Sri Moonshine Music Series Returns September 28th: Kala Ramnath -- North Indian Violinist and Vocalist

By John Deaderick

Our locally produced extraordinary line-up of world class musical artists continues September 28th with the return of North Indian violinist Kala Ramnath. If you were fortunate enough to be present at the Elements concert two years ago (can it really be that long?), you heard Kala's mystical violin magic along with George Brooks on sax and Gwyneth Wentink on harp. We are indeed lucky to have her return for a solo -- with tabla accompaniment -- performance. She is widely recognized as among the greatest of Classical Indian violinists.

In addition to violin, she studied Mewati vocal technique with Maestro Pandit Jesrai. This has brought a unique emotionalism to her playing style, so much so that her instrument is known as The Singing Violin. Should our lucky stars continue to shine brightly on this night, perhaps she will sing for us, as her evocative voice is so very beautiful. She is incredibly adaptive and diverse, comfortably creating musical alliances with artists from different genres around the globe, incorporating elements of Western Classical, Jazz, Flamenco, and traditional African music into her rich and varied repertoire.

Sri Moonshine Series Artistic Director and master raga singer (among his many other gifts) Terry Riley says that she is his favorite violinist -- no small praise, indeed. So, dust off your vinyl copy of Sgt. Pepper and give another listen to George Harrison's "Within You, Without You" and prepare to be mesmerized. See you there! (Find ticketing and additional information on page 2.)

Moving into Fall

Not yet Fall
But an in-between state,
Nature's letting go
Not so huge yet
Shorter days offer a glimpse
Of the darkness ahead and our own relinquishments.

We let go of long, lazy river days
Which seemed to stretch
To infinity
Our gardens all abuzz
with growth
Now yielding their final fruit
Leaves crinkled and fading

The inexorable flow
Of the rivers
To someplace else
Evoke a knowing
Of constant change
Of movement
In this beautiful
World of ours
And whether or not
We choose,
We are moved by it too

Celebrate the Equinox with Wordsmiths & Music Makers -- September 21st

by Yakshi Vadeboncoeur

September is here; summer draws to a close, and Wordsmiths & Music Makers brings its rhymes, rhythms, and songs to the Camptonville Community Center to celebrate local creativity and to ease our spirits into a new season.

Wordsmiths & Music Makers

Saturday evening, September 21st

7 – 9:30 pm, $5 at the door

Come one, come all, and get there early when the doors open at 6:30 to enjoy the smorgasbord of fine local finger foods (included in the price of your ticket) and the chance to chat with your neighbors and with our fine fall lineup of featured artists:

Writers -- Diane Pendola and Pam Saporta

Musicians -- Mick Englert and Shabda Owens

Remember, we always have Open Mic slots, so bring a page or a song and put your ticket in the tin so we can hear from you, too.

This season's Wordsmiths & Music Makers is being held in conjunction with the first ever Community Art Show including paintings, fiber art, ceramics, woodworking, and much more... So come on out to honor and enjoy the beauty of the season and partake in the creativity that is constantly welling up and flowing through your very own neighborhood!

Come One, Come All to the Fire Department Picnic!

Saturday, September 7th

Support Our Volunteer Firefighters and Enjoy Great Food, Music, & Company!

From the Editor

- Janie Kesselman

Since editing the April issue of The Courier, I became a grandmother for the first time! What a joy to see a new generation of my immigrant family take root here in Northern California!

That said, I worry about the world she is inheriting. Earth's glaciers and ice caps are melting at an alarming rate, and we're losing many plant and animal species daily.

Locally, we need to pay close attention to fire danger. This year the woods started drying out much later than usual, meaning that fire season will extend throughout the fall. Please refer to the front page of your June Courier (on line at: camptonville.com/the_courier_archives.html) for valuable Fire-Safe resources.

See you at the Volunteer Fire Department Picnic on the 7th!

Community Center News

By Jesse Golden

Special events on September 21st and the 28th, plus regular weekly events, make for a busy September at the Camptonville Community Center!

On Saturday September 21st at 1 pm, the Community Art Show features local artists Lisa Burns, Margaret Parker Brown, Monica Murgia, Mike Kelly, and Katie O'Hara Kelly, with artworks for sale, and beer, wine, soda, and snacks available by donation to benefit the Center.

Later on the 21st, doors open at 6:30 pm for Wordsmiths & Music Makers: come celebrate Fall Equinox with poetry and music to benefit and uplift the human spirit. Tickets are $5 at the door and benefit the Center. Featured artists are writers Pam Saporta and Diane Pendola; musicians Mick Englert and Shabda Owens; plus, a lottery for open mic performances. For information contact Yakshi at 288-0619.

