Last Minute 5 Days NABARD Study Schedule for Development Assistant Prelims 2018

NABARD is recruiting Development Assistants and Assistant Managers in Rural Development Banking Service. The Selection process has 3 stages & the Prelims is going to take place on 29th September 2018. There are limited number of vacancies for this recruitment drive. Hence, the competition is huge. There is 5 days left for the Prelims while the syllabus is really vast. So, to help you finish the syllabus in a systematic and balanced way, we are providing NABARD Study Schedule in this article. It will help you to make proper time allotment for important topics that are covered under different sections. It will help you clear NABARD Prelim Exam in the first attempt itself.

Important Features of NABARD Study Schedule

- The NABARD Study Schedule has been prepared by considering the average time a student takes to study a topic. Therefore, it is completely possible to finish a day's schedule in the time you have. But with your ease and comfort level, you can find out what works the best for you.
- The topics under different sections are arranged in an ascending order of the difficulty level. Thus, the topics which are easy to understand and carry basic concepts are at the top of the study plan. Furthermore, the topics become difficult and time-consuming as you move down the table. Hence, you get a solid base to understand different concepts.
- Try to solve last year's papers once you are done with preparation. That will be an added advantage.
- If you are left with some more days then do attempt the full length mock test & work on your weak areas. Also, do attempt short quizzes to check your speed & accuracy.

Tips to follow with NABARD Study Schedule

- Firstly, develop the habit of reading English-language newspapers every day. This is helpful in two aspects. You will become aware of the daily current affairs. Simultaneously, your vocabulary and reading speed will also improve.
- Once you are clear with the basics and covered some of the topics, start taking Full Mock Tests. Solve Mock Test to analyse your performance. Don't feel bad if you score less marks. Mock tests are best ways to get to know the areas that you are weak/slow at. Focus more and practice on those topics.

- Scoring less in mock tests is okay. This is because your goal of attending the mock tests should be learning from your mistakes. So that you can improve your performance.
- For your convenience, we have combined Economics with Rural development in study schedule since the topics are related to each other so that it is easier for you to study. But the paper in the exam will be Economic & Social Issues and Agriculture & Rural Development.
- If you finish before the scheduled time, try and solve mock tests to give yourself good practice.

Let us now take a look at the Study schedule for NABARD Prelims 2018.
