- The first night game in WVU history was played at Forbes Field in Pittsburgh on Sept. 19, 1930, between WVU and Duquesne (W/7-0).

MORGANTOWN, W.Va. (Sept. 27, 2025) - Utah visited Morgantown for the first time and left with a convincing 48-14 victory in front of 53,965 fans at Milan Puskar Stadium.

The two teams had met twice previously on a neutral field with Utah winning both contests. This was the first Big 12 Conference meeting between the two teams and one the Mountaineers would soon like to forget.

With starting quarterback Nicco Marchiol out with a foot injury, Jaylen Henderson got his first start in a West Virginia uniform, and the visiting Utes were not too friendly.

The Mountaineers were unable to sustain drives in the first half and totaled only 95 yards after two quarters of play. The passing game totaled 22 yards as the Utah defense continued to put its offense in good position. Utah ran 45 plays to West Virginia's 22 in the first half.

Utah took a 14-0 lead after one quarter of play, scoring on both of its possessions in the quarter. Tight end JJ Buchanan caught a 7-yard touchdown pass from quarterback Devon Dampier to get the scoring started, ending a 12-play, 73-yard drive.

On its next drive, the Utes marched 65 yards in 11 plays and scored on Dampier's 7-yard touchdown run. Despite having only two drives, Utah controlled the ball more than nine minutes, which set the tone for the rest of the game.

Two more touchdowns by the visitors in the second quarter gave them a 28-0 advantage at halftime. A 32-yard strike by Dampier to receiver Ryan Davis, followed by a 15-play, 94-yard possession, ending with another Dampier touchdown pass, put the Utes completely in control.

The Utes took the opening drive of the third quarter 63 yards to extend their lead to 35-0 when Dampier connected with Wayshawn Parker for an 11-yard touchdown reception.

West Virginia changed quarterbacks at the half and finally got on the board at the 7:28 mark of the third quarter. Khalil Wilkins was now in charge of the offense, and he finished a 75-yard drive with a 39-yard touchdown pass to receiver Cam Vaughn to put the score at 35-7.

Even with a big lead, Utah did not take its foot off the gas and added a 33-yard field goal from kicker Dillon Curtis, for a 38-7 margin heading to the fourth.

Another 10-point quarter by the visitors saw Curtis add another 33-yard field goal before Utah's final points came on backup quarterback Byrd Ficklen's 2-yard completion to Bryce Duke, finishing a 75-yard drive.

In between the two Utah scores, West Virginia added its second touchdown, as a 68-yard run from receiver Jarod Bowie set up a 1-yard rush from Diore Hubbard. Wilkins led both WVU scoring drives in the second half.

Davis turned in a 107-yard receiving day for the Utes, while Dampier completed 21-of-26 passes for 237 yards and four touchdowns. With Dampier's rushing touchdown, he accounted for five scores.

Final statistics showed Utah with 242 yards rushing and 290 passing for 532 yards of total offense. The Utes never punted in the game. West Virginia had a better second half offensively and finished with 261 yards rushing and 85 passing for 346 total yards. The Utes racked up 33 first downs to WVU's 14 and controlled the ball nearly 10 minutes more than the Mountaineers.

With the win, Utah is now 3-0 all-time against West Virginia and 1-0 in Big 12 play.

MORGANTOWN, W.Va. (Aug. 30, 2025) - Rich Rodriguez's second tenure at West Virginia got started on a winning note after a summer of fanfare and excitement.

The Mountaineers responded with a convincing 45-3 win over Robert Morris in front of 57,093 fans dressed in gold at Milan Puskar Stadium.

West Virginia started fast and scored on its first drive of the second Rodriguez era by putting together a 10-play, 83-yard drive in 3:22 that ended with a 10-yard touchdown run from quarterback Nicco Marchiol.

The Mountaineers upped their advantage to 10-0 at the 11:44 mark of the second quarter when kicker Kade Hensley converted a 27-yard field goal.

