I love to paint.
It relaxes me.
They say I'm an artist.

But that's when I realize that
look deeper.

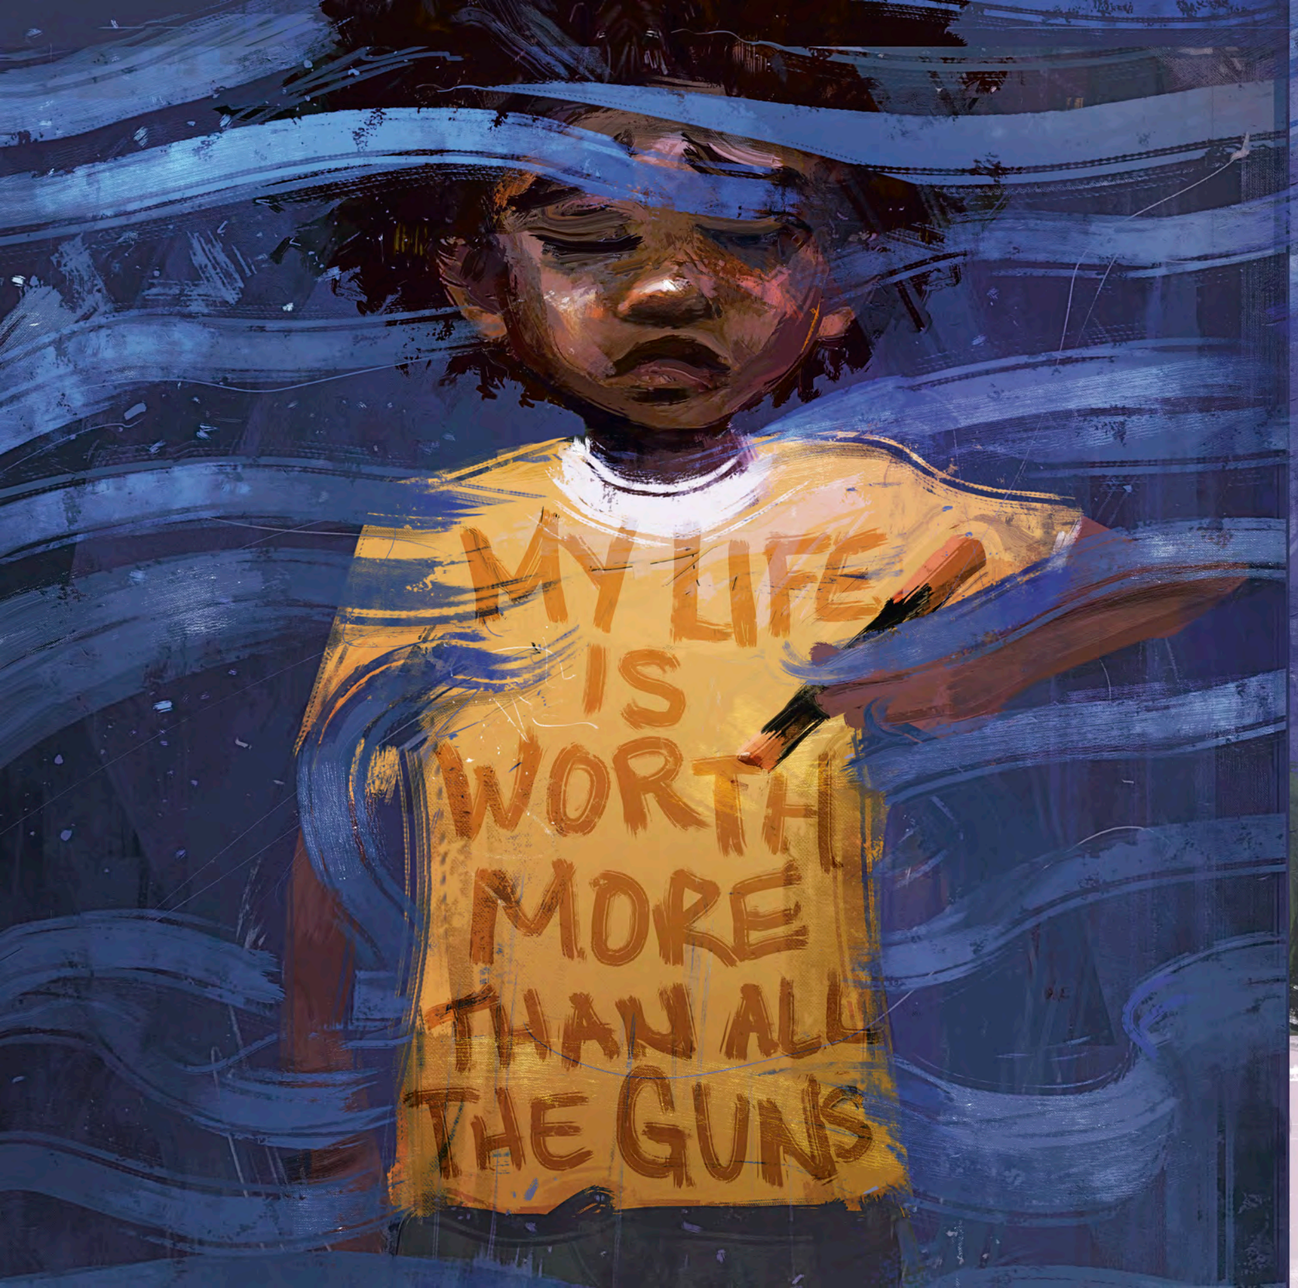
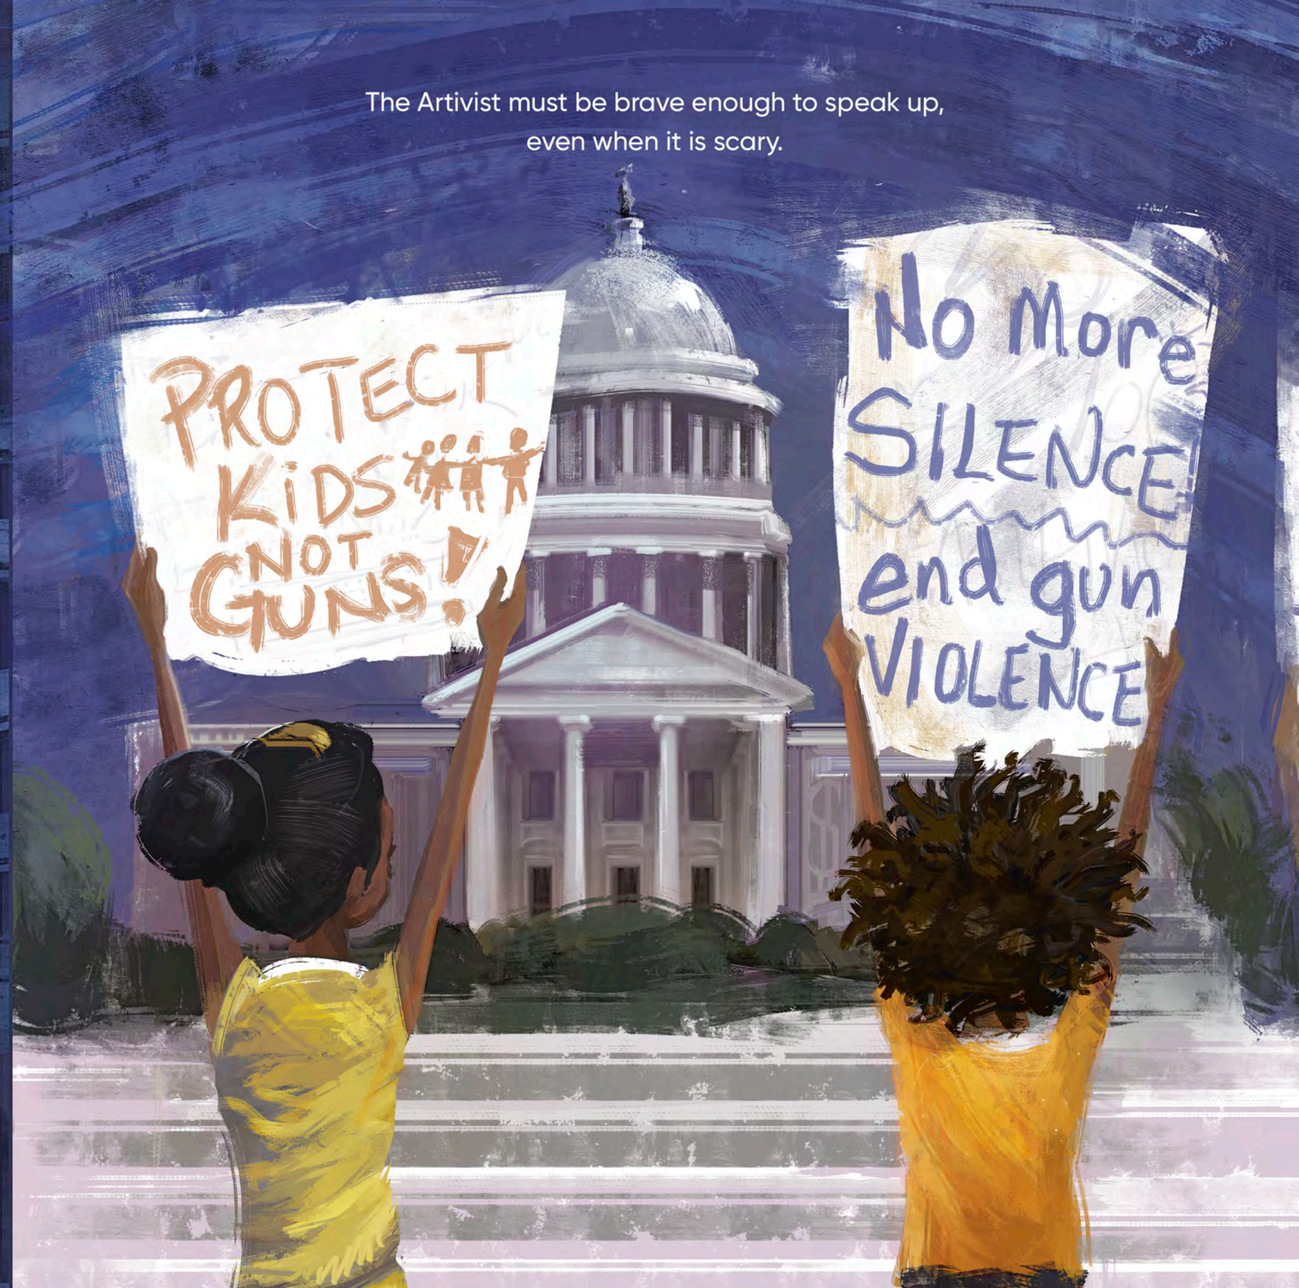
The Artivist can inspire others to give back by painting what every person deserves.



The Artivist must be brave enough to speak up,
even when it is scary.



And humble enough to listen before speaking.

The Artivist is an ally.
