

Acknowledgements

We wish to take this opportunity to express our appreciation to the various organizations and individuals without whose assistance the Conference and this volume would not have been possible. One of us (R.W.W.) wishes to thank the Natural Sciences and Engineering Research Council of Canada and the USSR Academy of Sciences who made it possible to plan the conference and this volume by visiting fire scientists in the USSR. The University of New Brunswick provided support for a visit to Finland and Sweden for the same purpose. The Australian National University and the Commonwealth Scientific and Industrial Research Organization provided considerable secretarial support during 1978 to 1979 while R.W.W. was on sabbatical.

Financial support of the Conference was provided by the President's Fund and the Vice-President's Academic Development Fund of the University of New Brunswick, by SCOPE (Scientific Committee on Problems of the Environment of ICSU) and by the UNESCO MAB (Man and the Biosphere) programme. The Conference was held by the University of New Brunswick Fire

Science Centre at Le Centre Communautaire Sainte-Anne in Fredericton, New Brunswick, Canada. We would like to acknowledge the assistance of A.J. Kayll, I.R. Methven, J.S. Rowe, and F.R. Steward in acting as Chairmen of conference sessions.

We also must acknowledge the work of the Fire Science Centre staff. J.M. Moore acted as Conference Secretary and organized many of the local arrangements with E.A. Richard, R.T. Day, M.A. El-Bayoumi, M.A. Flinn, and G.R. O'Donnell.

In preparing the volume for publication we thank a number of authors of the contributed papers who acted as reviewers. We also recognize the following additional persons who kindly provided peer evaluations:
