Who Knew? Plaque on our Meek Monument is the Work of California Public Artist

By Stephanie Korney, Camptonville Historical Society

One of the three monuments at the foot of Cleveland Avenue that we pass on our way in and out of town commemorates town father William Bull Meek. It was installed by E Clampus Vitus (ECV) brethren and commissioned from one of their own, the sculptor William Gordon Huff. Huff created a number of works for public spaces, notably several large pieces for the Golden Gate International Exposition on San Francisco Bay's Treasure Island in 1939, as well as sculpted heads, diorama figures, and drawings for a University of California Department of Paleontology exhibit, a large figure of Chief Solano on display in Fairfield, a series of ceramic tiles for the ECV Hall of Comparative Ovation at the Old Timers Museum in Murphys, and numerous historical plaques throughout central California, Vermont, New York, Massachusetts, Illinois, Florida, and even Antarctica.

Rod Bondurant, Rochelle Bell, and I met with Huff's son Tim and David K. Smith of the UC Museum of Paleontology (recently retired) at the Meek monument after David contacted Courier Editor Shirley Dickard with what he thought might be a story of local interest to Camptonville. We had a great visit with David and Tim, and learned about the artist who created the Meek plaque. David is working on a biography of William Gordon Huff and shared the following information with us.

William Gordon Huff was born in Fresno in 1903 and spent his high school years in the East Bay. Although a history buff, Huff decided to study art, attending schools in Oakland, San Francisco, New York City, and Paris, France. Huff made the first of what would be many historical plaques in Bennington, Vermont, in 1929 to commemorate Civil War soldiers. Huff's first historical plaque in California was a 1933 tribute to Francis Marion "Borax" Smith, founder of the Key System, an early East Bay mass transit system. Also in 1933, Huff entered and won a competition to create a sculpture of the Suisuni chief, Francisco Solano or Chief Solano. The 12-foot tall sculpture can still be seen in Fairfield today.

Huff's biggest claim to fame was his work for the Golden Gate International Exposition of 1939–1940 on Treasure Island. He designed four figures for the fair's centerpiece—the Tower of the Sun—representing Art, Science, Agriculture, and Industry. Two of each of these were scaled up to 20-foot-tall plaster statues to stand in bays in the octagonal Tower. Huff also designed a male figure for the Arch of Triumph and a female figure for the Court of Flowers (28 nine-foot-tall plaster duplicates decorated buttresses around the perimeter).

At a recent Coffee at the Center, I had the opportunity to lay The Courier out on the table and ask people what they liked and didn't like, and what they actually read, skimmed, or skipped. I got great feedback and suggestions. I'd like to hear from other readers, so please send me your thoughts at camptonvillecourier@gmail.com.

Many of the readers weren't aware that I have a certain way of laying out each issue. Front page is usually the feature article. The Editor's column on page two gives me the opportunity to speak directly to readers (Hi there!). Articles in the next two pages cover upcoming events (usually time-related). Based on what I receive, I vary the next pages with updates from various local organizations, educational, creative, and inspirational topics, articles on local people and history, and student contributions. The last page often covers opportunities for people to find "Hope and Help." The back cover calendar also includes a summary of the month's events. What else would you like to see? I received several intriguing suggestions that morning at the Coffee at the Center. Please send me yours and stay tuned!

Camptonville Country Faire – July 9th

By Barbara Ramirez, CCP

Come one, come all to the 3rd Annual Camptonville Country Faire on Saturday, July 9th, from 2–5 pm at the old Forest Service property as you come into town.

Meet and greet your neighbors and join us for the parade. Parade participants should line up at the fire station by 1:30 pm. Horses and classic cars are especially invited. There will be games for the kids and the Historical Society will show off the Camptonville History Museum at the Community Center. Fatty's Food Truck will there...woohoo! ...and the Christmas Club will sell popcorn and drinks. If you want to be in the parade or would like a (free) table to sell your crafts, please call me at 288-3392. Hope to see you all there! This event is sponsored by CCP.

