HORIZONS

What could birdwatching possibly teach us about how we live and work? What larger lessons can we learn from studying microcosms? This Lab will offer participants an occasion to retreat from C2 Montreal's hustle and bustle and to observe the natural phenomena occurring all around us.

TRANSPARENT

It takes seven seconds to forge a first impression of someone. In a mirror-clad room, partake in a collective reflection on appearances and tackle notions of storytelling and diversity as we engage in a redefinition of best practices for the 21st century workplace.
