

Revolver Pinot Noir 2017

This 100% Pinot Noir comes from a single vineyard in the high elevation region of Gualtallary in the Uco Valley. The nose bursts with crushed raspberries and rose petals surrounded by underlying notes of cinnamon and clove. The palate shows subtle notes of raspberry dusted bacon with a little wild animal quality from being unfiltered and unfined. Bright acid on the finish lets the flavors linger.

REVOLVER

Leo Erazo is the winemaker of Revolver, a project that supports small, family growers in the much lauded Itata subregion of Guarilhue. Guarilhue is known for its old bush vines, its proximity to the Pacific Ocean, and its decomposed granite which is almost identical to Morgon. Much of the grapes from this area are often sold at inexpensive prices and blended in to bulk wines. Leo was motivated to elevate some of his favorite growers and pay them better prices so they can continue to operate their vineyards and incentivize them to continue to farm organically. We currently import Revolver Pais which is comprised of fruit from four vineyards, Leo's and three other families, all of which are smaller than two hectares, and in Leo's words are crazy old vines. Leo's home and winery are located atop a cliff in Cobquecura overlooking the Pacific Ocean.
