CAREER CONNECTED CAMPUS

Worx

Worx, located in Fairview, is a program of nonprofit Camp Grier, a summer camp and outdoor recreation hub based in Old Fort. Camp Grier was founded in 1952, and has a proven track record of economic development, trail development, and community engagement in the outdoor recreation sector. Camp Grier's G5 Trail Collective program has raised over $4M for trail development on public lands surrounding Old Fort and works under a partnership agreement, cost share agreement, and special use permit with the USFS. Camp Grier has partnered with Conserving Carolina to raise $1.5M to conserve and purchase the 220-acre Worx Community Forest and the 30-acre Worx Project Campus.

WORX PROJECT

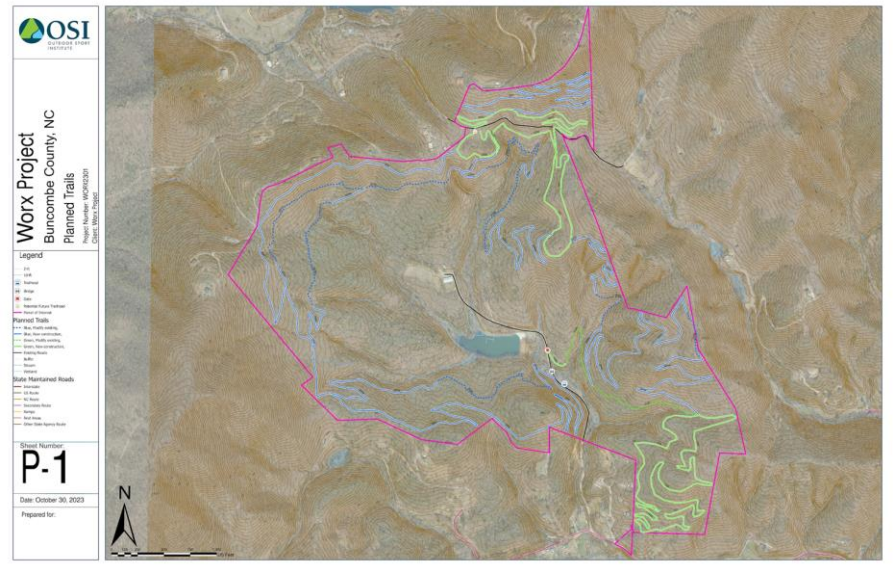

Worx Project

The Worx Project is a 30-acre career connected campus for public school students at the center of the Worx Community Forest. The Worx Project Campus will be owned by Camp Grier for the educational and career development purposes for public school students.

WORX COMMUNITY FOREST

The Worx Community Forest is a 220-acre open space surrounding the Worx Project Campus. Conserving Carolina will hold title to the Community Forest and lease this area back to Camp Grier for management and development. The Worx Community forest will contain 11 miles of hike/bike trails open to the community.
