AGGIES TAKE ON McNEESE STATE, BYU IN PROVO

A PERFECT START

UC Davis was firing on all cylinders in the opening weekend, defeating two Power 5 teams in its first two games of the season. The Aggies impressed in the four-set victory over hosts Arizona, and went on to continue their outstanding form with another win in four sets, this time against North Carolina of the ACC.

FANTASTIC FRESHMAN

UC Davis saw significant contributions from five freshman in the opening weekend. Ally Chandler and Reese Diersbock cracked the starting lineup in both matches and came through with some excellent performances. Chandler tallied seven block assists to go along with her six kills in the victory over Arizona and followed it up with another impressive display against North Carolina, racking up seven kills while getting involved in six blocks. Diersbock turned heads in her debut weekend with a pair of 10-kill games while hitting .278.

Mia Starr showed outstanding composure in her first collegiate action, notching 17 assists in the season opener before providing 14 assists in the next contest. Allie Caldwell registered 10 block assists over the two contests while Breeze Czapinski saw some time at the outside hitter spot, posting four kills against Arizona.

LIVING UP TO THE HYPE: Olivia Utterback of UC Davis women's volleyball has been named to the 2023 Big West Preseason Coaches' Team, announced Friday by league officials.

Olivia Utterback received All-Big West Honorable Mention recognition following her excellent sophomore season. The opposite from Plainfield, Ind. finished second on the team with 265 kills and 335 points. She posted a team-high 35 service aces in 2022 and will bring a veteran presence to the Aggies' locker room. Her 335.5 points and 2.84 points-per-set was good for second on the team, as Utterback will likely receive most of the swings in 2023.

AGGIES SUFFER SETBACK

UC Davis was unable to keep the win streak alive on Tuesday evening at the Alex G. Spanos Center when Pacific grabbed a 3-1 (23-25, 28-26, 24-26, 20-25) victory inside its own gym.

The Aggies hit just .121 as a team in what proved to be a tough night on the offensive end. Three Tigers finished in double-digits with Biamba Kabengele leading the way with her game-high 18 kills.

DAN CONNERS

Head Coach
10th Year
UCLA '01

Taking over as the 10th head coach in program history prior to the 2014 season, Dan Connors enters his tenth year at the helm of the UC Davis women's volleyball program in 2023.

Previously the top assistant at the University of Illinois, the Apple Valley, Calif., native returned to the Golden State for his first head coaching position after also serving as an assistant coach with the CSUN men's volleyball program and on the sidelines with two other elite women's programs at Nebraska and UCLA.

Currently ranking fourth on the Aggies' all-time wins list after becoming only the fourth women's volleyball coach in school history to reach 100 career victories in 2021, Connors has accumulated 104 career wins and has posted seasons at .500 or better in five of his eight years on the bench at the University Credit Union Center.

His 2019 squad posted the highest single-season victory total since the 2012 campaign (17-14), while the nine wins in Big West Conference play were the most since 2015 (10-6) as UC Davis made its first postseason appearance in the program's Division I history — and the first since the 1996 NCAA Division II Tournament — with a berth in the National Invitational Volleyball Championship against Tulsa.

Ending the year in a tie for fourth, it also marked the fourth time in his six years that the Aggies have finished in the top half of the always difficult Big West.

All told, he has mentored a total of 37 Big West All-Academic Team honorees and a total of 18 players who have been named to the All-Big West team — including 11 first-team selections and seven named to the all-freshman team.

Before arriving in Northern California, Connors spent two years at Illinois, helping lead the Illini to an 18-15 overall record and a berth in the NCAA Tournament in 2013, posting 10 wins over AVCA Top 25 programs.

Prior to his stint in Champaign, he spent the 2011 season as the recruiting coordinator and defensive coordinator for former AVCA Coach of the Year John Cook at Nebraska, helping the Huskers lead the Big Ten in opponent hitting percentage and capturing the league title in its conference debut season.

That followed a five-year stint alongside head coaches Andy Banachowski and Mike Sealy at his alma mater, UCLA, from 2006-10, playing a role in recruiting the players that led the Bruins to the 2011 national title. In his five years in Westwood, UCLA finished 124-44 overall and made five trips to the NCAA Tournament, including a trip to the 2006 national semifinals and the 2007 "Elite Eight."

Under his tutelage, the Bruins led the then Pac-10 Conference in blocks three times (2006, 2008, 2009) and held opponents to a .187 hitting percentage or worse each year.

Connors' coaching career began in the Big West at CSUN, where he was the top assistant for the Matadors' men's volleyball team from 2004-06, compiling a 56-36 overall record. He also was the head coach of the Southern California Volleyball Club Boys Under-18 team, the Sportsshack Volleyball Club Girls U-15 and -16 teams, and a coach for the West Coast Volleyball Club.

As a player, Connors was a member of the Bruins' 2001 team that finished as a national runner-up. He graduated from UCLA with a bachelor's degree in political science in 2001 after setting for four Bruins' squads that reached the national championship match — including titles in 1998 and 2000, and a second runner-up finish in 1997.

Following his collegiate career, Connors played professionally in Spain as a setter for the Almoradi Volleyball Club in 2001-02, leading the club to a first-place league finish and the semifinals of the playoffs.

He has three sons: Mason, Wyatt, and Oliver.
