NOTHING BUT MY BODY

Tilly Lawless

Allen & Unwin

9781761065149 | $29.99 | © | PB | Fiction

A thought-provoking, discomfoting and beautiful novel about love, obsession, community and friendship

Nothing But My Body is an eight-day journey through the mind of a young woman, a queer sex worker in Australia, as she navigates breakups and infatuation across just over a year. The unnamed narrator's voice is both fierce and vulnerable, defiant and tender, as she explores the interplay between her external and internal world, and the fluctuations of her emotions as love affairs intensify and wane. Her loneliness is assuaged by her beloved chosen family—her friends—and by the beauty of the natural world.

Set during the cataclysmic bushfire season of 2019 and into the coronavirus pandemic and lockdown, sex work is the constant backdrop of the story as it moves between Sydney, Berlin, Orange and Bellingen. The beauty of the writing and the moving and deeply engaging sense of compassion that threads through this remarkable novel give true meaning to the concepts of inclusivity and community in surprising and original ways.

This stunning, unflinching and lyrical debut is both a rejection of romantic love, a euphoric celebration of the queer community and a reckoning with the body as both abject and joyous.

Tilly Lawless is a queer, Sydney-based sex worker who utilises her online platform to speak about her personal experiences within the sex industry in order to shine a light on the everyday stigma that sex workers come up against.

A LIFE IN WORDS

Collected writings from Gallipoli to the Melbourne Cup

Les Carlyon

Allen & Unwin

9781760879723 | $39.99 | © | HB | Memoir

The collected writing of one of Australia's most admired authors and journalists, Les Carlyon

Les Carlyon was one of Australia's greatest journalists and writers. His career in newspapers was stellar, becoming editor of The Age at 33, and going on to become editor in chief of the Herald and Weekly Times. But he was always more about the written word than about management, winning two Walkley Awards and the coveted Graham Perkin Journalist of the Year Award.

Yet most Australians will know him as an author, writing books that gave us the very essence of our history and our culture—whether in the trenches of the Western Front, or in the betting ring at Flemington. His epic account of the Gallipoli campaign, Gallipoli, was ground-breaking in its day combing incredible research and an ability to capture the human essence with a style that was distinctively his own.

From Don Bradman to Paul Keating, from Flemington to Flanders, from Henry Lawson to Clive James, A Life of Words is a collection of Les's very best writing, taken from across his career.

Les Carlyon (1942-2019) was a reporter, editor, historian, educator and mentor who was universally admired as a superlative descriptive writer.

The real stories behind Gregory Roberts, John Killick and Australia's most daring prison escapes

In his global bestselling novel Shantaram, Gregory Roberts based his fiction on fact. He was once Australia's most wanted man—a prison escapee who went on to live an extraordinary life in India and beyond.

John Killick's helicopter escape from Silverwater Jail in 1999 was the most spectacular and daring prison break in Australian history. But what is the truth behind these two legendary men, and the escapes that have become folklore?

Mark Dapin, author of the critically acclaimed Public Enemies, has had unprecedented access to Killick himself along with numerous former prisoners and associates from as far away as Mumbai, and a wealth of new evidence including ASIO files to help him uncover a hidden criminal world of prison brutality, courage, violence and myth.

Prison Break tells the real story behind Australia's most daring prison escapes, and shows that sometimes the truth is more compelling than the myth.

Brandon Jack

Allen & Unwin

9781760876777 | $29.99 | © | PB | Memoir

A brutally honest memoir that completely rethinks what it means to be a man

How does one come to be? Continually told he was born with footballing blood, Brandon Jack has spent his life uncertain of the relationship he holds with the games he's played. Now a writer and musician, he reflects upon the years spent pursuing what felt like an inevitability—the footballing life.

This is a unique and darkly poetic fly-on-the-wall account of a world which is usually shown in bright lights. Filled with relentlessly driven diary entries, vivid details of life at the fringe, and recounts of binge drinking into oblivion as an escape during his playing days at the Sydney Swans, 28 is a portrayal of the sporting psyche in a way that has never been done before.

