Big 12 Competition

This week's slate vs. No. 4 Texas and No. 27 Baylor marks the program's third and fourth matches in a row against top-30 opponents. Big 12 play includes seven contests, with four at home and three on the road.

Big Opportunities

Saturday's match against No. 27 Baylor will be BYU's first time facing four straight ranked opponents since the 2018-19 campaign. Across both singles and doubles, the Bears have three ranked athletes.

Ranked Wins

Wally Thayne has secured two ranked wins in the past two weeks, first defeating No. 70 Isaac Becroft (No. 25 Oklahoma State) on March 22 in singles and then taking down No. 53 Eliot Spizzirri/Siem Woldeab (No. 4 Texas) with Zach Fuchs on March 28. Thayne and Fuchs are 8-4 at No. 1 doubles together this season.

Setting the Tone

Doubles play has proven pivotal. In 10 of BYU's 11 wins this season, the team has secured the doubles point. In their six losses, the Cougars have not recorded a doubles point win yet.

Senior Day Special

Saturday's match is Senior Day, a day to honor and celebrate seniors Jack Barnett and Kobe Tran. Both have been proven leaders, contributing to BYU men's tennis since 2018.
