Improving Our Quality of Life - Camptonville Town Hall Meeting

By Cathy LeBlanc

We ate; we discussed; we recorded. After enjoying a complimentary dinner, 36 Camptonville neighbors, including seven youth, spoke out at the Camptonville Town Hall Meeting on the issues affecting us. Thank you to harpist Sydney Burdett and to all the volunteers, including 6, 7, 8th grade students (Maddie Brickford, Diane Rogers, Taylor De Maranville, Miya Garcia, Dakota Pratschner and Elliot Tinnel), videographer Elzeard Rapp, and to the Briarpatch Coop for donating the delicious soup!

Group's ideas on the sticky wall to the Camptonville Volunteer Fire Department. Conversely, they noted the slow Sheriff response time and also wondered, "How do we provide services for the homeless and addicts?"

Next, we moved our chairs into a big circle. CCP staff Cathy LeBlanc and Jocelyn Rapp facilitated a discussion to look more deeply into our most pressing issues by posing the question: "What will improve the quality of life in Camptonville?" Four major areas of concern surfaced: Economics, Community Culture, Recreational Opportunities, and Services. Further analysis of the results of the Town Hall Meeting will be printed in the April Courier.

In a little over two hours, folks expressed their interests and concerns. First, we completed a written survey in which we rated 19 current factors in Camptonville. Next, we had small and large group discussions.

Based on the survey results, the following were rated the lowest: Transportation, Housing Availability, and our Economy. Availability of Living Wage Jobs was rated low, yet Home Ownership was rated high. Also rated high were Environmental Quality, Social Cohesion, Trust, and Collective Community Effectiveness, as were our Ethnic, Racial, and Inter-Group Dynamics.

Community Based Organizations and Education and Literacy were rated high, though it was noted that there is little educational opportunity here for teens or adults. Folks gave big kudos

So you can appreciate how pleased I am that Janie Kesselman is working beside me as we lay out the March Courier. This is her first edition, with me acting as guide at her side. Next month, she'll be flying solo while I'm on vacation. Many thanks to my husband Dick for fueling our work sessions with coffee and sandwiches! -Shirley

Cemetery Cleanup March 5th

By Rod & Rochelle

Each year the Camptonville Historical Society's "Friends of the Cemetery" plan a day for maintenance and preservation of our historic and very beautiful cemetery. We consider this special place to be an outdoor history museum, and a spectacular flower show in June when hundreds of lilies are in bloom.

Please join us Saturday, March 5th, at 10 am for Cemetery Cleanup Day. We will provide snacks and beverages. Last year over twenty people showed up bringing rakes, weed eaters, pruners, wheelbarrows, gloves, etc. making it a morning of light work for all. If it rains significantly that day we will move the cleanup forward two weeks to the 19th. For more information, call Rod and Rochelle at 288-3550.

By Christina Ledson, Director, CCC

The Community Center has great news! Because of a very generous anonymous donation, the Center now has a new heater and air conditioner! Thank you to this donor and to all the members of our awesome community who have stepped forward in so many ways.

To complete the installation of the heater and air conditioner, there is some electrical work that needs to be done and paid for. We still need more donations to complete the job. Every contribution moves us closer and closer to the goals our community has set for the Center.

Donations can be sent to CCSD, PO Box 327, Camptonville, CA 95922, with checks made out to Camptonville Community Center.

If you are interested in renting the Center for a private party, please contact Char Jokerst at 288-9320 or rubycj@att.net.

Remembering Rance

By Matthew Osypowski

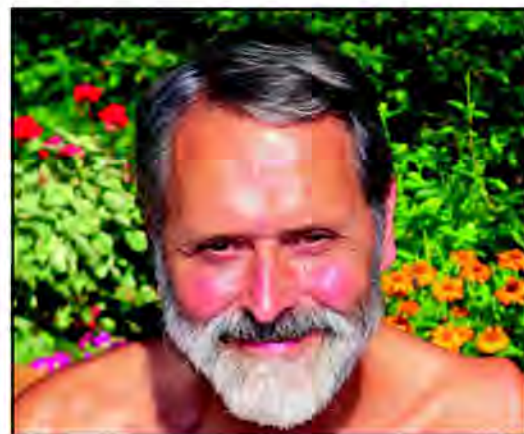

Rance Broda (born Robert Joel) died peacefully in Grass Valley on the morning of the 16th of February at the age of 72. He was born in Chicago on the 30th of July, 1943, and lived at times in Toronto, Reno, and Berkeley before hitchhiking with backpack and guitar to North San Juan in 1971 on a vision quest that would occupy the remainder of his years.

