New Notice on Age Limit for SSC CGL

Staff Selection Commission (SSC) has release a new important notice concerned with Age Limit for SSC CGL posts for the year 2016. The notice clarifies that the old age limits for certain posts will remain through the recruitment drive for the year 2016. The new Age Limit for SSC CGL will only be implemented from the recruitment process for SSC CGL in 2017.

The notice on Age Limit for SSC CGL is pertinent to the Assistant posts with Codes E & G. Code E stands for the post of Assistant (MEA) and Code G stands for the post of Assistant (AFHQ). (Read more about SSC CGL Posts & Preference Order here). The posts for Assistant at Ministry of External Affairs and at Armed Forces Headquarters are now subject to the old age limits of 18 years to 27 years.

The proposal for change in the age limit for these posts suggested that both lower and upper age limits be changed to 20 years and 30 years respectively. This change will not be implemented in this year's recruitment process. This clarification was made because the proposal for change in age limit for SSC CGL posts, mentioned above, was received only after the publication of the notification. However, from 2017, the age limit for SSC CGL posts of Assistant (MEA) and Assistant (AFHQ) will be 20 years to 30 years.

Both these posts come under the 4600 Pay Grade and are liable to be posted in Delhi or other metro cities. Earlier, in an alarming move, SSC postponed the exam for SSC CGL by several months. SSC CGL Tier I examination, slated to be held on 8th and 22nd May has now been pushed to an undisclosed date in the month of August.

This also comes at the heels of more uncertainty regarding the exam pattern of SSC CGL. Reports circulated about a change in the SSC CGL exam pattern.
