Returning Home to Camptonville

By Sage Po

When I was six, I started taking piano lessons with Kristin Mumm. It was the highlight of my week to drive over to her house on Moonshine Road, play with her cat Twinkle for a bit, then sit down at the piano for as long as my young mind could focus. Kristin taught me how to read music, how to practice a piece, and how to improvise – all skills that I still use on a daily basis 16 years later. When she passed away, I wrote my first musical composition: “Thank You Kristin.”

For the past four years I studied harp performance and music education at Carnegie Mellon University in Pittsburgh, Pennsylvania. It was exciting to move to the city and grow my knowledge and experience, but I missed the forest, the river, and the community here in the foothills. Now that I have graduated, I get to return to Camptonville and share what I have learned with the community that supported my interest in music from the start.

On Saturday, April 23rd at 7:30 pm, virtuoso cellist Rebekah Hood and I are collaborating to present Birth and Rebirth: Inspired by Shakespeare at the new Camptonville Community Center. It will be the inaugural concert of Terry Riley's Sri Moonshine Music Series, monthly performances that celebrate new music. Since the 23rd is Shakespeare's birthday, we are performing original pieces inspired by the bard and his time period, as well as a variety of harp and cello music from throughout history.

I feel so proud to come from a hometown that supports the arts and has recently come together to create a fantastic new venue for the community. Thank you for the opportunity to come play in Camptonville again. I look forward to sharing beautiful music with friends old and new!

Public Gathering at the Pub -- CCP Fundraiser at Ol'Republic Brewery April 4th!

By Cathy LeBlanc

Come One, Come All! Lift your glasses high Monday, April 4th, 5-8 pm at the Ol' Republic Brewery. Camptonville Community Partnership (CCP) is putting the 'pub' back in public by getting the public into the pub for a fun fundraising evening. The festivities will include an Open Mic. Food and non-alcoholic drinks are available as well.

This event is in partnership with the Ol' Republic Brewery of Nevada City, at 124 Argall Way (next to SPD saw shop). CCP will receive a percentage of all proceeds. Please remember to drink responsibly and/or bring a designated driver.

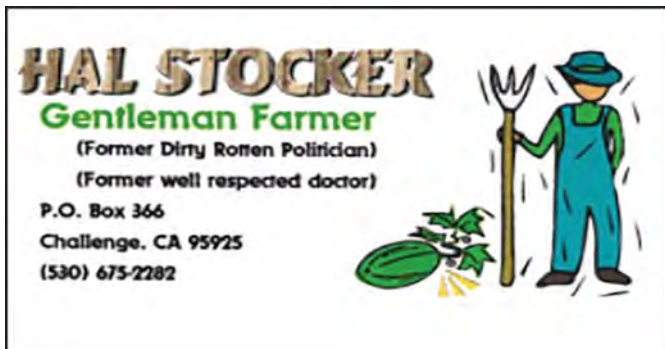

From The Editor

-Janie Kesselman

Well, I have even more respect now for what current Courier editor Shirley DicKard and the ones who came before her have accomplished every month for 20 years! It's an honor to delve into the workings of our unique community and to put together a newspaper that reflects the depth of what goes on here in Camptonville.

I am always grateful to live in this magical place, especially so in the spring, witnessing new growth in the garden and forest and observing with wonder the huge assortment of critters I encounter each day. And now that our children are grown, I'm glad for the chance to finally become acquainted with the humans of Camptonville as well! I look forward to getting to know more of you, and together helping make our "little town that could" even better in the coming years.

Annual Cemetery Cleanup

By Rod Bondurant and Rochelle Bell

From elders to youth, 24 community members took time from their Saturday to spruce up our historic cemetery. Camptonville's Historical Society provided a grand repast of beverages, healthy snacks, and some forbidden carbs. Folks chatted with neighbors and friends in between raking and hauling. Thank you to those who helped, and for those who couldn't, do go up and have a look. Spring bulbs are blooming, and the famous lily plants are starting to show. Please be careful not to step on the tender growth.

How Can I Help This Month?