Saturday, September 28th at 7 pm, the Sri Moonshine Music Series presents India's foremost lyrical violinist, Maestro Kala Ramnath, along with tabla accompaniment, for an evening of dazzling and enchanting ragas. Tickets are available at the Briarpatch in Grass Valley, or 2019 Sri Moonshine Music Series at brownpapertickets.com. Doors open at 6 pm with snacks and drinks available. Center members can take advantage of the member discount sent via email.

Coffee @ the Center and the Gardeners' Market continue Saturday mornings at 10 am, plus Yoga every Thursday, and Rally Point! Teen Nights on the 2nd and 4th Thursdays.

The fundraiser to improve disabled access has raised over $900 – thank you! These funds will help to pay for a front door ramp and rails, a wider bathroom door, and disabled parking spaces. Please consider donating! Welcome Back, Parents and Preschoolers!

By Yakshi Vadeboncoeur

Barely two weeks into the school year and 1, 2, 3 Grow, Camptonville Community Partnership's (CCP's) free parent participation preschool program, is off and running – crawling, jumping, swinging, sliding, gardening... You name the activity, and Camptonville's youngest community members are ready to explore its contours. CCP staff and parent participants alike are committed to creating a safe, inclusive, nurturing, and interesting environment for them to take off on their learning adventures.

This year's schedule for 1, 2, 3 Grow is the same as last:

Tuesday, Thursday, and Friday mornings, 9:30 am–12:30 pm

Tuesday – Infant/Toddler Day

ages 0 - 3

Thursday – Everybody Day, with a trip to the school library

ages 0 - 5

Friday – School Readiness Day

ages 3½ - 5

As children reach the 3 to 3½ age range, we watch for that magic moment when they are ready for the greater challenge and structure of the Friday sessions. Some even come all 3 days during that period. Always keep in mind, this schedule is flexible. The program is for you, and your child is always welcome.

For those of you with older children in Camptonville School, we will try to have our classroom open by 8:30 am so that your little ones can come in and play before the program officially begins. Hopefully, that will save those of you who come from a distance a few back and forth drives.

Finally, WOW! Kindergarteners, what a great start to the school year! I am so proud of you! Parents who filled out or refilled out forms for me while holding back tears that first week, thank you, thank you, thank you! You are treasures, one and all.

Fire Department Picnic is Right Around the Corner: September 7th!

By Donna Tate

Please come join us at the 27th annual Camptonville Volunteer Fire Department Picnic. The picnic will be held at the Lost Nugget field on Saturday, September 7th, from 2 pm to 10 pm. Food will be served from 2 until 7pm.

This is such a great community event; it helps fund so many great things for the fire department. Your donations have helped build a fire hall, provide lifesaving equipment, and buy many other items to keep our fire department ready to respond.

The entertainment is awesome and the food is absolutely delicious. Come see your old friends and meet some new ones at this fun filled community event!

Rally Point! Teen Nights = Fun NOW!

By Cathy Balan

Rally Point! is a free, fun evening of activities open to all 10 to 15-year-old foothill teens. A program of Camptonville Community Partnership, it was created to bring area youth together to share their stories, learn new things, find their voice, and PLAY! We have a variety of activities from creative projects to career speakers, and games ranging from ping-pong to improv. Every week we have delicious, healthy snacks. Additionally, at each meeting we have not one, but TWO raffle prize drawings for the attending participants.

Rally Point! will continue teen night activities into the crisp autumn evenings. We meet at the Camptonville Community Center from 5-7 pm on the 2nd and 4th Thursday evenings: September 12th and 26th, October 10th, and November 7th and 21st to finish out the year. A progress report on Rally Point! will be presented to the Yuba County Children's Council at the October 2nd evening meeting at the Alcouffe Center (see article pg 4.)

In a project led by Brian Price of Burgee Dave's, Rally Point! teens contributed to beautifying the community by painting the welcome fence and sign along Cleveland Avenue. Our autumn creative project is a photo essay sharing our "Life In The Woods" project. We'll also be hosting a culinary night with a pizza chef. Please come and join the fun!

Please -- parents, teachers, and friends: encourage your youth to take advantage of this worthwhile community program. They'll be glad they did!

Come See What Your Fire Department Donations Have Done!

By Char Jokerst

A HUGE THANK YOU to our community for supporting the Camptonville Volunteer Fire Department (CVFD). Combining your donations with a Yuba Water Agency grant and loan, CVFD has been able to acquire a new (to us) rescue apparatus, Rescue 6340. The 1985 relic we were using had to be taken out of service due to safety concerns. Rescue 6340 houses all of our medical, vehicle extrication, and low angle rope rescue equipment as well as seating five personnel. It is our most used piece of equipment.