But turnovers quickly became the topic of conversation as the Mountaineers fumbled four times in the first half and lost three, resulting in unfinished drives and a seven-point lead at the half.

Robert Morris took advantage of one of the fumbles from the home team and converted a 36-yard field goal from Jayson Jenkins to put the halftime score at 10-3 in favor of West Virginia.

West Virginia's seven-point lead quickly became 14 as the Mountaineers responded with a 64-yard scoring drive to start the third quarter. Running back Jahiem White's 1-yard scoring run put the Mountaineers up 17-3.

White came back two drives later to score his second touchdown on a 4-yard scamper, putting the score at 24-3. The scoring drive was set up by WVU turning the table on the Colonials by forcing and recovering a fumble from RMU quarterback Zach Tanner.

While the defense continued to keep Robert Morris at bay, the offense closed the game with three fourth-quarter touchdowns.

Marchiol threw his first touchdown pass of the season on a 46-yard completion to receiver Cam Vaughn, who made one of the best over-the-head catches one will see in the college game.

Leading 31-3, the Mountaineers marched 54 yards in four plays to open a 38-3 advantage on running back Cyncir Bowers' 26-yard run. Bowers' rushing accounted for 45 of the 54 yards in the drive.

To close the scoring, true freshman quarterback Scotty Fox Jr. saw his collegiate career get started in exciting fashion, as he broke loose for a 59-yard touchdown run to put the exclamation point on the 42-point victory.

Marchiol was efficient in completing 17-of-20 passes and accounting for 224 yards. White led the potent WVU rushing attack with 94 yards and two scores, while Vaughn had a strong WVU debut with seven catches for 126 yards. Linebacker Chase Wilson led the defense with six tackles.

Ethan Shine paced the Robert Morris ground game with 20 yards, and Tanner completed seven passes against the stingy WVU defense for 70 yards. Patrick McDonnell led the RMU defense with 12 tackles, nine of which were solo.

Despite the turnovers, West Virginia turned in a big offensive day. The Mountaineers finished with 393 yards rushing and 232 passing to total an impressive 625 yards of offense. The Colonials finished with 53 yards on the ground and 70 through the air for 123 yards of total offense.

Unlike his debut at West Virginia in 2001 which was a loss at Boston College, Rodriguez started his second tenure with a victory, giving him 61 all-time at West Virginia and moving him into a tie for second place on the school's all-time win list.

ATHENS, OHIO (Sept. 6, 2025) - A bad day at the office is a good way to describe West Virginia's first road game of the season as the Mountaineers came up on the short end of a 17-10 verdict at Ohio's Peden Stadium.

A sold out crowd of 26,740 anxiously awaited the Mountaineers as many wondered why West Virginia would schedule an away game in the Mid-American Conference. In the end, the Bobcats kept the ball more than 20 minutes longer than the Mountaineers and ran 23 more offensive plays to secure the victory.

West Virginia's day started well as the Mountaineers grabbed a 7-0 first-quarter lead. A 31-yard completion from quarterback Nicco Marchiol to receiver Cam Vaughn set up a 32-yard touchdown run by running back Jahiem White. The drive covered 89 yards in six plays.

Ohio answered before the end of the quarter, converting on a 37-yard field goal from Brack Peacock to end a six-play, 60-yard scoring drive.

Trailing 7-3 after the first quarter, the Bobcats made the second quarter their own by outscoring the Mountaineers 14-0 and taking a 17-7 advantage into the locker room at the half.

Ohio took the lead at the 2:31 mark by taking 6:00 off the clock en route to a 71-yard, 12-play drive that saw running back Sieh Bangura power in from 1 yard out.

After holding the Mountaineers on three plays on the ensuing drive, the Bobcats struck again with what would end up being the winning score. Quarterback Parker Navarro connected with receiver Chase Hendricks for a 31-yard scoring strike, giving the home team the 10-point edge at the break.

