

Few words about the application history, I am a private person who founded Stop Them, together with a talented developer whom I met on LinkedIn. As private people we were driven from the curiosity to evaluate whether our phone is used to monitor us without our knowledge. Unlike large cooperate or organization which are often business driven, we develop the application in such way that it doesn't do any use of personal data (pictures, contacts, etc.) and doesn't have any communication to external backend servers.

I established a Facebook community, called Stop Them, to get people discuss and contribute to this topic, and I encourage you to join us. There you can also raise doubts or concerns if you have any and we will do our best to correct our product accordingly.

As we received more and more concerns from people regarding camera and microphone notifications (which were not initiated by the user), we have decided to enable a camera blocking feature. To enable such feature on android (based on our research) the feature require administrative rights to the phone, I know it can rise concerns but all products on the store which provide such feature, uses the same principles (admin rights). What I can promise you that as private people we cannot afford dealing with illegal acts and that the product we published is safe, yet if you have concerns about applications which uses admin rights, please do not install it.

Privacy Policy

I built the Stop Them app as a freemium app, meaning the service of using the application does no cost and is intended for use as is.

This policy page is used to inform users (who intend to download and install the application from Google Store) about my terms of usage regarding the collection, usage, and disclosure of personal information.

Please note that your personal information is regarded by me as your private data and I will not share your information with anyone.

The application will make minimal attempts to use device data, and no attempt to collect personal data.

If you choose to install Stop Them application, then it means you agree to personal privacy rules and guidelines described in this policy.

In addition the application requires Administrative rights to enable and disable the Camera on your mobile device (not switching on or off but enabling and disabling), the application will explicitly ask you for your approval each and every time you choose to use the feature. For more details about the feature please visit Google Store.

Information Collection and Use

For a better experience, while using our application, I may collect certain information such microphone usage tests and Camera turn on turn off events. The information that I request is retained on your mobile device and is not collected by me in any way. More over the information I collect is not saved to any repository and truncated after it was collected.

The app by any mean does NOT share information with third party services.

Please note that the app may use Google Admob services in the advertisement banner; Google's Admob service is a third party service that may use certain information which I am not responsible to. More over Admob may redirect you by clicking its links to third-party sites. Note that these external sites are not operated by me. Therefore, I strongly advise you to review the Privacy Policy of these websites. I have no control over and assume no responsibility for the content, privacy policies, or practices of any third-party sites or services.

Log Data

Currently we do not collect any Log Data from your phone, in case of application crash and errors in the application, please use the contact details below to inform us about the malfunction so that I will be able to do necessary actions.

Changes to This Privacy Policy

I may update our Privacy Policy from time to time. Thus, you are advised to review this page periodically for any changes. I will notify you of any changes by posting the new Privacy Policy on this page. I will also use the Stop Them community page on Facebook to notify the users of the change.

These changes are effective immediately after they are posted on this page.

Contact Us

If you have any questions or suggestions about my Privacy Policy, do not hesitate to contact me.

On stop.them.info@gmail.com

Or visit Stop Them community on Facebook