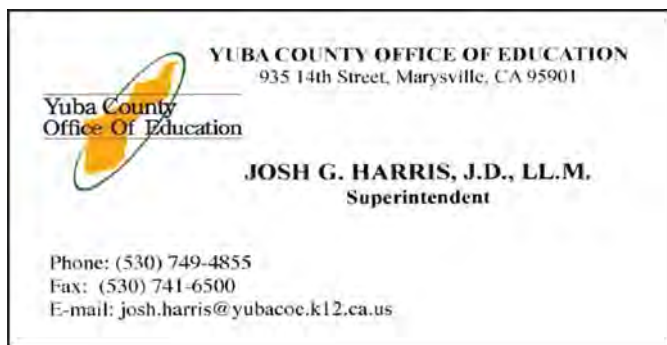

By Tonie Hilligoss

Things at the Center are getting exciting! The cement work for the sign has been completed, and Robert and his helpers are now adding rock to the support wall. Here's how to help:

- Help Robert prepare the mortar mix and drill holes to hold the rock to the wall. Think how proud you'll feel every time you drive by and know you helped make it happen!
- Help prepare the building for the upcoming concert series (see article p. 3.) We'll do painting and other work to freshen up the interior and renovate the bathrooms to make them accessible to people with disabilities. No special skills are required.
- Join the Fix-It Crew. We need more folks to join Chris Dozier, Bob MacDonald, Jeff Murphy, and Norm Ross to help them maintain the building and grounds.
- Volunteer to work on renovating the building to include the Leland K. Pauly Museum.

Although the Camptonville community has already been enormously generous, your tax-deductible donations are still needed. Send to: CCSD, PO Box 327, Camptonville, CA 95922, with checks made out to Camptonville Community Center. Every little bit helps!

Sri Moonshine Music Series at the CCC

By John Deaderick

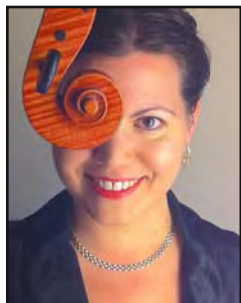

Remember last August when our neighbor Terry Riley performed the inaugural concert at the Camptonville Community Center for a standing room only crowd? We were all WOWED! Good news: Terry is producing the Sri Moonshine Music Series, which will bring New Music performances to our town. The Performing Arts Hall at the Community Center will host exciting performances across a wide spectrum of extraordinary musical variety.

The series begins April 23rd, 2016 with Camptonville born and raised harpist Sage Po and cellist Rebekah Hood presenting "Birth and Rebirth: Inspired by Shakespeare" along with other duets from the Renaissance to the modern day. Terry joins saxophonist George Brooks to perform new compositions May 21st; Terry and son Gyan Riley appear together June 25th, sharing new arrangements of each other's music; one of the nation's most vibrant string quartets, the Del Sol String Quartet, will perform July 17th; and Terry Riley returns with violinist Tracy Silverman to present an exciting evening of improvisations and more on August 27th.

The energy the audience experienced last August is soon to return. Those in attendance, including families with children, were delightfully enthralled by Terry's musical journey as it traveled from raga to Terry's unique sonic landscapes. This strong response from our community has provided the motivation for creating the Sri Moonshine Music Series. Terry feels that these great musicians can be attracted here due to the special fusion that happens as musicians and audience interact in such a cozy performance space as our Performing Arts Hall. You won't want to miss out on a single concert event -- see you on the 23rd!

Birth & Rebirth: Inspired by Shakespeare

By Janie Kesselman

On April 23rd at 7:30 pm, harpist Sage Po and cellist Rebekah Hood will fill the new performance hall at the Camptonville Community Center with music that celebrates William Shakespeare, who was born on that date 452 years ago. This is the first of the five-concert Sri Moonshine Music Series, presented by world-renowned composer Terry Riley.

Sage and Rebekah are collaborating to write two original harp and cello pieces for the concert. In addition to these compositions, the pair will perform a variety of music that embodies the theme "Birth & Rebirth," ranging from simple Renaissance dances to jazzy cello solos.

Tickets are available now at Rebel Ridge Organics, or from brownpapertickets.com/event/2521244. Please contact Christina Ledson at 288-3655 or christinaledson@gmail.com for further information.

Why Vote?