Gardeners' Market Starts August 6th

By Christina Ledson

The Camptonville Gardeners' Market is right around the corner! I will be hosting it once again. I'm sure we will see Jimbo's smiling face this year and hopefully he'll bring his delicious goodies that I know we have all missed.

The Market will be 10 am–12 pm every Saturday during August and September at the Community Center. Coffee at the Center is being changed to Saturday mornings and Jiu Jitsu will also be happening during our Market time.

Although our focus is garden fresh goodies, I would like to see our market expanded. With so many talented artisans in our community, it would be wonderful to have more than veggies for sale. If you are interested in selling your wares at the Market, contact me at christinaledson@gmail.com or 288-3655.

Del Sol Quartet – July 16th in Camptonville!

By John Deaderick

Of Del Sol Quartet’s latest release, The New York Times enthused: “See if your foot can stay still once you put on this funky disc of rhythmically infectious . . . music.” Banish all thoughts of tux-wearing, uptight classical musicians when you think of this exciting group coming to the Camptonville Performing Arts Center, Saturday, July 16th.

Sure, they can play the standard repertory, but since their beginning in 1992, their reach has extended to commissioning and performing new works, including works by local composer and Series Curator Terry Riley. What a gift it is for our little town to feature artists like Del Sol who have graced the halls of The Kennedy Center, The Library of Congress, The National Gallery of Art, Smithsonian’s Freer Gallery in Washington DC, and many, many, more, including tours of Switzerland, France, China, South Korea, Canada, and Mexico. Del Sol has also held residencies at various educational institutions across the US.

There remains a strong international element to their music, having recorded works by composers from Peru, Spain, Turkey, Iran, Uzbekistan, Australia, Denmark, and on and on.

This extraordinarily varied repertoire perhaps reflects the group’s eclectic mix of personnel. Founding member violist Charlton Lee earned a B.S. degree in Applied Mathematics and Physics from Berkeley before obtaining his Master’s in Music from the San Francisco Conservatory. He also practices martial arts and is an avid chef. Violinist Benjamin Kreith rafts the Grand Canyon and is so fluent in Spanish as to have taught in Barcelona and translated a Spanish novel published this year. Violinist Rick Shinozaki has worked with local composer Jay Sydeman and performs regularly as part of a duo with pianist Irene Jacobson, creating works that have been called “scintillating” and “in perfect harmony.” The New York Times has called Cellist Kathryn Bates’ sound “beautifully rounded.” She regularly takes time away from her cello on outdoor trails, either hiking, running, or backpacking.

As you can see, there is nothing stuffy or fussy about these musicians. Come join us for an exciting and rare opportunity to expand our musical horizons in a joyful way.

Doors open at 6:30 pm, performance starts at 7:30 pm. Tickets are $25 or $30 at the door, if available, and can be purchased in Camptonville at Burgee Dave's at The Mayo and Rebel Ridge Organics Nursery, or at www.brownpapertickets.com.

Coffee and Connections – Now on Saturday Mornings

By Molly Spackman

The Center doors are open and YOU are invited to stop in, say hello and have a snack. Coffee at the Center is free and intended to cultivate connections. We are neighbors. It takes a village right? Let's get to know each other! This event is fun and a fantastic opportunity to just relax and chat. It's very casual and you are welcome to bring something to share, taste, etc...or not!

So far, coffee has been served on Fridays. However, for the months of July and August, Coffee at the Center will be moved to Saturdays, 8:30–11:00 am.

If you like having Coffee at the Center, please consider hosting one. The following "Hosts" have signed up so far. Email Molly at scottandmollyspackman@gmail.com or call 288-3612 if you can host one of the (empty) dates:

July 2	Molly	August 6	()
July 9	Char	August 13	()

Still Calling for Artists and Doodlers!

By Shirley DickKard, Editor

Thank you to the following artists who answered last month's Call for Artists: Margaret Brown (watercolors on page 5 and outside cover) and Yana Slade (sketch on page 10).