But the true beauty of this book lies in the space between football. Laid bare on these pages, a cuttngly honest deep-dive into sport, addiction, art, sexuality, masculinity, love, family and identity.

Brandon Jack is a singer/musician who played for the Sydney Swans for five years.

BAD BOY BOOGIE

The true story of AC/DC legend Bon Scott

Jeff Apter

Allen & Unwin

9781760877910 | $32.99 | © | PB | Biography

The life, death and rock'n'roll rollercoaster career of AC/DC frontman Bon Scott

Australia has produced any number of great rock and roll frontmen and women. But none has left quite the same mark as AC/DC's Bon Scott. No-one had the same skill with lyrics as Bon, who called his words 'toilet poetry,' his 'dirty ditties'. Everything Scott delivered, either on stage or in the studio, was done with a nod and a wink and the biggest grin this side of Luna Park. Scott was, in some ways, rock's answer to Paul Hogan, a true Aussie larrikin. He could also vividly depict life on the road, best heard in the classics 'Long Way to the Top' and 'Highway to Hell'.

Scott was always the joker in the AC/DC pack. He'd happily pose for a photographer with a joint dangling from his lips or be interviewed in cut-off shorts with a banana provocatively stuffed into his waistband. Anything to elicit a laugh. The off-stage stories surrounding Scott are the stuff of legend.

Previous biographies have concentrated on the dark side of Bon Scott—especially his premature death at the age of 33—but this is the first to focus on the man's remarkable gifts as a lyricist, frontman and rascal. In short, the real Bon Scott.

Jeff Apter is the bestselling author of more than 20 music biographies and is a former staffer at Rolling Stone. He lives in Wollongong.

THE ARBONAUT

Meg Lowman

Allen & Unwin

9781760876791 | $32.99 | © | PB | Memoir

The botanist and conservationist, nicknamed the 'Real-Life Lorax' by National Geographic, takes us on an adventure into the eighth continent of the world's treetops, along her journey as a scientist and into climate action

One of the world's first tree-top scientists, Meg Lowman is a pioneer in her field—inventing one of the first treetop walkways—and a tireless advocate for the earth having spent decades educating citizens across the globe. In a voice as infectious in its enthusiasm as in its practical optimism, The Arbonaut chronicles her irresistible story.

From climbing solo hundreds of feet into Australia's rainforests to measuring tree growth in the north-eastern United States, from searching the redwoods of the Pacific coast for new life to studying leaf-eaters in Scotland's Highlands, from a bioblitz in Malaysia to conservation planning in India to collaborating with priests in Ethiopia's last forests—Lowman launches us into the life and work of a field scientist and ecologist. She also offers hope, specific plans and recommendations for action; despite devastation across the world, we can still make an immediate and lasting impact against climate change.

Come live among scientists and travel the world (even in a hot-air balloon)! The Arbonaut is the engrossing story of how a nerdy tree climber and the only girl at the science fair grew into an inspiring innovator and international leader.

Meg Lowman is an American biologist, educator, ecologist, writer, editor and public speaker.

The fascinating behind the scenes story of the brash Aussie technology start-up that changed the way a whole generation around the world does their shopping

Millennials love it. Amateur investors made millions out of it, and its founders became billionaires. But professional investors steered clear, regarding it as over-valued. In a few short years, the Australian start up Afterpay has put a rocket under consumer finance and birthed a global industry. It pioneered the four-payments model that allows customers to bypass credit cards for online shopping and budgeting, with the cost borne by the retailer. Five years after it was founded, Afterpay had changed the way a generation went shopping, how brands from big retailers to fashion labels win customers, and how institutions value companies.

Buy Now, Pay Later recounts the dramatic behind-the-scenes story of the founding and rise of Afterpay. It reveals the network of business and personal relationships that enabled the company to finance its speedy growth, and the manoeuvring that enabled it to escape regulation for years, as well as the near-death experiences, and rising concern that it is getting young people hooked on debt. Drawing on years of on the ground reporting, interviews with the founders and other key figures involved in their rollercoaster ride, this is the Afterpay story told in full for the first time.

Jonathan Shapiro and James Eyers are both reporters for The Australian Financial Review.