By Yana Slade

I sit at the kitchen table with a friend, the winter light shining on us. She softly asks me: "Are you going to vote?" For me the answer is easy: "YES!" My parents met fighting for the rights of workers, teaching me from an early age the importance of using the ballot to ensure the rights of all.

I am especially watching the medical marijuana issues. While counties around us pass laws that restrict small medical marijuana farms, Citizens of Yuba County have the opportunity to vote on a less restrictive alternative on the June ballot. Thank you to everyone who collected signatures and attended meetings to ensure we have this opportunity.

Yuba County is small, and only a third of all eligible voters vote. This means your vote can make the difference.

The initiatives that will be on the June ballot are here:

www.co.yuba.ca.us/departments/elections/current.aspx

Select local measure information under "GO DIRECTLY TO"

Please consider registering to vote this year! You can do so at the upcoming Camptonville Plant Sale on May 21st. Please come see and talk to us.

Senator Jim Nielsen Visits Camptonville

By Regine Miller

Camptonville Community Partnership (CCP) staff, Forest Biomass Business Center (FBBC) project Steering Committee members Randy Fletcher and Nick Whittlesey, and CCP Board member Stephanie Williams met with Senator Jim Nielsen and his Yuba County representative, Ms. Laura Nicholson, at the Camptonville Community Center on February 26th to present the FBBC project and solicit his support. The meeting was an excellent opportunity for CCP to share with Senator Nielsen the FBBC project's goals, history, accomplishments, future plans, and obstacles.

Senator Nielsen demonstrated a keen knowledge of forest biomass utilization and shared stories of his past experiences with a rice hull biomass utilization facility located in Williams, California. He was very supportive of the project and the rural economic entrepreneurial opportunities it presents, and recognized the many benefits the facility will provide to the community. The Senator expressed a willingness to champion the project at the state level and to support the project as it moves forward in its development.

CCP is grateful for the unique opportunity to meet with Senator Nielsen and Ms. Nicholson in Camptonville, and to Supervisor Randy Fletcher for arranging the meeting. We look to this as the beginning of a successful collaborative effort.

Are you interested in more information on the FBBC project? Check out the project website:

Check Out the Sign, and More!

By Tonie Hilligoss

Thanks to an amazing crew of hardworking volunteers, the cement work for the community center sign has been completed, and the artistic placement of the rocks that so many of us helped gather has begun. Chris Dozier brought his cement mixer and wheelbarrow while Cliff Hilligoss, Keith Montgomery, Ted Ness and Steve Shappert arrived with lots of tools and enthusiasm. They worked together like a well-oiled machine, and in less time than anticipated, they finished the job.

Meanwhile, Robert Mumm was meticulously selecting rocks and attaching them to the wall with the help of Rod Bondurant who washed rocks, mixed mortar, and drilled connectors into the wall (we'd love your help with this; please see the accompanying "How Can I Help..." article). Barbara Ramirez and I provided moral support... and helped when we could.

The wall, with some rockwork done

While we were there, Mark Jokerst and Jeff Murphy stopped by to figure out how to fix the roof leaks, which Jeff has volunteered to take care of for us. This sign is going to be an amazing addition to the community, and we appreciate these folks and those who have helped before for making it happen. Thanks to you all!

What's Happening at the Community Center!

By Christina Ledson

As we gear up for the kickoff to our Sri Moonshine Music Series on April 23rd with Sage Po and Rebekah Hood, produced by Camptonville's very own Terry Riley, the Center is transforming into a wonderful place for our community to gather. The music series is just the beginning of many wonderful events to come. Tickets are currently on sale for all the shows at brownpapertickets.com and Rebel Ridge Organics.

We are very proud to announce that we now have memberships available (see included registration form). This is a wonderful opportunity to support the Center and receive great perks in return.

With the new heater and AC installed, we've started on some much needed electrical work. Renovations to the interior are underway to house the long awaited Historical Society Museum. All of this is made possible by your generous support.

Questions? Contact Christina Ledson at 288-3655 or christinaledson@gmail.com. For rental information, contact Char Jokerst at rubycj@att.net. Thanks to all who volunteer your time and resources for making the Community Center a place that serves all of us.

