Game 19 - Pacific 76, Pepperdine 66: The Pacific men's basketball team defeated Pepperdine 76-66 on Saturday, Jan. 25. The Tigers improved to 11-8 overall and 2-6 in West Coast Conference play. Pepperdine dropped to 12-10 and 5-5 in WCC play. The Tigers fell behind 8-4, but a pair of three-pointers from senior Tony Gill and Aaron Short and four points from senior Sama Taku gave the Tigers a 16-12 lead with 12:29 to play in the half. Pepperdine evened it up at 22-22, but five points from Taku jump-started a 10-2 run that gave Pacific a 32-24 lead with 6:38 left. The ebb and flow of the game then went the Waves' way, as five players scored in a 14-4 run to give Pepperdine a 38-36 lead. A layup from Short evened it up as the game headed to halftime 38-38. In the opening moments of the second half, Pepperdine took a 45-38 lead with a 7-0 start. Senior Andrew Bock then started a 14-0 run with a pair of layups as the Tigers held Pepperdine scoreless for seven minutes and switched it to a 52-45 advantage with 10:33 to play. Pacific's defense stepped up, forcing nine missed shots and five turnovers in the stretch. After a layup by the Waves' Amadi Udenyi, the Tigers pushed the lead to 10 (60-50), getting five points from Gill. A pair of free throws from Pepperdine's Stacy Davis cut the Tigers' lead to 64-58 with 4:11 to play, but a jumper by senior Ross Rivera and a layup from Gill pushed the lead back to 10 (68-58) and it would not fall below seven the rest of the way. Taku led the Tigers with 18 points, while Gill added 17 and Bock scored 12. Senior Trevin Harris had a career-high six assists and three steals. The Tigers shot 56.0% from the field (28-50) and 50.0% from three-point range (7-14). The Waves shot just 31.3% (10-32) from the field in the second half, to finish at 42.1% (24-57) for the game. The 2013-14 Tigers:

The Pacific men's basketball team has begun a new era of Tiger Basketball with first year head coach Ron Verlin and a return to the West Coast Conference.

Pacific finished the 2012-13 season with a record of 22-13 and highlighted by its ninth trip to the NCAA Tournament. Last season was also the 25th and final season as head coach for Bob Thomason. The Tigers were 13-5 in Big West Conference play to finish second in the regular season, but won three games in three days to claim the Big West Tournament title and advance to Austin, Texas for an NCAA Tournament Second Round matchup with Miami. The Tigers return eight letterwinners, including seven seniors from last year's team. Sama Taku started all 35 games last year and is the top returning scorer with 8.1 points per game, while center Khalil Kelley was at mid-court for the opening tip in all but one game in 2012-13. Also returning for their final year for the Tigers are Ross Rivera (7.6 points per game), Tony Gill (Big West Tournament MVP), Trevin Harris (22 three-pointers), Andrew Bock (15 assists, 3 steals) and Tim Thomas (54.3% from the field). Also returning is junior Spencer Llewellyn (8 appearances). There are seven newcomers to the court for Pacific in 2013-14, with four incoming student-athletes and three players who redshirted last year. Junior Aaron Short, along with freshmen Aaron Hendricks and Thomas Peters each redshirted in 2012-13. Gabriel Aguirre is a junior transfer from City College of San Francisco, where he helped the team to an undefeated regular season. T.J. Wallace and Ray Bowles were teammates at Modesto Christian High School, both entering Pacific this year looking to make an immediate impact. David Taylor has a wealth of international experience, coming to the Tiger program as a freshman from Germany.

