HEAD COACH & CAPTAINS

Kwolek has served as head coach at the University of Richmond since 2013, which includes a 64-16 (.800) winning percentage, a 27-5 conference record and two conference tournament and two league regular-season championships in the past five seasons. Richmond was nationally ranked in the top-10 each of the last two seasons and has qualified for the NCAA postseason in two of the last three tournaments, which doesn't include the 2020 season in which the Spiders started 7-0 and defeated No. 6 UVa before the season was cut short due to COVID-19. The Spiders have enjoyed their most successful run in their program's history under Kwolek's leadership. When the William and Mary graduate took over the program in 2013, Richmond had accumulated just 10 winning seasons since their inaugural season in 1983. Kwolek racked up seven winning records in her nine seasons as the head coach.

Kwolek's success was not limited to the regular season, although she did garner two A10 regular-season championships over the past five campaigns. The Spiders are 11-5 in postseason play under Kwolek, including a 3-0 run in the 2019 A10 Tournament, culminating in being crowned conference champions for a second-straight year. Kwolek has qualified for seven straight A10 Tournaments and has reached the championship game in six of those appearances. She has coached five Atlantic 10 Players of the Year, along with numerous all-conference selections. Two of her players have been named to the watch list for the Tewaaraton Award, a recognition earned by the best player in NCAA men's and women's lacrosse.

Prior to her time at Richmond, she served as an assistant at the College of William and Mary, Columbia University, and Dartmouth College. Formerly known as Allison Evans, Kwolek was an All-CAA midfielder at William & Mary and defender on the USA Team. She was inducted into the Lacrosse Hall of Fame, Potomac Chapter in February 2015 and named to the William & Mary Athletics Hall of Fame in 2020.

SEASON OUTLOOK

Clemson's Women's Lacrosse Team is gearing up for their debut 2023 season. Starting with the hire of Head Coach Allison Kwolek, the Tiger's have been preparing for this moment ever since the former Athletic Director Dan Radakovich announced the addition of women's lacrosse to Clemson Athletics back in June 2021.

Before coming to Clemson, Coach Kwolek served at Richmond's Head Coach for eight years, leading them to two conference tournament championships, two regular season conference championships, and an overall record of 101-52. Additionally, Kwolek coached five A10 players of the year and qualified for the A10 tournament seven straight times while making the championship game six times.

Madison Carter and Bill Olin joined the coaching staff shortly after Kwolek. Carter was a standout attacker at Penn State, was a two-time IWLCIA All-American and set the school record for goals in a single season. Olin is coming from Cornell where he served as an associate head coach for six seasons. While at Cornell, Olin led his team to win an Ivy League Championship and helped develop six All-Ivy League defensive players, including 2017 conference Defensive Player of the year and two-time All-American Catie Smith.

Being a new program, Clemson took advantage of the transfer portal and added 19 transfer players to the roster, 11 graduates and eight undergraduates. These transfers come from the following schools: Maryland, Syracuse, Louisville, North Carolina, Marist, Oregon, Davidson, Penn, Arizona State, Richmond, UMass, Denver, Towson, Colorado, and William & Mary. In addition to the transfers, the team consists of seven talented freshmen, including a goalie, a defender, three midfielders, and two attackers.

Gianna New, a graduate transfer from Davidson, explained that while there are many reasons why she chose to come to Clemson, the main one was "getting to be a part of and help build the first ever women's lacrosse team at Clemson" New went on to say that the "fall was really awesome and it gives us all a lot of motivation for the off season to continue pushing each other for the spring. We have a lot of talent and excitement for this upcoming season and I'm super excited and proud to be a part of it."

In preparation for the 2023 season, Clemson played in eight scrimmages as a part of their fall ball season. The Tigers hosted Davidson, Campbell, Mercer, Liberty, and Gardner-Webb in two tournaments and then traveled to Charleston, S.C. We have a lot of talent and excitement for this upcoming season and I'm super excited and proud to be a part of it."