You can help build The Courier's file of locally-created art, photos, and doodles (especially needed to fill empty spaces) by sending your creations to camptonvillecourier@gmail.com. Thank you!

Brazilian Jiu Jitsu for Adults and Children

By Devon Miller

Brazilian Jiu Jitsu classes are already underway for both children and adults at the Community Center and will be held through July and August on the following days and times:

Children: Tuesdays and Thursdays from 4:30 pm–5:30 pm,
Saturdays from 10–11 am

Adults: Tuesdays and Thursdays from 5:30–7pm,
Saturdays from 11 am–12:30pm

There will be no Saturday classes 7/16 and 8/27.

The cost is $80/month for children and $120/month for adults. Reduced and family rates are available. Traditional Jiu-Jitsu or Judo Style Kimonos are required and are to be acquired independently. Students may wear a t-shirt and shorts or sweat pants until they have a Kimono. Children's parent/guardian and adult students must complete the Enrollment Form and Liability Release form to participate. For more information, please contact Devon Miller at solidaritymma@gmail.com.

Summer News from Indian Valley Outpost

By Dave and Karla Gardner

We want to invite folks to come and enjoy nature walks here in Indian Valley on the North Fork of the Yuba, a short drive on Highway 49 from Camptonville. Many varieties of butterflies are everywhere.

We have a new cook on board, Rob Miller, and we are welcoming back Jeff Kilgore, our well-known local chef. We have brought back the beloved Biscuits and Gravy and Soft Serve Ice Cream. Our 1/3 lb Angus Burger is better than ever, and our old world traditional Spaghetti and various specials continue to be favorites. Karla is baking Homemade Pies and Dave is featuring his Rib-Eye Special. Our outdoor movies start at sundown on Friday and Saturday nights, so bring your lawn chair and we'll pop the corn.

Summer Hours: Thursday–Monday, 8 am–8 pm (to 9 pm for the Store and Bar, or to when the game is over).

Free Introduction to Grant Writing Workshop

By Regine Miller, CCP

A one-day intensive workshop to build grant writing skills for organizations and agencies in the Sierra Nevada Region will be held on Thursday, August 18, 9 am to 4 pm at the Camptonville Community Center.

The Sierra Nevada Conservancy (SNC) looks to the agencies, organizations, and local governments in the Region to help achieve its vision for the future — that the magnificent Sierra Nevada Region enjoys outstanding environmental, economic, and social health, with vibrant communities and landscapes sustained for future generations. Camptonville Community Partnership is partnering with SNC to bring this workshop to our region.

Who should attend? Community, nonprofit, and local government representatives of all experience levels who want to learn how to prepare effective grant applications.

The workshop will cover the basics of grant writing and program development, including:

- How to make your application as competitive as possible
- Basic program development for effective grant writing
- The eight standard parts of a grant application
- How to create a work plan and budget spreadsheet

This will be a small, interactive class. Participation and homework will be required. Come prepared to discuss a real project that you would like to fund. Individual assistance will be provided on writing assignments. The instructor is Elissa Brown, SNC's Fund Development Coordinator, an experienced grant writer and grant writing instructor.

Deadline to register is August 5th. Contact Regine Miller at 277-3843 or regine@theccp. The workshop is free but $10 will be collected to cover lunch and snacks. This work by CCP is supported by the National Forest Foundation which promotes the enhancement and public enjoyment of the 193-million acre National Forest System.

What's Happening at the Center

By Christina Ledson, Director

June was extremely busy at the Community Center, and July will be no different. Members of the community have stepped up to host various programs at the Center, including a Sign Language class (to resume in August), Coffee at the Center, Jiu Jitsu, and the Gardeners' Market. (See articles pages 2 and 4). If there is something you would like to see happening, please let us know.

The Moonshine Music Concert Series continues to be a great success. Gyan Riley and Timba Harris were here on June 25th and our next show is July 16th with the Del Sol String Quartet. Tickets are available at brownpapertickets.com, Rebel Ridge Organics, and Burgee Dave's @ the Mayo.