Rance was a stonemason, a planter of trees, a picker of grapes, an undergraduate at Notre Dame, a Master's degree recipient in literature at the University of Toronto, an adjunct professor at Northwestern University, a Montessori teacher, a practitioner of Qi Gong, a student of the poetry of William Butler Yeats, a gardener, a vegetarian, and a dedicated Tibetan Buddhist.

He was above all else a fisherman, a designer of flies, an advocate for clean, free-flowing rivers, and a lover of the Yuba Watershed and all the life contained therein. He served both on the Board of Directors of SYRCL and as co-president of Gold Country Fly-Fishers. He fished extensively on all three forks of the Yuba and lived the last thirty-five years of his life in a house of stone, crystal, log, and tile that he built with his own hands on the bank of Studhorse Creek.

He is survived by Greta Broda, his wife of forty-seven years, his godson Matthew Osypowski, his grand-godson Preston Osypowski, his uncle Raymond Broda and his aunt Lillian Hall, and by half a million trees planted by his hands and the rivers he loved so much and fought so hard to defend.

A memorial and potluck will be held on Sunday, March 6th, 1-4 pm at Oak Tree Lodge at 18847 Oak Tree Road on the San Juan Ridge. For directions or other information, call the San Juan Ridge Family Resource Center at 292-3174. Om Mani Padme Hum.

Yuba River Ranger District

By Cory Richardson

When you look out your window, can you see signs of spring? Grasses are sprouting, and the daffodils and lilacs in your yard may be in full bloom. In the forest, too, signs of spring abound. Look for violets, buttercups, and shooting stars in openings, as well as ceanothus and manzanita flowers in brushy areas. If you look carefully at the manzanita flowers, you may be able to spot tiny holes made by robber bees, which exploit the nectar through these openings without pollinating the flower.

In contrast to the last two months, February has been a dry time, with only 2.01 inches recorded on the rain gauge at the Camptonville Ranger Station. However, the season total since July is a relatively robust 42.49 inches compared to 33.48 inches at the end of February, 2015.

Most National Forest Service system roads will remain closed to wheeled motor vehicles until April 1st for a variety of reasons, including wet roadbeds, snow cover, over-snow vehicle use, and wildlife. However, to facilitate your early spring exploration, the paved portions of 0025 and 0035 in the Brandy City area are open to highway legal vehicles.

With new growth sprouting and vegetation closing in on your house, now is always a good time to maintain defensible space around your home and outbuildings. Burn permits are not currently required to burn natural vegetation from your property, but be sure to call 741-6299 prior to burning to find out if it is a burn day in Yuba County.

Happy spring!

Focused on organic gardening. We carry many soils, amendements, pest control products, fertilizers, tools, irrigation supplies, landscape plants, and local vegetable starts, and much more.

Liam Ruff Is Winner of 2015 Teen Trail Corps Award

By Roy Ruff

The National Interscholastic Cycling Association and the International Mountain Biking Association selected Camptonville's Liam Ruff as the 2015 REI/IMBA Teen Trail Corps award recipient. Liam was recognized from amongst NICA riders nationally for "demonstrating respect, empathy, and compassion towards other trail users by working both on and off the bike to build awareness and care for trails in the community." The award, sponsored by REI, was presented at the 6th annual NICA Awards Banquet at league sponsor Clif Bar headquarters in Emeryville on Saturday, January 30th, 2016.

An accomplished mountain bike racer, the Ghidotti Early College HS senior is a varsity rider for the Nevada Union Miner Mountain Bike team. Liam says that environmental sustainability will remain a focus in his college career, including building and maintaining forest trails for all users. Liam has put countless hours into our local trails on his own, maintaining and scouting downed trees and washouts on the Bullards Bar trail system, and has worked on multiple projects elsewhere in Nevada, Yuba, and Sierra counties through his affiliation with local IMBA branch Bicyclists of Nevada County (BONC) and others sponsored by area trail advocacy groups: Forest Trails Alliance and The Sierra Buttes Trail Stewardship. In his acceptance speech Liam noted, "You is THEY in Mountain Biking, so you need to figure out how to do it, and do it! Don't say someone else should." You can see the full speech by searching Liam Ruff Teen Trail on YouTube. For more information visit <http://www.nationalmtb.org>.

Meet Your Local "Water Guy"... Mark Jokerst, Water Plant Manager

By Linda Rose

Courier readers may know that Mark Jokerst has been managing the Camptonville water plant since summer 2013. He became involved with the water department in 2012 when he was recruited to help Camptonville Community Services District apply for a grant. He had the expertise and knowledge of design and construction management needed to get the grant process rolling.