The Mountaineers got the first possession of the third quarter and scored their only points of the second half at the 12:30 mark. Marching 51 yards in seven plays, the visitors added a 38-yard field goal from kicker Kade Hensley to cut the deficit to 17-10.

Despite three second-half interceptions from the Mountaineer defense and holding the Bobcats scoreless in the final two quarters, six WVU offensive possessions could not put any additional points on the board, sealing the Bobcat victory.

Injuries also took a toll on the Mountaineers, who lost two of their offensive playmakers early in the contest. White left in the second quarter after averaging 6.7 yards per rush, while receiver Jaden Bray also did not make it past the third quarter after accounting for 69 receiving yards. Linebacker Reid Carrico was also an injury casualty early in the first quarter, forcing adjustments on the WVU defense.

Despite playing less than two quarters, White finished with 40 yards rushing, while Marchiol ended with 178 yards passing. WVU's defense was led by Fred Perry with 10 tackles, two tackles for loss, one sack and two pass breakups.

Ohio got a nice performance from Navarro. Despite the three interceptions, the veteran finished with 247 yards passing and 87 rushing to lead the offense. Hendricks was Navarro's favorite target hauling in eight catches for 121 yards. DJ Walker, Jack Fries and Michael Molnar contributed seven tackles each in Ohio's defensive effort.

Final numbers showed West Virginia with 72 yards rushing and 178 passing for 250 yards of offense. The homestanding Bobcats rushed for 182 yards and added 247 passing to finish with 429 total yards.

Ohio's win broke a four-game WVU winning streak in the series as the two teams ended the day with 1-1 records after two games.

MORGANTOWN, W.Va. (Sept. 13, 2025) - The 108th edition of the "Backyard Brawl" continued to show the sports world why it is one the best rivalries in college football.

For the second straight year, the winner erased a 10-point fourth-quarter deficit, and this time it was West Virginia that fought back to claim a 31-24 victory in overtime.

A crowd of 62,108 was on hand at Milan Puskar Stadium and once again the "Backyard Brawl" did not disappoint. Momentum swings throughout the game entertained the sold-out stadium as well as an ESPN national audience.

After both teams missed field goals in the first quarter, West Virginia struck first with 11:51 left in the second on a 12-yard touchdown run from running back Tye Edwards.

The Panthers got on the board with 1:37 left before halftime, when kicker Trey Butkowski made good on a 23-yard kick, putting the score at 7-3 in favor of the Mountaineers at the break.

West Virginia started the third quarter strong, using a 56-yard pass completion from true freshman quarterback Scotty Fox Jr. to receiver Justin Smith-Brown to set up a 1-yard plunge from Edwards, giving WVU a 14-3 lead.

Pitt answered with a 75-yard drive in just five plays. After a 67-yard completion, quarterback Eli Holstein scored on a 1-yard run and then converted a two-point conversion, trimming the WVU lead to 14-11.

Two straight interceptions by Fox, who was in relief of starter Nicco Marchiol, led to the Panthers taking their first lead of the game. Credit the WVU defense for keeping the Mountaineers in the game as the unit held the Panthers to field goals after both turnovers.

Leading 17-14, Pitt took command at the 9:23 mark of the fourth. With a struggling Mountaineer offense trying to find its rhythm, Holstein connected with Raphael Williams on a 14-yard touchdown pass, giving the Panthers a 24-14 advantage.

However, Marchiol re-entered the game and ignited the WVU offense. A 72-yard drive resulted in a 21-yard field goal by Kade Hensley. After the defense forced a Pitt punt, Marchiol had 2:47 to tie the game, and he engineered a 13-play, 87-yard drive that ended with a 2-yard pass to tight end Grayson Barnes to force overtime.

Overtime saw the Mountaineers use eight plays to set up Edwards for his third touchdown in the game. After Edwards converted on a key fourth-down carry, his 1-yard run gave the advantage back to the Mountaineers at 31-24.

