

New York State Hepatitis C and Drug User Health Conference

Join CEI's Hepatitis C and Drug User Health Center of Excellence for an interactive, in-person conference!

This conference will showcase clinical practice interventions to optimize drug user health and integrated hepatitis C services in a collaborative environment, with the aim of supporting clinicians in optimizing patient care. Small group discussion, hands on skills-building and interactive engagement will highlight emerging strategies to treat stimulant use disorder, opioid use disorder, psychiatric disorders and chronic pain; integrate hepatitis C care into existing services; navigate challenging patient interactions with clients; and manage clinician wellness.

The conference is intended for clinicians, and attendance is limited to licensed MD, DO, PA, NP and PharmD practicing in New York State at all levels of experience.

After attending, conference participants will be able to:

- Reflect on a variety of clinical practice interventions to optimize drug user health and integrated hepatitis C services
- Describe practical implementation strategies that address common challenges to providing drug user health and hepatitis C care
- Examine the connection between clinician wellness and capacity to deliver compassionate clinical care to people who use drugs

We are seeking highly motivated individuals who can commit to active participation in advance of and throughout the full-day program.