PACIFIC REJOINS THE WEST COAST CONFERENCE: A new beginning for Pacific Athletics began on July 1, 2013, as the Tigers return to the West Coast Conference became official. Pacific will field a team in 10 of the Conference's 14 sponsored sports – including softball, which will be played under the West Coast Conference banner for the first time in 2014. Pacific was one of five founding members of the WCC (then the California Basketball Association) in 1952-53 and remained in the Conference until 1971. "The West Coast Conference is delighted to welcome back University of the Pacific as our 10th member institution," said University of San Diego President Mary E. Lyons, PhD. "Pacific has a rich tradition of strong academics and competitive athletics and will fit right in with our other WCC schools. We look forward to competing with them and working with them to build an even stronger conference whose teams regularly participate in post-season tournaments and national championships." "We are delighted to be part of the West Coast Conference once again," said University of the Pacific President Pamela A. Eibeck. "This is a conference that celebrates the values we hold dear at Pacific: high-quality academics; great teaching; serious athletic competition; and developing the whole student, including their intellectual, social, physical, and spiritual growth." Pacific joined current WCC members Saint Mary's College, the University of San Francisco and Santa Clara University, as well as San Jose State, as the five founding members of the California Basketball Association. The league began play on January 2, 1953, as a convenient way for five Northern California schools to play basketball. The league became the West Coast Athletic Conference in 1956 after adding both Loyola Marymount University and Pepperdine University in 1955. Pacific left the WCAC in 1971, and since that time, the Conference has added the University of Portland (1976), Gonzaga University (1979), the University of San Diego (1979) and Brigham Young University (2011) and shortened its name to the West Coast Conference. The University of the Pacific has enjoyed an impressive recent history of men's basketball success, with NCAA Tournament appearances in 2004, 2005, 2006 and 2013. The Tigers upset fifth-seeded Providence in the 2004 NCAA Tournament, and after receiving an at-large bid as a No. 8 seed in 2005, posted an opening round win over Pittsburgh. Pacific made its third straight NCAA appearance in 2006 and fell in overtime to fourth-seeded Boston College. Pacific has enjoyed success in women's sports, as well, winning the Big West Conference women's basketball title and establishing a new school record with 27 wins in 2013. The Tiger softball team was the 2011 Big West champion, winning 37 games. Both of Pacific's NCAA Championships have come in women's volleyball with back-to-back national titles in 1985 and 1986 amidst a stretch of 24 consecutive NCAA Tournament appearances. Pacific will join in the WCC in 2013-14 in baseball, men's and women's basketball, women's cross country, men's golf, women's soccer, softball, men's and women's tennis and women's volleyball. Men's Soccer will be added as a varsity sport at Pacific beginning in 2014. "We are excited to welcome back the University of the Pacific in what is another historic day for the West Coast Conference," said WCC Commissioner Jamie Zaninovich. "The return of the University of the Pacific adds a private, like-minded institution to our membership, which shares the common bond of an aligned emphasis on combining excellence in academics and holistic education with excellence in athletics. Pacific has a phenomenal history of competitive success in our conference sports – including men's basketball, as evidenced by their participation in the NCAA tournament this March – and we anticipate continued success in the future." "This is an important day for Pacific Athletics, as we return to the West Coast Conference," said Ted Leland, PhD, Pacific Vice President for External Relations and Athletics. "We are looking forward to a high level of competition with this outstanding set of institutions. We have already seen an increased level of anticipation and excitement as we head into the 2013-14 school year."

The Tigers won 80-78, with Gill scoring over a quarter of the team's points. Gill scored 12 of his points in the final 11:41 of the game, hitting five clutch shots. His first two shots brought the Tigers back to within two and one, and gave the team a one-point lead (58-57) with a 3-pointer at 8:34. Nevada took another another two-point lead and Tony again hit a trey to give the Tigers another one-point advantage (74-73). Gill's final basket was a layup with just under a minute left to give the team yet another lead at 76-75 on the way to the 80-78 win. His last four field goals were lead-taking baskets. The Tigers open up the season 1-0 with a win in their first Head Coach Ron Verlin's first game. The Wolf Pack switched it up with a 12-0 run to take a 26-22 lead with 7:20 remaining. Nevada led 42-37 at the break. The Wolf Pack stretched the lead to its largest at 55-47 at the 13:36 mark, but the Tigers immediately eyed it up with an 8-0 stretch started by four straight from senior Ross Rivera. The teams traded the lead four times and had four ties as the game was tied for the seventh time at 61-61. Nevada again took a five point lead, but three-pointers from senior Trevin Harris and Gill gave Pacific a 67-66 advantage with 5:14 to play. A 7-0 Nevada run put the Tigers in a tough situation, as Pacific then trailed 75-67 with just 3:38 to play. The game of runs continued though, as the Tigers then scored seven straight 22 baskets by Rivera and senior Khalil Kelley and another run-ending three-pointer from Gill to lead 74-73 with 2:11 remaining. Deonte Burton hit a jumper in the lane to give Nevada the lead back and a layup by Gill and a pair of free throws took the Tiger lead to 78-75 with just :44 left. A three-pointer by Marquize Coleman evened it for the final time at 78-78, before Bock's game-winning. Bock held the ball for the final :19 second possession, hitting the layup with :05 left. A three-pointer by Burton was just off the mark for Nevada. Gill scored 12 of his career-high 22 points in the second half. Rivera had 14 points, Taku added 13 and Harris had 11 points.