Just as it did so many times in regulation, the WVU defense came up big in overtime. Four plays from scrimmage resulted in a loss of 10 yards for Pitt and the Mountaineers claimed the come-from-behind win.

To go along with his three touchdowns, Edwards rushed for 141 yards. Marchiol added veteran leadership and accounted for 192 yards passing, while the Mountaineer defense held the Pitt rushing attack to just 46 total yards.

Overall, West Virginia finished with 174 yards on the ground and 260 in the air for 434 yards. Along with Pitt's 46 yards on the ground, the Panthers added 303 yards passing from Holstein to end with 349 offensive yards.

The rivalry will take a three-year break before resuming in 2029. In the current four-game block, the home team won every game as each team went 2-2 over the four-year stretch.

LAWRENCE, KANSAS (Sept. 20, 2025) - The 2025 Big 12 Conference opener did not go as planned as Kansas jumped out to an early 10-0 lead and never looked back in defeating West Virginia 41-10 before a crowd of 40,320 at David Booth Kansas Memorial Stadium.

Despite totaling some solid offensive numbers by the game's end, the West Virginia offense could never get rolling. Kansas used nearly eight minutes more possession time to wear down the Mountaineer defense, outscoring WVU, 21-7, in the second half.

It didn't take long for the Jayhawks to set the tone as quarterback Jalon Daniels conducted a 50-yard scoring drive in just four plays on the team's first possession. Daniels connected with receiver Levi Wentz for a 41-yard scoring strike three minutes into the game for a 7-0 advantage.

The lead stayed at seven points until the second quarter, when kicker Laith Marjan kicked the first of his two field goals. His 42-yarder gave Kansas a 10-0 lead with 10:25 remaining in the half.

The Mountaineers got on the board at the 3:43 mark, when kicker Kade Hensley's field goal attempt was good from 26 yards. The drive covered 49 yards in nine plays and cut the WVU deficit to 10-3.

But Kansas answered the score with two of its own before the half ended to take a 20-3 lead.

Daniels completed a 39-yard touchdown pass to Leshon Williams before leading a 38-yard drive to set up a Marjan 44-yard field goal. It was Daniels' 28-yard rush on 3rd-and-10 that kept the drive alive in the closing seconds.

As much as West Virginia needed a big turnaround, the third quarter spelled doom for the Mountaineers, as the Jayhawks outscored the visitors 14-0.

Emmanuel Henderson took the quarter's opening kickoff 94 yards for a touchdown, giving Kansas a 27-3 advantage. The Jayhawks added another Daniels touchdown pass at the 6:43 mark as his 7-yard toss to Boden Groen ended a 12-play, 7:00 possession for the Jayhawks.

The Mountaineers scored their only touchdown in the game at the 14:31 mark of the fourth, when backup quarterback Jaylen Henderson rushed in from 13 yards. Henderson also added runs of 7, 8, 12 and 32 yards in the 95-yard drive.

However, Kansas again answered the WVU score and ended the game's scoring at the 12:52 mark with a 62-yard run from Williams to put the home team up 41-10.

Daniels finished the game with 69 yards rushing and 138 passing, but his mobility in the pocket, along with three touchdown passes caused the most damage for the Mountaineers. Williams rushed for 129 yards and collected a rushing and receiving touchdown in the victory.

Henderson's short stint in the game proved to be enough to lead the Mountaineers in rushing with 79 yards. Nicco Marchiol collected 126 yards passing, while four WVU defenders finished with four tackles each.

As lopsided as the game was, you could not tell by the final statistics turned in by the two teams. West Virginia rushed for 182 yards and passed for 142 to total 324 yards. Kansas collected 242 yards on the ground and 146 passing for 388 total yards. Special teams were the difference as the Jayhawks got help in a big way with 199 return yards.

Despite the loss, West Virginia has won nine of the last 11 meetings against Kansas and now leads the overall series by an 11-3 count.