Camptonville Town Hall Meeting Reveals Community Interest and Issues

By Cathy LeBlanc

As Camptonville Community Partnership dug deeper into the Town Hall's small group work, we discovered more of Camptonville's interests. We saw similarities surface across issue areas and a willingness of some folks to take action in at least some of these areas. For many groups, the new Community Center was seen as under-utilized. The discussion that developed from the four prioritized breakout groups: Economics, Recreational Opportunities, Services, and Community Culture and Connectedness answered a set of questions as follows:

The Economics and Business group saw cottage industry and interest in artistry, gardening, etc. as a way to boost our economy. They explored the ideas of a marketing cooperative for job training, shared office space, and access to technology and grants. They discussed developing a time-share bank (service exchange), and discovering funding source possibilities including loan-angels. They also noted Camptonville could utilize its natural resources aimed at tourist industries.

The Recreation group answered the question: "How do we get there?" by stating their goal as providing recreation services to the community and helping sustain the Community Center. They looked to collaboration with others, seeking funding grants for desired activities and personnel. The next question they answered was "What is in the way of getting there?" They noted that to sustain the Community Center it would take people, community support, and money. Although CCSD and CCP are working on this, they felt it would be beneficial to develop collaboration agreements with USFS, the Yuba County Water Agency, and Camptonville School, and that more collaboration between neighboring communities (Downieville, Sierra City, NSJ, Dobbins) was in order. They noted that due process and resistance to change (or perhaps better stated as maintaining our culture) are barriers to overcome.

Next up was Services, ie: transportation, law enforcement, fire protection, housing, auto repair, etc. This group answered: "How do we get there?" by noting we need to squeak a lot, be involved at the county level (where the money is), be collaborative with sister counties, speak up, visualize needs, find funding/investors, create a grassroots council to do the above, and support CCP in its role to help accomplish all this. Folks listed money, knowledge (not knowing who can help), education, our changing but unknown needs, our rural location, small population (not much demand), and our unfocused voice as barriers. We need wide involvement from the people living here, including the existing community and businesses, Yuba County and Supervisor (all services), State/Feds, Business Owners- investors- the private sector, and YOU!

The last priority issue that surfaced was Culture. What makes us happy and thriving? This was seen as our involvement with and our connectedness to our neighbors. They saw our "moral value" as being a place to start to answer the question: "Who are we?" They felt a desire to reconnect to each other through community events: music, phone calls, and personal connections. They also felt a venue to talk over our concerns and interests was a vital way to get more people involved and to engage younger people. This coincided with noting the need for more support to keep the Community Center open more often. Some of their ideas to engage folks included the creation of a Wishing Wall, developing Questions of the Week and monthly meet-ups where folks can just show up for regular, topic-based interaction.

Next we asked, is there anything in the way of accomplishing this? They listed fear of all types: emotional, law, regulations, judgment, and differences added to our disconnection as well as isolation. Why don't we have it already? Here folks felt a need for more volunteers, especially for the Community Center, but also for marketing and promotion of events. They listed the Community Center Steering Committee, CCP, CCSD (cemetery, water, community center, fire), and the Historical Society as some of the groups already working on this. This group felt we needed to engage younger people. As one person said: "Look around the room. Where are the families?"

This sentiment was echoed throughout the evening. Although a very mighty 36 folks showed up, we wanted to know why more were not present. CCP can act as a hub to further correlate this info into community action. We invite anyone interested in forming an action or discussion group to address these issues to please call the Resource Center at 288-9355, or email cathy@theccp.org.

St. Patrick's Day Dinner and Dessert Auction

By Cathy LeBlanc

Thank-you - Thank-you - Thank-you!!!

Camptonville Community Partnership wishes to thank everyone who showed their support for our sixth annual St. Patrick's Day Fundraiser event. We appreciate SPD Nevada City for donating produce and the Grocery Outlet for a $15 donation that helped to cover incidentals.

This event could not happen without the support of those who made dessert. We value all the effort that went into preparing those delicious desserts. The dessert auction netted CCP $1,163 and the dinner brought in right around $560. After the deduction of cost to put on the event, CCP yielded $1,483 -- woo-woo!!!

Focused on organic gardening. We carry many soils, amendements, pest control products, fertilizers, tools, irrigation supplies, landscape plants, and local vegetable starts, and much more.