While brand new rescues start at $175,000 and can exceed $200,000, our purchase was a 2007 Ford: $73,000 through Brindlee Fire Apparatus.

Monies used for purchase:

*Yuba Water Agency grant and loan

*Camptonville Fire Auxiliary (the women who host CVFD's annual fire department picnic fundraiser)

COME CHECK OUT RESCUE 6340 FOR YOURSELF at the CVFD Picnic: Saturday, September 7th, 2-10 PM!

Camptonville Volunteer Fire Department STATISTICS:

*CVFD 911 annual call volume = 100.

*CVFD serves not only our district, but when requested also serves the Forest Service, the districts of North San Juan, Pike, Alleghany, and Downieville, and the lower foothill fire departments on the other side of Bullards Bar Dam.

Thank you for your continued support! If you have any interest in knowing more about CVFD, just ask any of our fire personnel. Or better yet: come to a training. Trainings are held every Tuesday, 6-9 pm at Station 1 at 15410 Mill Street.

Yuba County Children's Council... Meeting October 2nd: YOU are invited!

By Cathy LeBlanc

Yuba County Children's Wellness & Child Abuse Prevention Council (aka Children's Council or YCCC) will be coming to the foothills for their Wednesday, October 2nd meeting, to be held at 4:30 pm at the Alcouffe Center in Oregon House. Camptonville Community Partnership (CCP) has been a member of this Children's Council for over 20 years, and I have been its Chairperson a time or two.

The YCCC meets monthly and is comprised of Yuba County partners that "touch the lives of children." These include county agencies (Health and Human Services, Behavioral Health, Juvenile Justice, etc.), education, community-based organizations (such as resource centers), faith-based community, and more. These are some of the very folks who have an influence on decisions made in Yuba County.

At the October meeting, on the agenda will be a new working group of the YCCC: the Prevention Network, which I have the opportunity to co-lead. My aim for this Network is to build community capacity to self-identify issues and develop local solutions. It's all brand new and we hope you will be a part of shaping it. If you've lived around Camptonville for a while, you know that our town is well-known as a working model for community-led solutions.

I believe it's vital to hear from the people in the community. I am urging local folks and organizations interested in the "where and how" of helping families live in healthy communities to please attend, especially community organizations and groups that represent the work we do. Already slotted will be a presentation from Rally Point!, a youth program of CCP.

If you have any questions or comments or would like to be on the agenda for a 10-minute presentation, please give me a call or email me at cathy@theccp.org. We can carpool!

Camptonville's Spectacular Gardeners' Market

By Rochelle Bell

Our Gardeners' Market is growing and stretching into a very special event every Saturday in the backyard of the Community Center. I wasted a lot of time worrying about this year's annual market, since we lost some of the long-time devoted contributors who donated to the market consistently over the years. I should not have worried at all, as even more Camptonville gardeners came to the rescue! We have had an abundant supply of fresh veggies and fruits at our market each week.

Further attractions include Cheryl Z leading an all-acoustic jam under the trees, Michelle selling chicken, duck, and goose eggs, and Lynn, a newcomer who is using our fresh veggies to make very yummy stone fired pizza. Top that off with Jimbo's famous cheesecake!

Also, inside the center we have coffee and delicious homemade baked goods prepared by our sensational volunteer hosts and generous community members. You can play a game of ping pong if you like, or tour one of our museums. WOW! A Super Market! And it's only happening through the end of September, so don't miss it!

Lakes Basin Happenings!

By Katie O'Hara-Kelly

Camptonville folk at Long Lake, 2018

Although it takes a little more than an hour to get up to the Lakes Basin from Camptonville, it's really worth the drive! Right now the wildflowers are blooming, birds and their juvenile offspring are flying around, insects are busy pollinating the flowers, chipmunks and squirrels are busy gathering and eating seeds, a tortoiseshell butterfly migration is happening, the mosquitoes aren't too bad, and the lakes are definitely swimmable! It's paradise!

One of my favorite hikes is the Grassy Lake Trail out of the Lakes Basin Campground. It starts in a beautiful wetland, drops down to a flower-filled, wet-meadow area, and then climbs up through the forest to rocky slopes and on to Long Lake. The wildflowers along the trail can be astounding! Right now you should find some leopard lilies in bloom, as well as paintbrush, yampah, arrowleaved groundsel, monkshoods, horsemint, columbine, goldenrod, arnica, and rein orchids!

