The Cost of Invisibility

When a Brighton homeowner searches for an 'emergency plumber near me' at night, and your company isn't listed first, you lose a job that could pay for your week. What is the primary reason a plumbing business loses these jobs?

Why Customers Don't Scroll

Brighton homeowners searching for immediate plumbing help typically call the first few businesses Google shows them. What section of the search results do they primarily rely on?

Google's Ranking Factors

Google ranks businesses based on three main signals for local search. List them:

Local Relevance

For Google to consider your plumbing business relevant to a local search, your online presence must clearly state you serve a specific area. What specific area should Brighton plumbers emphasize on their website and Google Business Profile?

The Power of Reviews

What is the recommended method for plumbers to encourage happy customers to leave reviews, and how quickly can most customers leave a review if the process is simple?

What are Citations?

Citations are mentions of your business name, address, and phone number on other websites. What is the main benefit of having consistent citations for your plumbing business?

SEO vs. Google Ads

While Google Ads can be effective, what is the main drawback for most plumbers, and how does SEO offer a different advantage over time?

Ranking Timeline

If a plumbing business's online presence needs significant work (like optimizing their Google Business Profile and website), approximately how long does it typically take to build momentum and see results?
