAH AL SAADI

Born 1967 in Khor Fakkan, United Arab Emirates, where he lives and works. Abdullah is an artist from the UAE who makes art by walking, traveling, and paying close attention to nature.

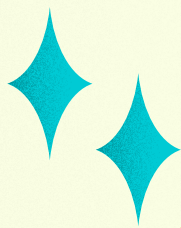

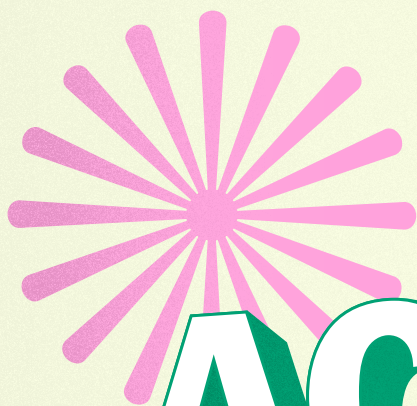

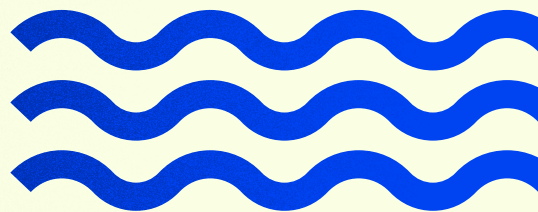

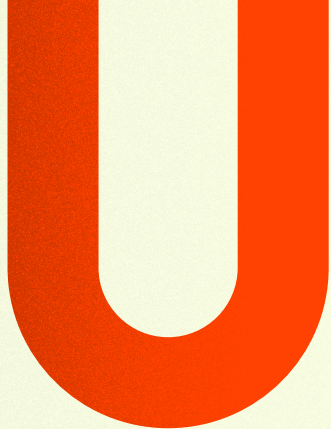

He often explores the mountains near his home and keeps careful notes, drawings, and objects from his journeys. These become part of his artworks.

In one project, he collected small stones and marked them with colors and symbols as a way of recording where he had been. Each stone is like a page from his travel diary.

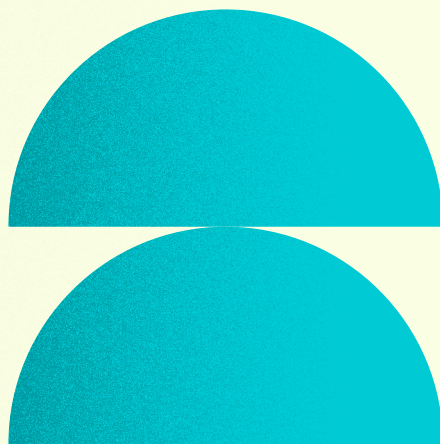

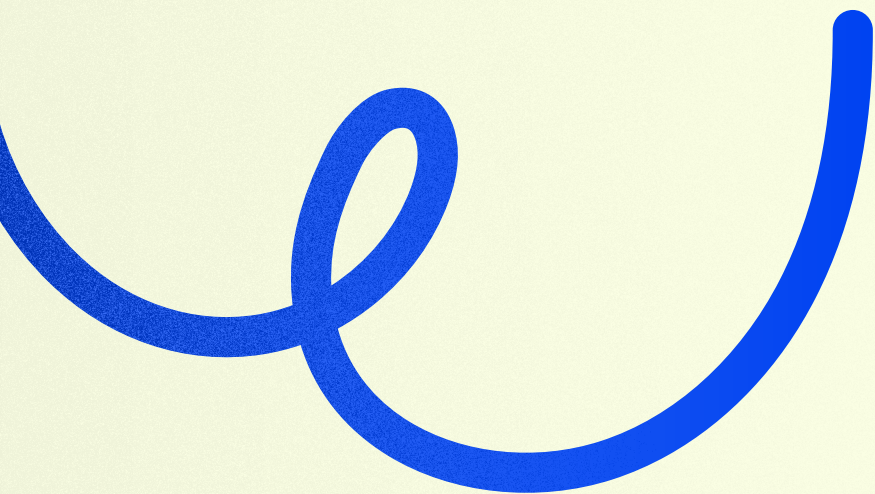

Abdullah's art is about wandering, noticing small details, and remembering places through simple things found along the way.

ACTIVITY

STONE PAINTING

Age group: 3+

Time: 30 - 20 minutes

LEARNING FOCUS:

- Observing natural materials
- Expressing ideas through symbols and patterns
- Understanding how simple marks can tell a story
- Developing focus and fine motor skills

MATERIALS:

- Smooth stones (clean and dry)
- Paint (acrylic or washable paint)
- Paintbrushes or cotton swabs
- Water cups
- Paper towels or cloth

ACTIVITY STEPS:

1. Choose one stone and look at its shape.
2. Decide what your stone will show — a pattern, symbol, or feeling.
3. Paint simple lines, dots, or shapes on the stone.
4. Let the paint dry.
5. Share your stone and explain what it represents.