The view is spectacular on the way up to the lake and at the lake itself. The trail continues across the Long Lake dam up to more rocky slopes, and then loops back down for a mile or more to the Long Lake/Bear Lakes trailhead. From there, you should proceed on the road for about 1/2 mile to a footpath on the left. Take the footpath through a beautiful, flower-filled aspen grove back to the Lakes Basin Campground and the Grassy Lake trailhead where you started. The total distance for this hike is about 5 miles.

Get out there if you can and enjoy this beautiful wild area, right in our own backyard!

I tell my students:

When you get these jobs that you have been so brilliantly trained for, just remember that your real job is that if you are free, you need to free somebody else.
If you have some power, then your job is to empower somebody else.

Yuba Water Agency funds trauma intervention training in support of local first-responder agencies

By Alex Boesch

The Yuba-Sutter Trauma Intervention Program (TIP) will be better able to support victims of crime and survivors of tragedy with the help of a grant from Yuba Water Agency.

The $10,000 grant, recently approved by the agency as part of the Bill Shaw Rescue Equipment and Training Grant Program, will allow the nonprofit organization to purchase necessary training and materials for its volunteers who provide direction and emotional support to victims. Each TIP volunteer receives 55 hours of training before their first response, and participates in monthly training.

“It has been an honor to bring the Trauma Intervention Program to our community,” said Lou Binninger, program director. “Being present in someone’s tragedy is a sacred experience. When TIP is involved, hurt people get better care here than elsewhere in America. We are grateful for all the community volunteers and contributions to support our mission.”

The Yuba-Sutter TIP is a self-funded organization that was established in 1994 to support local law enforcement, hospital and ambulance services, and responds to all 911 requests with immediate on-scene support for victims of crime and survivors of tragedy. Since its creation, the organization has responded to more than 11,000 calls.

“These well-trained volunteers respond 24 hours a day, seven days a week to help victims of tragedy,” said Yuba Water Agency Vice-Chairman Randy Fletcher. “They are first responders in every sense of the word.”

Like all Bill Shaw grants, the agency is able to make these funds available because the first responders may be called upon to provide emergency support to the agency’s facilities and staff, or to people recreating at its lakes or on the Yuba River.

Wild Pigs and Water

By J.T. Rumsey and Lisa Burns

The Camptonville Water Department has received reports that wild pigs have been seen in the Pike City area recently. Now why would this cause any concern, you might ask? First, be aware that in Camptonville we get our water primarily from a small spring-fed creek. Wild pigs like to root around and wallow in wet areas. Their wallowing disturbs springs and creeks, creating a potential threat to the water supply. In addition to this threat, their rooting and wallowing behavior also disturbs riparian areas and reduces habitat suitability for native and endangered wildlife species. Wild pigs are known to cause extensive damage to crops and rangelands.

Wild pigs are hosts to over 35 types of parasites. Of the 30 diseases that wild pigs carry, 20 can be transferred to humans. Additionally, they are known carriers of five major waterborne pathogens that can contaminate drinking water: Escherichia coli (E. coli), Campylobacter, Salmonella, Cryptosporidium, and Giardia.

Hunting of these pigs is allowed by California law, with proper permits and/or permission from private landowners. In addition to limiting the growth and spread of these animals, hunting of this invasive species will help control the threat they pose. AND, they are quite tasty!

There is more information on wild pigs, hunting rules, permit requirements, and pig-created problems at the California Department of Fish and Wildlife website: <https://www.wildlife.ca.gov/Keep-Me-Wild/Wild-Pig>.

Meet the New Watershed Coordinators!

By Lindsey Nitta

Earlier this year, Camptonville Community Partnership (CCP) with South Yuba River Citizens League (SYRCL), the United States Forest Service (Tahoe National Forest, TNF), Yuba Water Agency (YWA), and Sierra Nevada Conservancy (SNC) submitted a grant application to the California Department of Conservation's Watershed Coordinator program. The purpose of the program is to support large landscape projects by funding watershed coordinator positions. Watershed coordinators will focus on facilitating the coordination of priority projects across the designated landscape outlined in the grant application.

Through this grant, CCP and the partners will establish the Yuba Watershed Forest Collaborative Project. The project area is just over 1,300 square miles and includes the North, Middle, and South Yuba River sub-watersheds in parts of Yuba, Nevada, Sierra, and Placer counties. The area also includes several large, severely burned swaths of land in the Yuba River watershed.

We had over 25 people apply for the positions. We are excited to announce that we hired two great watershed coordinators! Please meet Allison and Andrew:

 Allison Thomson grew up in the area and has over five years of experience in forestry and stream restoration. She comes with an appreciation of the value of working landscapes and their important role in sustaining rural communities and ecosystem processes.