It's that time of year when we work up our budgets for the year ahead and take a look back at where our prior year funds were spent. We often get questions about why we need to charge for certain events or the need to rent the building instead of offering it for free. Based on what we have learned this past year, we anticipate that monthly costs will average around $400. We spent just shy of $16,000 in repairs on the building last year. We were very fortunate to receive some one-time donations from some very generous community members to help us keep the doors open. As we look forward to the year ahead, we still have some pretty major maintenance issues that need to be addressed.

We are seeing great success with our Membership Program. It's a great way to support the Center. You can join at any time at five different levels. Not only would you be supporting the Center but you can enjoy things like discounted tickets to Community Center sponsored events and many more perks.

For membership information, suggestions, or questions, please call Christina Ledson at 288-3655 or email me at christinaledson@gmail.com. For rental information you can contact Char Jokerst at rubicj@att.net. Thanks to all of you who have volunteered your time and resources to making the community center a place that can serve all of us.

Students Honor Veterans on Memorial Day

By Maggie Orion, 6, 7, 8th Grade Teacher

Camptonville Elementary students joined guest veterans, including a group from the American Legion Post 130, to honor Memorial Day on May 26th at the Camptonville cemetery. Students presented patriotic poems, read the names of veterans buried in the local cemetery, performed "Amazing Grace," and assisted veterans in a flag folding ceremony.

Veterans from The American Legion Post 130 educated the students on the meaning behind the thirteen folds of the American Flag and the history of "Taps." The group donated a new American flag to the school, which they received from Congressman Doug LaMalfa. 8th grader Cooper Patterson said "It was an honorable way to retire our old flag. The new one has fresher colors instead of being sun faded."

Every year, K-8 students at Camptonville visit the cemetery and lead observances for Veterans Day and Memorial Day. They follow up these services by planting flower bulbs, adorning veterans' graves with flags, and cleaning up gravesites. 7th grader Dakota Pratschner commented, "I feel like the veterans made the ceremony feel more proper and real." Family members of the students, including veteran parents and grandparents, attended as well. Chase Noble who brought his grandfather, Danny Black, said, "It was an honor to shake someone's hand who has done so much for our country."

The American Legion Post 130 members present were Bernie Bockley, Pete Vasilakos, Kent Farmer, Frank Stanovich, and Oral Stallings. Bockley, a veteran of WWII, played the bugle. 6th grader Jade Frady shared, "I think it was cool that they include the bugle in the ceremony."

Linden

By Catie Pazandak

Tilia spp. (americana, cordata, europaea, grandifolia)

Linden (Tilia spp.) has earned a special place in my heart. She is not from this continent, however, but was brought over by settlers who could not live without her. Linden, also known as Lime or Basswood, was used for so much more than medicine. Endemic to northern Europe, the Linden tree can grow to over 100 ft tall and has heart shaped leaves. As a worm resistant wood, Linden was prized for many different purposes, used for everything from furniture, musical instruments, fine baskets, flax-like fiber to make fishing nets, to matting for gardeners, and more. The flowers, in full bloom, waft a most enchanting perfume into the air, drawing one near, like a honey bee (and bees really do love this tree). The flowers and bracts are the medicinal part of the tree.

Energetically, Linden is slightly sweet and cool and has a watery quality. It is used in conditions of hypertension and can be a great addition to an atherosclerosis therapeutic protocol, especially when combined with Crataegus spp. (Hawthorn).

Linden is also considered a diaphoretic, helpful in feverish colds, especially with children (often with presenting nervous system disturbances). It is helpful for recovering from viral infections as well. Some indications for Linden in nervous system support include: nervousness, insomnia, restlessness, irritability, or nervous headaches. I feel Linden to be a milder nervine, a bit more subtle than Skullcap, Passionflower, California Poppy, Valerian, and many more. Yet, it is a wonderful addition to nervine formulas and can serve as a lead herb with hypertension-related issues.