New Bullards Bar Recovering from the Drought

By Tib Belza, Chair, Yuba County Water Agency

New Bullards Bar Reservoir storage is finally recovering after four years of what some newspaper articles have reported as a 1,000-year drought. While the drought severely stressed the reservoir storage and water supplies, the benefit of surface water storage proved its value for water supply to Yuba County Water Agency's (YCWA) eight irrigation district customers and fishery flows in the Lower Yuba River.

The very good news is that for the first time in four years YCWA water operations have moved from minimum flow drought operations to spill releases so water storage will not encroach into the New Bullards Bar flood pool. The spills are a requirement because the federal government paid $12 million to control the top 38 feet of winter storage in New Bullards Bar.

What a difference a year makes. March rainfall, expected at about 200% of average, has made up for the poor February rainfall that was 27% of average. Now the seasonal rainfall and snowpack will be above average, which is excellent news compared to last year's snow pack that was a mere 6% of average. The additional runoff and snowpack from the March storms ensure full summer and fall agricultural water delivery and provide enough water supply to maintain reasonable carryover storage in New Bullards Bar reservoir.

The water storage carried over from one year to the next created the ability to deliver more water to our irrigation districts than nature would have provided during the drought. Without this storage, our customers would have suffered more than the 30% cut experienced in 2015, and the water temperature in the Lower Yuba River would likely have been too warm for the spring run Chinook Salmon and Steelhead Trout to survive.

On December 9, 2015, New Bullards Bar storage was the lowest it had been in three and a half decades at 340,110 acre-feet. While this may seem like a lot of water, there is a 234,000 acre foot minimum pool regulatory requirement which means there was only 15% of usable capacity of storage remaining. Another year of drought would have had severe consequences to the farmers, fish, and people. Thankfully, this year is turning out to be better than average.

Blasting Cap Found In Downtown Camptonville!

By Brandi Dudek

While some gentlemen were cleaning up blackberry bushes on Cleveland Avenue, they came across a blasting cap. This is a reminder that blasting caps can be found anywhere. Please do not handle them as they can be very volatile. If you come across one, please call the Yuba County Sheriff's office or 911 and they'll send out an officer, or contact the fire department, and the bomb squad will come and remove it.

Once again this year, we will be staffing a first aid station for the second annual half-marathon. We'll set up at the Seven Ball/Eight Ball Trail split off of Marysville Road. Please come out and join us on April 9th at 8 am and support the runners. All profits will be divided between Camptonville VFD, North San Juan VFD, and the Wildland Firefighter Foundation.

While working a vehicle accident, Camptonville VFD had a near miss! A speeding truck came around a corner and almost hit one of our trucks, a patient, and some bystanders. Please understand that we set up traffic control for the safety of everyone involved. Sometimes it takes time to get you through. Please have patience and do not speed through the scene. We will work as quickly as we can to get you through!

We would like to welcome Chris Pope to our support staff! She will be acting as our Risk Manager.

Camptonville VFD received five calls this month: three medical and two MVA (Motor Vehicle/Motorcycle Accidents).

Our roster is down to 13, but only about 10 come to regular trainings and half respond to emergency calls.

We are always looking for volunteers! Trainings are Tuesday evenings, 6 - 9 pm. One night a month, we go to NSJ for medical training. Come check us out!

Volunteers do not have to be firefighters; we can use help with paperwork, maintenance work at the station, and other non-firefighter projects. If interested in donating time and being part of a great team, feel free to give your chief, Brandi Dudek, a call at 288-3303.

Yuba River Ranger District News

By Bailey Cowell, Visitor Information Assistant

Time to gear up, get out, and enjoy the new look of our rivers, lakes, and streams. We got a whopping 14.19 inches of rain recorded in the rain gauge for the month of March thus far, putting us at 56.93 inches this year! As a result, rivers have been raging and Bullards Bar Reservoir has certainly benefited from the rain as well.

Bullards Bar Reservoir is looking much fuller and Emerald Cove Marina has had many reports that the spotted bass fishing is great right now. With the weather starting to take a turn, now is a great time to get out and enjoy some outdoor activities. It would be a great time to check out the beautiful trails our Tahoe National Forest has to offer: feel free to stop by the Yuba River Ranger Station to pick up free trail maps.