An application had been initiated in 2012 for a new 220,000 gallon water storage tank, but had not yet been approved. The need for such a tank was twofold: to provide better service to customers and to ensure adequate fire protection for Camptonville. With the existing 64,000 gallon storage tank plus another 30,000 gallons in the sand filter tank, Camptonville had to prove that its water plant did not meet current state requirements for fire protection.

Mark invited State inspectors who determined that the plant, in fact, did not meet the requirements. Funds were approved in 2015, and the new 220,000 tank was installed. Funding to replace two old wells and inaccurate meters was also approved, and the work of drilling the new wells has already begun.

Required by law to possess a license to operate a water plant, Mark took the requisite State classes for one year, obtaining his T-1 entry level status and later his T-2 license. Assisted by Jeff Murphy, Assistant Water Systems Operator, Mark is responsible to ensure that regular monitoring and maintenance on the system occurs and that the water quality meets the Federal "Drinking Water Act" requirements.

Before the severe drought conditions, the typical monthly base rate usage allowance per resident was 20,000 gallons. Because of the serious water shortage, usage had to be reduced to 10,000 gallons. Mark was quick to extend "kudos" to the community for significantly reducing usage. Everyone did their part.

After losing two brothers, Mark decided he wanted more out of life and to get away from the Bay area rat race to live in a place where he could garden and where there was a real sense of community. Mark was motivated when a friend in Nevada City suggested he come out to look around. He saw a parcel in Pike, fell in love with it, and moved in 1999, becoming the Volunteer Fire Chief there. Mark met Char in 2008 during fire training. In 2010 he moved to Camptonville, and he married Char in 2011. Mark served as the Camptonville Volunteer Fire Chief from 2008 to 2013. In addition to his job as the Camptonville Water Plant

Manager, Mark is also a structural engineer.

For fun and relaxation, Mark reads, gardens, plays guitar, does woodworking, backpacks, and wants to do some "wild crafting" (collecting herbs, mushrooms, etc.). He especially likes to write his own songs and to play guitar either alone, with Char (who plays flute), or jamming with other musicians. He also enjoys re-crafting old wood. In the future, he wants to raise farm animals.

What Mark enjoys most about living in Camptonville is the active participation of volunteers and the many entrepreneurs in the community. He believes the amount of talent in Camptonville is "unbelievable! ...a good place to be now and in the future."

Rebel Ridge Organics Special Report

By Jessi Mullins, Owner

We will be opening on March 3rd for the 2016 spring gardening season. Business hours are Thursday, Friday, and Saturday from 9 - 5.

We are thinking about a change this year at Rebel Ridge Organics. With the competition rising and the demand lessening, we are looking at some different ways of creating revenue. Here are our thoughts: the nursery is open only three days a week, and the other two days my loyal helper Max and I take on some small off-site jobs. We could do a variety of things, such as landscape maintenance, small landscape installs, garden preparation, and more. Watch for flyers! I hope everyone enjoyed their winter - I did. Thank you for all your support. Being out in the field more is my true dream, so I feel that this may be my sign and the natural push I need to work harder towards that dream.

The Water Report

By Mark Jokerst, Water Plant Manager

First, the Water Department wishes to express our sincere thanks to all Camptonville water customers for their extraordinary water conservation achievement this past year. We were required by the State to reduce water by 25% of 2013 levels. We actually reduced water consumption by 54%! Nice work!

Second, in spite of the fantastic El Nino battering our roofs and forests, the State says we are still in a drought and thus has just published a continuation of the drought ordinance, which once again will require that we reduce consumption by 25% from 2013 levels. At least they haven't changed the base year, right?

Finally, the CCSD Board will be considering a proposed Water Rate Increase at the March 28th CCSD Board Meeting. It's important to fully understand the "whys" of this rate increase, which I've summarized below. It is proposed to increase the monthly rate from $50/month to $55, and here's why:

- After 24 years of good reliable service, the water treatment plant needed some upgrades. We applied for and have received two grants, for a total of $1,516,143.
- The first grant funded project, "Phase 1," has given us a 220,000 gallon storage tank plus many "improvements" at the plant needed to bring the system into compliance with ever changing state and federal requirements. The 220,000 gallon storage tank offers HUGE security to Camptonville. In the event of a fire, we have enough water to make a serious dent. In the event of a drought, we have enough water to last a couple of weeks. The other improvements give us the ability to legally continue service as a small community water system.
- The second funded project, just getting started, will bring us a couple of new wells to draw upon in drought conditions and under heavy rain conditions when creek water is too turbid to process in our plant. These new wells are also a huge security for Camptonville and, combined with the improved storage, give this town a solid water system to face what may come, but ...
- The second grant from the USDA comes with strings: We are now required to set aside enough funds each year to build a reserve to replace short-lived equipment over the next 15 years, and the $590,802 grant comes with a $66,000 40-year loan, and we are required by the terms of the grant to collect enough revenue to pay for the loan and to build the reserve fund.