There are places to visit Linden trees in Nevada City, and they are just reaching the end of their blooming season. If you are unable to meet Linden in person this year, you may try it as a tea or herbal infused honey. I will be offering seasonal, fresh infused honeys this summer and fall, and Linden will be the first! Contact me at harvestingvitality@gmail.com to order a jar. As with any herbs, please consult your health care practitioner before using if you are on medications, pregnant, or have any serious health conditions.

How Can I Help This Month?

By Tonie Hilligoss

Spring has arrived, and work on the outdoor sign has slowed a bit as we all try to keep up with the work on our own properties. There is still a lot to be done on the building, so this month's list is much like last month's. We could really use your help with the following:

- Volunteer to assist Robert Mumm as he works on the sign by preparing the mortar mix and drilling holes to help hold the rock to the wall. No prior experience needed.
- Join the Fix-It Crew. Chris Dozier, Bob MacDonald, Jeff Murphy, and Norm Ross have dedicated much-appreciated time and effort to the Center, but they all have other commitments too. Please contact any of the people below or our Director, Christina Ledson (christinaledson@gmail.com or 288-3655) if you would like to join them in maintaining the buildings and grounds, thereby helping the Center expand its ability to serve the local community.
- Volunteer to work on renovating the building to address the termite damage and incorporate the Leland K. Pauly Museum. The damage is in the same area of the building, and both projects are tentatively scheduled for September.

We are also interested in ideas for new programs and people willing to assume responsibility for them. Coffee at the Center, Sign Language lessons, and Jiu Jitsu are already being offered, and the Center is available for additional activities. If you would like help developing an idea, please contact Barbara Ramirez, the Center's Events and Programs Coordinator, at efielb@att.net or 288-3392.

Rita Ortega, our Volunteer Coordinator, can be reached at ritaortega4@gmail.com or 288-3421. Donations can be sent to CCSD, P.O. Box 327, Camptonville, CA 95922 with checks made out to Camptonville Community Center. All questions can be directed to Char Jokerst (rubycj@att.net or 288-9320) or Tonie Hilligoss (thilligoss@mac.com or 288-3451).

Thanks again to everyone who is helping make our community center a reality!

The Water Report

By Mark Jokerst, Water Plant Manager

The creek has begun its summer drop-off. While we've seen water spilling over the dam all spring, we're now measuring 4 inches over the weir, or about 150 gallons per minute running downstream. Last year at this time we had 1-1/2 inches over the weir, so we can say El Nino was good to us this year.

Consumption is following last year's trend. As I write today (6/20), we're flowing 16 gpm out of plant, same as last year. This is good, as we need to continue our conservation efforts. Thanks to all for the ongoing concern. May your gardens flourish!

We've seen some high over-night water usage, about 5 to 10 gpm for the town, which means some over-night watering is going on, perhaps a forgotten hose? Please check your irrigation systems before running inside from the mosquitos. Here's to a great summer!

Tahoe National Forest Announces Summer Photo Contest

By Michael Woodbridge, Public Affairs Officer, Tahoe National Forest

The Tahoe National Forest is hosting a photo contest during the summer months, ending September 30th.

Photography can inspire, illuminate and teach people about their public lands. This is an exciting opportunity for visitors (and locals) to document the scenery, plants, animals, and recreational opportunities available on the Tahoe National Forest.

Photos must be taken on the Tahoe National Forest and can include such subjects as: wilderness, wildlife and plants, recreation, rivers and lakes, lookouts, and landscapes, among others. Anyone can enter the contest except for current TNF employees. See the Tahoe National Forest homepage for contest rules and information on how to submit a photo.

The Tahoe National Forest has so much beauty, from the smallest flower to the grandest landscape. Whether you're a professional photographer or you just bought your first camera, show us how you capture the splendor of this forest.

First, second, and third place winners will be announced in October. Winners will be recognized on the Forest website, social media pages, and other publications.

For more information about the contest, go to www.fs.usda.gov/tahoe.