 Andrew Salmon recently graduated from UC Berkeley with a Master's degree in Environmental Planning with a focus on watershed restoration and Sierra Nevada forest ecology. He has spent the last two summers studying and conducting research in our own Sierra Nevada mixed conifer forests.

While they will work as a team, Allison will focus on supporting CCP's bioenergy facility project and Andrew will focus on the forest restoration projects. With matching funds from our great partners, Yuba Water Agency and Sierra Nevada Conservancy, Yuba Watershed Forest Collaborative Project will be able to fund these two positions for almost four years. We are looking forward to Allison and Andrew coming on board September 4th!

Any questions? Feel free to call CCP at 288-9355.

Indian Valley Outpost update

By Karla and Dave

We are already feeling the coolness of the nighttime temps. The bow hunters are here, as fall is around the corner. Indian Valley Outpost Resort will continue to be open for lodging throughout the off-season.

The restaurant will be open Friday and Saturday at 11 am for lunch. Dinner starts at 4 pm, closing at 8. Sunday we're open 11 am to 4 pm. The pub and store will be open 8 am to 9 pm during the week as the weather permits, so give us a call. October 15th - 31st is iffy. As always, we appreciate your business or just stopping by to chat things up about absolutely nothing.

We wish to dispel any rumors by letting you all know we have not sold the place as yet, and we intend to keep it in business until it sells, that is: with all of your support. So keep coming on up. The Yuba River is ideal and the soft serve is working.

Cheers, Karla and Dave

Forest Service Report: Campfire Restrictions/ Seasonal Employment

By Izaya Lewis

Our hearty winter blessed us with a slow fire season. In August of last year we had two large active fires burning in Northern California extreme enough to declare a natural disaster; this year we celebrate clear blue skies and at times temperatures below 85 degrees at the peak of the day. That being said, the Tahoe National Forest finally implemented fire restrictions on Wednesday, August 21st. Campfires are only allowed in designated campgrounds, and the use of gas or propane barbeques or camp stoves are allowed in dispersed areas, with possession of a CA Campfire Permit, which can be obtained at Yuba River Ranger District or at PreventWildfireCA.org.

The US Forest Service will be accepting applications for seasonal spring and summer jobs in California from September 16th to September 30th. Positions are available in multiple fields, including fire, recreation, natural resources, timber engineering, visitor services, and technology. Seasonal employment with the Forest Service is a great way to give back to communities, learn new skills, and perform meaningful work.

Go to USAJobs.gov to set up your profile and apply: the earlier you get your application in, the better!

In Memorium: Carl Wubbena

By his daughter, Carla Kindorf

My father, Carl Wubbena, passed on August 5th, 2019 at 1:05 pm at the Sierra Nevada Memorial Hospital in Grass Valley, of congestive heart failure, at the age of 80 years. He was surrounded by his wife of 61 years, Beverly (Bunny) Wubbena, and his daughter Carla.

My dad was a great man. He loved his wife and kids, his son Marty who passed in 1984, his daughter Carla Kindorf, his granddaughters Heidi and Cheryl Kindorf, his great granddaughter Lillian Elliott, and a great grandson whom he never got to meet.

Dad was a welder who built a lot of sand plants in the Bay Area, and foundations of bank buildings in Sacramento and the North Bay Area. He drove earth movers, helped build Discovery Bay, and owned his own business. He was in the Operating Engineers Local 3 for over 50 years.

Carl Wubbena

He loved the mountains on Moonshine Road. Mom and Dad moved up from the Bay Area to retire, and to rebuild the home they live in. Dad had a sense of humor and loved to tell jokes. He liked everyone he met. He liked to make wood stoves for family and friends and to cut firewood to keep warm in the winter. He will be missed dearly. God bless my father. May he rest in peace. I love you Dad. Love, Moose.

In Memory of Paul Hogan

By Barbara Mueller-Hogan

After many years of severe illness, Paul was released from this life on August 11th, 2019. He spent the last six years in a nursing home in Phoenix, Arizona. Our daughter Thea lived in Phoenix until last October.

Paul Hogan

Paul and I met in Chicago while in college in the late 70s and were married in December, 1980. Our daughter Thea, former Camptonville School graduate, was born in 1985. Paul was also a good stepfather to my son David.

I thank all of my Camptonville friends who have listened to me these past several years when I've shared about his illness.

Along with his brother Bill and sister-in-law Mary Jane and niece Lauren, we all feel blessed that he is finally out of pain and on his way back to Chicago.

Thank you all for your kindnesses over the years, Barbara Mueller-Hogan