- Essentially, the second grant requires that we collect enough water rate revenue to remain solvent in the face of these two newly acquired expenses.

- If the rate increase is not approved, the second grant process will end, and we will not have enough funds to construct the new wells.

The details are endless and I invite anyone concerned to contact me with comments and questions. We have a report documenting the need for the rate increase available for download at this internet address:

<http://www.sauerseng.com/camptonville/CCSD%20Water%20System%20Rate%20Study%20Report.pdf>

The Rate Increase issue will be decided on March 28th at 7 pm, at the Camptonville School. This is a public hearing, and you may speak to the board at this hearing. See the "NOTICE" on page 9 for information on how to successfully protest this rate increase. We encourage everyone to support this measure, and are glad to inform you of your constitutional right to protest the proposed rate increase.

Forest Biomass Business Center Update

By Regine Miller, CCP

CCP and Forest Biomass Business Center (FBBC) landowner, Nick Whittlesey, met with the contracted consultants and Yuba County Planning Department to begin the Conditional Use Permit and CEQA processes. CCP is also set to begin working with Phoenix Energy to begin the interconnection study. Both tasks are expected to take 5-7 months to complete. The permitting process will formally allow for public comment; you can also voice concerns to CCP directly by contacting regine@theccp.org.

The FBBC landowner has committed to equity partnership in the bioenergy facility, meaning that he will be part owner and intends to play a lead role in the future facility operations and maintenance. This is great news for Camptonville as it will provide local control and influence over the project.

The CCP Board of Directors is working to evaluate CCP's future role in the planned facility. The Board expects to arrive at a decision within the next few months. Following their decision, CCP staff will work with the landowner, community, project Steering Committee, and CCP Board to draft a Request for Proposals to select a project developer.

In other news, CCP staff has met with Senator Jim Nielsen to present the FBBC project and solicit his support. This is an exciting opportunity for the FBBC and one that we hope will pay dividends in the future.

CCP is interested in your input on this project. Stop by our office located behind the school in the Resource Center, visit the project website <http://sites.theccp.org/fbbc/home>, or email regine@theccp.org.

Still Time To Sponsor A Student for the Rhythm and Reading Marathon!

By Sandy Ross, Superintendent/Principal

Camptonville School's Annual Reading Marathon kick-off on February 17th literally rocked the school! Every student in kindergarten through eighth grade had the opportunity to express themselves by participating in a drum circle and learning dance and movement skills. The morning culminated with the students coming together to create a performance which synthesized dance and music. It was a unique chance for them to experience the power of rhythm as it affects their bodies and minds. A huge thank you to our guest teachers, World Beat Drummer Michael DiMartino, his helpers Rico and Julie, and dance teacher Shari, who were able to engage and stimulate each student. Additionally, students were asked to take that experience and tap into the rhythm of reading, the true purpose of our annual reading marathon.

Students are encouraged to read as many books as they can and to find sponsors to support them as they enjoy the beat and pace of book after book full of poetry, fantasy, science fiction, history, and more. The intention of this fundraiser is not only to raise funds for field trips and classroom activities, but also to encourage a pattern of reading for pleasure and learning that becomes a lifelong habit! If you would like to support a student by sponsoring them for the Reading Marathon, please call the school at 288-3277. The Marathon ends on Wednesday, March 9th.

Got Health Insurance?

By Lucy Campos, Harmony Health Medical Clinic

Harmony Health Medical Clinic and Family Resource Center in Marysville now have Certified Enrollment Counselors to help you sign up for Covered California or Medi-Cal. Together with Cathy LeBlanc from the Camptonville Community Partnership, they are bringing these services to the Camptonville area, providing FREE enrollment assistance for Covered California and Medi-Cal. Did you miss the deadline to enroll in Covered California? There's still a chance to get coverage.

If you recently lost your coverage, moved out of your coverage area, got married, had a baby, or turned 26, you may be able to sign up for Covered California under their Special Enrollment period. If you have a low income, you may qualify for Medi-Cal and can enroll at any time. For more information or to schedule an appointment please call 218-0923.

hot and the wind blows cold: when it is summer in the light, and winter in the shade.