Now that we are coming into some clear days, it may be a good time to maintain defensible space around your house and outbuildings. Burn permits are not currently required to burn natural vegetation from your property, but be sure to call 741-6299 prior to burning to find out if it's a burn day in Yuba County.

Spring Has Sprung – 1, 2, 3 Grow

By Yakshi Vadeboncoeur

Everything's growing, and so are we! We measured ourselves in March. We also colored eggs. Then they disappeared, and we had to go searching through the garden and school orchard to find where they'd been hidden. It was great fun, and we are getting very good at finding hidden things and at noticing what's poking out of the ground. Now, it's spring and we are finding signs of it everywhere.

In April our letter of the month is 'Aa' for alphabet, air, art, and apple blossoms. When the air changes, the weather changes too. That happens a lot in spring, and at 1, 2, 3 Grow we are noticing, exploring, writing and making art about it.

All preschoolers in Camptonville and beyond are invited to join us Tuesday, Thursday, and Friday mornings from 9:30 am - 12:30 pm. For more info, call Yakshi at 288-0619, or the Resource Center at 288-9355.

Camptonville School Shows Off

By Sandy Ross

Mark your calendars for Show It Off Day on Friday, April 29th, from 1:45 to 2:45 pm. Camptonville students in kindergarten through eighth grades will be presenting a percussion performance and then showing off endeavors they've completed throughout the year. These will include projects, blogs, iMovies, science journals, and artwork. If parents can't attend, please plan to send a relative or family friend to come in your place. The students are eager to share their efforts and accomplishments.

Another opportunity to see Camptonville students at their best will be at the annual Talent and Trash Fashion Show scheduled for Thursday, May 5th, at 6 pm. We would love to invite our talented community members to create and model trash fashion or perform. All acts must be 3 minutes or less and be suited for a young audience (G-rated). Sierra Family Medical Clinic Now Open in Oregon House

By Rebecca George

Dear Neighbor, You're Invited!

We're excited to announce that the Sierra Family Medical Clinic in Oregon House at 8676 Marysville Road is now open and accepting new patients.

Our goal is to treat you like family. The SFMC has been dedicated to rural healthcare for over 30 years. In this time, we've come to be nationally recognized for our model of integrated healthcare, where patients can receive medical, behavioral, dental, and substance use services all under one roof.

Our mission is to provide high-quality healthcare to all persons regardless of age, sex, race, color, national origin, religion, disabilities or ability to pay. We are a Federally Qualified Health Center, accepting all forms of insurance, including Medicare, Medi-Cal, plus a sliding fee scale.

The Oregon House Clinic offers:

- General medical and preventative care for adults and children
- Care for minor emergencies
- Work-related and sports injuries and health problems
- Routine women's care
- Solution focused cognitive-behavioral therapy
- Weight loss, smoking cessation, and healthy lifestyle coaching
- Pain management
- Dental services (coming soon)

We're open Tuesdays and Thursdays, with plans to expand hours as soon as possible. For more information or to make an appointment, call us at 292-3478.

We look forward to serving the North Yuba community!

Sincerely, The SFMC Family

Save the Date! May Plant Sale & Flea Market May 21st

By Carolyn Mumm

Our annual May Plant Sale and Flea Market will be on Saturday, May 21st from 9:30 am – 2:30 pm, location TBA.

Our Plant Sale will have lush, abundant offerings of vegetable starts (especially heirloom tomatoes), flowers, and herbs – all from local farms and gardeners. The Flea Market will have wonderful buys as well as home crafted goods from local artists and craftpersons.

Call Carolyn Mumm at 288-3424 by May 18th to reserve a 12x12' booth ($11). Look for more information on fliers and in the May Courier.

Why?

By Pastor Patty Inis

The North San Juan United Methodist Church, at 10121 Flume Street, is presenting a forum to take a hard look at some personal questions about God. Please join us for this most intriguing series from April 10th - May 1st, 9 am Sunday mornings, with snacks and friendly fellowship to follow. We are friendly, relevant, and relaxed. Everyone is welcome; come as you are. Contact Pastor Patty Inis for more info: 916-500-8361, or pastorpattynsjumc@gmail.com