"It was amazing to see the Clemson women's lacrosse program come to life this fall" said Head Coach Allison Kwolek. "In a matter of a few weeks, we really went from players introducing each other at the first team meeting, to a team showing impressive chemistry against a top-20 program. It's clear that these women have put in a lot of work on and off the field and really enjoyed coming together as a team. I think it was eye-opening for them to see the next-level commitment and resources that Clemson put into our fall season, to make sure they had the best experience, both on and off the field. They know they have everything they need to succeed here and are looking forward to the inaugural season starting in February."

The Clemson Tigers Women's lacrosse team has officially announced their 2023 inaugural season schedule on Tuesday, November 29. Clemson is slated to play 17 regular season games, 10 of which will be played on their home turf at Historic Riggs Field. Competing in the ACC, one of the most competitive conferences in NCAA lacrosse, Clemson will face six opponents ranked in the 2022 NCAA RPI Top 20.

"Obviously being in the ACC, the best women's lacrosse conference in the country, we are going to face a challenging inaugural schedule," said Coach Kwolek. Clemson fans will certainly get to see some great lacrosse this spring."

Clemson will kick start the season with an out of conference game at home on Saturday, February 11 against Wofford. The Tigers will open ACC play a few weeks later on Sunday, February 26 where they will travel to South Bend, I.N. to face Notre Dame.

After hitting two more road games, one at UVA and then another at Longwood, Clemson will have a stretch of five home games highlighted by back to back ACC matchups with Duke on Saturday, March 11 and then 2021 National Champion Boston College on Thursday, March 16.

On Sunday, March 26, Clemson will return to the road as they travel to UNC Chapel Hill to face the 2022 National Champion North Carolina. The rest of the regular season games will all be conference games, with Clemson playing Louisville March 31, Syracuse April 8, Virginia Tech April 15, and then wrapping up with Pitt at home on April 20.

While the 2023 inaugural season will be played at Historic Riggs Field, starting in 2024, the Tigers will play in their brand new lacrosse stadium. In addition to the new stadium, lacrosse will share a 10,000 square foot training and recovery facility with rowing and gymnastics that includes space for sports science, nutrition, sports medicine and strength and conditioning.

NEW WOMEN'S LACROSSE FACILITIES

While the lacrosse team will compete its first season in Historic Riggs Field, they will move into its new home in late 2023.

Clemson held a formal groundbreaking ceremony on Dec. 7 to officially commence the $37.5 million expansion plan for new and upgraded lakefront facilities for lacrosse, gymnastics and rowing. The plan was initially approved in Feb. 2022.

The stunning new project will overlook Lake Hartwell, adjacent to the current rowing facility, and create a vibrant area for student-athletes. Existing trails in the area will be kept intact.

The development features a new lacrosse stadium, including bleacher seating and artificial turf, and a 9,000 square foot operations complex, including coaches offices, locker rooms, player lounge and other amenities.

A new 10,000 square foot training and recovery facility with designated space for sports science, nutrition, sports medicine and strength and conditioning, will be constructed to serve lacrosse, rowing, and gymnastics adjacent to their facilities.

"We are beyond excited to see the plans for this new project that will be such a tremendous resource for the lacrosse, rowing and gymnastics student-athletes. Our lacrosse facility will have a one-of-a-kind women's lacrosse dedicated building next to our own field for both practice and games. The convenience that this will provide for our student-athletes can't be understated. The sports performance facility will give our student-athletes everything they need to perform at the highest level, in a beautiful, lakefront setting. Seeing the plans, I just couldn't believe the commitment that Clemson's administration has made. I was told of this project when I took the job here, but never could have dreamed it would look like this. I'm amazed, and looking forward to seeing the impact it will have on our program."

Recent facility investments in women's sports at Clemson include a McWhorter Softball Stadium, the Duckworth Family Tennis Center, Soccer Operations Complex, rebuilt Littlejohn Coliseum, as well as a new banked track and expansion at the golf facility
