The Directorate of Film Festivals of India presented its annual National Film Awards this year to honour the best of Indian films 2017. The awards were announced on Friday, 13th April 2018. National Film Movie Awards is considered as the Indian equivalent of the American Academy Awards, as the former is the highest award for films given in India. Here is the complete list of National Film Awards 2018 for Railways, SSC & Banking Exams.

History of National Film Awards 2018 for Railways & SSC Exams

- It was introduced in the year 1954.
- Since 1973, the Indian Directorate of Film Festivals administers the ceremony along with other major film events in India annually.
- It is Administrated by the Indian government's Directorate of Film Festivals.
- These awards were launched for praising and honouring films released across India, thereby adding to the encouragement of Indian art, culture and Unity of the country.

How does the Event Take Place?

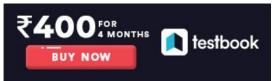

- A national panel is selected by the government to select the winning entry. The panel follows specific and stern criteria to qualify a film in the National Awards winners' list. The award ceremony is held in Delhi every year, where the President of India hands out the awards to the winners.
- Later, the induction of the National Film Festival takes place and all the awardwinning movies are screened for the public.

- The National Film Awards are given in three chief categories:
 - 1. Feature Films
 - 2. Non-Feature Films
 - 3. Best Writing on Cinema.

Feature Film -The aim of a feature film is to entertain and is made as keeping the commercial purpose in mind. Its running time is mostly longer compared to a nonfeature film.

Non-Feature film - It is also called as a documentary. It is mostly based on real-life incidents and presents a point of view about a specific topic.