Change in Air Ambulance Services

By Brandi Dudek, CVFD Chief

There have been recent changes in Air Ambulance Service for our area. Reach Flight Care has been sold and they will not honor CVFD's previous contract rates. The new membership for a family is $65 per year. The CVFD will continue to pursue our community discount rate and hopefully when things settle down with the merger we can renegotiate. Since we don't know if our area still needs to purchase plans for both Enloe Flight Care and Reach Flight Care, please continue to purchase both and we will keep you informed. When the need arises for an air ambulance, we do not get the choice of which Flight Care service will be called. It all depends on who is available. To enroll, call Reach at 800-793-0010 and Enloe FlightCare at 530-332-7300.

Camptonville VFD has been very busy this month, paged out for 21 calls: 12 medicals, 1 vegetation fire in Dobbins, 1 structure fire, 2 debris/illegal burn piles, 1 trail rescue, and 4 MVA (Motor Vehicle/Motorcycle accidents).

CVFD responded to another structure fire where the home was fully involved with extension to the wildland. Fire danger is very high, so it is extremely important to have your 100' clearance. If this fire happened in July or August, we could have had a bad outcome with a full blown vegetation fire. Please be diligent and get your clearance done.

Our roster is down to 13 with 1 cadet, but only about 6 come to regular trainings and about half of those respond to emergency calls.

As always, we are looking for volunteers! Training is Tuesday evenings from 6-9 pm at the fire hall, with one night per month in NSJ for medical training. Stop by and check us out! We can always use non-firefighter volunteers for general support, such as paperwork and maintenance at the station. If interested in being part of a great team, feel free to give your Chief a call at 288-3303.

Lester Palton U.S. Patent 233,692 Oct. 26, 1880

In 1935, Huff met Charles Camp, renowned vertebrate paleontologist and Director of the UC Museum of Paleontology (he has a dinosaur named after him). Camp was also an historian of the American West and an early member of E Clampus Vitus who served as Noble Grand Humbug of the Yerba Buena #1 Chapter in 1938. Camp and Huff remained friends for 40 years, and during that time, Huff worked on a number of projects for his friend as well as the Department and Museum of Paleontology. Huff created illustrations, more dioramas, and hallway exhibits. Along the way, he too, became involved with ECV and made a series of historical plaques for the group to install throughout California. And he made a number of ceramic tiles commemorating ECV members and other California notables, including Camptonville's own Bill Meek.

Huff died in 1993, and apart from the Clampers, few people have ever heard of him. Huff did not do gallery shows, and his work is not on display in major museums. But because Huff's art was primarily public art—his plaques, the Chief Solano statue in Fairfield, and the Ichthyosaur relief at Berlin-Ichthyosaur State Park in Nevada—thousands of people have seen his work, including all of us going to and from Camptonville.

Free Economic Development Workshop and CCP Updates

By Regine Miller, CCP

Camptonville Community Partnership is offering a Rural Economic Development Workshop by the Yuba Sutter Economic Development Corporation on Thursday, September 15, from 9 am–12 pm at the Alcouffe Center in Oregon House. The workshop will build regional capacity for business development, including co-located businesses to be established alongside the bioenergy facility. The workshop will discuss available resources, requirements, and opportunities for developing a business in Yuba County. For information or to register, email regine@theccp.org.

In other news, CCP has drafted a bioenergy project developer Request for Qualifications (RFQ) which will be advertised to potential renewable energy developer-operators in mid-summer and used to select a developer-operator team in collaboration with the project's landowner, Steering Committee, and community. The draft document is available for community review and input. Email regine@theccp.org or call 288-9355 to request a copy.

CCP has submitted the FBBC System Impact Study application to PG&E which will determine the requirements to interconnect the bioenergy facility to the utility's infrastructure. The study is expected to take 4-6 months to complete. The facility's permitting continues to progress with the Conditional Use Permit application expected to be submitted to Yuba County later this summer. Visit us at <http://sites.theccp.org/fbbc/>.

See page 5 for article on CCP's Grant Writing Workshop, August 18th.
